

PEOPLE FIRST

FREE WORKSHOP

Classroom teacher & students with learning disabilities meet SUCCESS!

PRE-REGISTRATION REQUIRED! www.rose.edu/success

- Objectives for program are to provide teachers with:
- A clear understanding of what Learning Disabilities are and are not (including diagnostic process, RtI, and categorical eligibility)
 - A clear understanding of how Attention Deficit Disorder affects the child in the classroom, home, and with peers
 - An understanding of common accommodations including ones for individuals and groups
 - Practical tools, strategies, and techniques to work with children with these disabilities and any child who is struggling to learn
 - The power to feel more confident in working with children who have a learning disability or learning challenges
 - Resources for teachers

Please visit the website to register and see more details about Linda Modenbach's credentials and the workshop.
www.rose.edu/success

Friday
March 9, 2012
Rose State College,
Tom Steed Center

8:00 – Check in
8:30 – 11:30 - Part one
11:30- 1:00 – Lunch (on your own)
1:00-4:30 - Part two

PRESENTER
Linda Modenbach,
M.T. A., University of Tulsa

QUALIFICATIONS
Linda's experience spans more than 40 years working with special education students in both public and private schools. As a district coordinator of special education for Jenks Public schools, Linda served as a leader for special education teachers in developed appropriate IEPs, maintaining compliance with IDEA Regulations, and shared current materials and methods for special learners and helped regular education teachers understand students with disabilities. Linda Modenbach is a respected speaker, and has made numerous presentations at local, state and national levels.