PREFACE

The Policies and Procedures Manual, by its design, is the official operational document for Rose State College and is not intended to be a contract with individual employees. The primary purpose of this manual is to provide the faculty, staff, and students of the College with information necessary to understand the internal governance and operation of the institution. In addition, this document, including the informational appendices, allows external groups and agencies to understand both the legal and functional basis of the institution as a governmental entity.

In documenting policies and procedures regarding the operation of the institution, care must be taken to provide for change as the institution changes to meet the needs of its clientele. This manual has therefore been reviewed and revised annually since the first printing on July 1, 1975, in order to represent properly the current operations of the College.

Adoption Resolution goes here.
HISTORICAL NOTE

In 1967, the Oklahoma Legislature enacted a Community Junior College Law which provided that one or more cities, towns, counties or school districts could apply to the State Regents for the establishment of a community junior college. The procedures outlined in the legislation were followed in the application for this college, with the governmental units being two contiguous municipalities, Midwest City and Del City, which are on the southeast edge of Oklahoma City. An application was sent from these two cities and the Midwest City School District to the State Regents for Higher Education requesting a feasibility study, as required by law, to determine the need for a community junior college.

The feasibility study was made between November 1967 and January 1968 by a committee selected by the State Regents for Higher Education. It was reported to the Chancellor, who recommended that approval be given by the State Regents for the establishment of a community junior college in the Midwest City-Del City area. Approval was granted for a public referendum in the proposed College district, and it was held in June 1968. The voters gave more than 80 percent approval for the establishment of the college.

Shortly thereafter, the State Regents authorized the establishment of a community junior college which was named Midwest City Junior College. The name was changed to Oscar Rose Junior College in 1969 to honor the man who developed the Midwest City-Del City School System. In accordance with the law, in 1968, the Governor appointed four citizens of the district to the Board of Trustees of the College, and they in turn named three additional trustees. These initial appointments were made for terms of from one to seven years, with the term of one board member expiring each year, beginning with position one in 1969. Board positions were to be filled by the vote of the people on the fourth Tuesday of March.

The voters of the College district voted in March 1969 to tax themselves at a rate of two mills of assessed property evaluation for planning and development. The district evaluation as of July 1, 1969, was $61,906,933, which provided $123,812 during 1969-70 for starting money for the College. In March 1970, the voters of the College district approved an increase from two to five mills on assessed property evaluation. This five mills on assessed property evaluation does not have to be voted on again unless it would be to change this rate either upward or downward.

The College community, containing Midwest City, Del City, and Tinker Air Force Base, has in excess of 110,000 people with approximately 600,000 within a twenty-mile radius of the campus.

In September 1968, an architectural firm from the community, Bishop and Quinn of Midwest City, was selected to develop the plans for Phase I of the physical plant for the College. These architects selected the firm of Caudill, Rowlett and Scott, consultant architects, of Houston, Texas, to work with them on this $4.6 million construction project. It is important to note, however, that the people of this College district voted $1,175,000 in general-obligation bonds in March 1969 for the local share to build Phase I and voted another $1,175,000 in March 1971 to build Phase II of the College campus.
In 1973, the State Legislature enacted House Bill 1049, Section 16 of which authorized procedures whereby Oscar Rose Junior College and certain other designated "community" junior colleges would each become a "state" junior college and "an integral part of The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education." On August 9, 1973, the Board of Trustees of Oscar Rose Junior College adopted a resolution requesting the Oklahoma State Regents "to take appropriate steps for the conversion of Oscar Rose Junior College, a community junior college, to a state junior college and full member institution of The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education." On October 22, 1973, the Oklahoma State Regents adopted a resolution declaring Oscar Rose Junior College "to be . . . a full member institution of The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education." Governor David Hall shortly thereafter appointed the seven members of the new Board of Regents for Oscar Rose Junior College; and on December 13, 1973, the College began operation as a "state" junior college.

The major accomplishment achieved for the College in its first five-year history was receiving full accreditation from North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, the regional accrediting association, in April of 1975. Oscar Rose has been accredited by the State Regents since it first opened, and specialized accreditation has been received in Dental Hygiene, Dental Laboratory Technology, Dental Assisting, Respiratory Therapy, Radiologic Technology, Medical Laboratory Technology, Histologic Technology, Nursing, Legal Assistant, and Journalism. To receive these specialized accreditation, Oscar Rose has worked with the American Dental Association, American Medical Association, Oklahoma Board of Nurse Registration, American Bar Association, and Community College Journalism Association. In addition, Oscar Rose was named by Governor David Boren as the state training center for wastewater technicians training; this designation was accomplished through the cooperation of city, county, and state officials and the College with the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

In April 1983, Governor George Nigh signed Senate Bill #9, changing the name of the College to Rose State College, effective November 1, 1983, and thus identifying the College's membership in The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education.

CHAPTER I: BASIC DOCUMENTS

SENATE BILL NO. 2, 1967
THE COMMUNITY JUNIOR COLLEGE LAW

Senate Bill No. 2 of 1967, referred to as The Community Junior College Law, authorized the establishment, maintenance, and operation of "community junior colleges." It required boundaries of the respective "communities" to be described, and provided for the election of a Board of Trustees.

Midwest City Junior College, later renamed Oscar Rose Junior College, was established in 1968 pursuant to this Bill, and operated under it as a "community junior college" until the College became a "state junior college" on December 13, 1973, when members of its new Board of Regents were sworn in.

Since this Bill is no longer applicable to Oscar Rose Junior College, it is not reproduced here. It may be found in the Oklahoma Statutes 1991, Title 70, §4401 to 4409, and also in the Oklahoma Higher Education Code, §1401 to 1409, published by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education.

WHEREAS the State Election Board has certified the results of said election to the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, which results show that a majority of the legal voters in the community voting on the question voted in favor of establishing and maintaining a junior college in the community.

All meetings of such public bodies, except for executive sessions of the State Banking Board and Oklahoma Savings and Loan Board, shall be preceded by advance public notice specifying the time and place of each such meeting to be convened as well as the subject matter or matters to be considered at such meeting, as hereinafter provided.

§304. Definitions
As used in the Oklahoma Open Meeting Act:
1. "Public body" means the governing bodies of all municipalities located within the State of Oklahoma, boards of county commissioners of the counties in the State of Oklahoma, boards of public and higher education in the State of Oklahoma and all boards, bureaus, commissions, agencies, trusteeships, authorities, councils, committees, public trusts, task forces or study groups in the State of Oklahoma supported in whole or in part by public funds or entrusted with the expending of public funds, or administering public property, and shall include all committees or subcommittees of any public body. It shall not mean the state judiciary, the Council on Judicial Complaints when conducting, discussing, or deliberating any matter relating to a complaint received or filed with the Council, or the State Legislature or administrative staffs of public bodies, including, but not limited to, faculty meetings and athletic staff meetings of institutions of higher education, when said staffs are not meeting with the public body, or entry-year assistance committees, as defined in Section 6-152 of Title 70 of the Oklahoma Statutes. For the purposes of this act, only matters on the agenda of the previous meeting at which the announcement of the continuance is made may be discussed at a continued or reconvened meeting;

"New business," as used herein, shall mean any matter not known about or which could not have been reasonably foreseen prior to the time of posting.

In addition, all public bodies shall, at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to such special meetings, display public notice of said meeting, setting forth thereon the date, time, place and agenda for said meeting. Only matters appearing on the posted agenda may be considered at said special meeting. Should an emergency meeting of a public body be necessary, the person calling such a meeting shall give as much advance public notice as is reasonable and possible under the circumstances existing, in person or by telephonic or electronic means.

B. 1. All agendas required pursuant to the provisions of this section shall identify all items of business to be transacted by a public body at a meeting, including, but not limited to, any proposed executive session for the purpose of engaging in deliberations or rendering a final or intermediate decision in an individual proceeding prescribed by the Administrative Procedures Act.

CHAPTER II: POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

SECTION 1: ADMINISTRATION

Sec. 1-1. Creation of Board of Regents

The Board of Regents of Oscar Rose Junior College was created pursuant to House Bill 1049, Section 16, passed by the Oklahoma Legislature in 1973, which authorized and directed the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education to change the status of Oscar Rose Junior College and other "community junior colleges" from that of "community junior colleges" to that of "state junior colleges" and members of The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education. Oscar Rose Junior College became a "state junior college" December 13, 1973, when the members of its new Board of Regents took the oath of office. This section of law may also be found in Oklahoma Statutes, Supp. 1973, Title 70, §4423.

Sec. 1-2. Role of Board of Regents

(a) Authority. The Board of Regents of Rose State College is the governing board of the College and, as such, has full authority over all aspects of the College and final responsibility for its proper operation, subject only to higher authority.

(b) General purposes. The objectives, purposes, nature, range and pace of efforts of the College are the concern of the Board of Regents as a policy-making body, and general policies may be developed from time to time as need for direction may occur. These take the form of broad general policies for the direction of the administration of the College. These policies may be initiated by members of the Board or by the Board working with the chief administrative officer, the President. Such policies so established constitute guidelines for the President, in formulating administrative organization, policies and procedures for their implementation.

(c) Administration. The Board of Regents, while maintaining the general overview and control, entrusts the conduct of administration to the President of the College and administrative personnel subordinate to the President.

(d) Long-range planning. The Board plays an important role in relating the needs of the College to the public and in being helpful in obtaining needed capital and operating funds. The Regents are interested in developing long-range planning in cooperation with the College administrative staff. The responsibility of the Regents is an important responsibility which is exercised with much thought and judgment.

(e) Support. When ignorance or ill will threatens the institution or any part of it, the governing board is available for support. In grave crises, it will be expected to serve as a champion. Although the action to be taken by it will usually be on behalf of the President, the faculty, or the student body, the Board realizes that the protection it offers to an individual or group is, in fact, a fundamental defense of the vested interest of society in the educational institution.

Sec. 1-3. Powers and duties of Board of Regents

The Board of Regents of Rose State College has the powers and duties prescribed by the following:

(1) Senate Bill 493. Senate Bill 493 of 1968 (O.S. 1971, §4410 to 4414), relating to area technical schools and to Tulsa Junior College.
(2) House Joint Resolution No. 1034. House Joint Resolution No. 1034 (O.S. 1971, §4415 to 4416) authorizing community junior colleges which have become area school districts to issue bonds and to cause taxes to be levied to retire the bonds, and validating the organization of certain area school districts, and bonds and taxes levied.

(3) House Bill 1049. House Bill 1049, section 16, passed 1973 (O.S. Supp. 1973, §4423), which authorized Rose State College and other "community junior colleges" to be changed into "state junior colleges."

(4) Other provisions of state law. Other provisions of state law applicable to Rose State College, including Title 70, O.S. 1991, §4405.

Sec. 1-4. Professional and technical personnel

The Board of Regents, from time to time as need arises, by appointment or contract, secures the services of professional and technical personnel such as attorneys, architects, engineers, etc., to assist it in the exercise of its powers and duties. A Treasurer will be elected by the Board of Trustees who shall have responsibility for funds deposited into special cash funds separately maintained and designated as the "Technical Area Education Fund." Such professional and technical personnel also work closely with the administrative staff of the College when appropriate.

(a) Elections. The Board shall annually elect from among its members a Chairman, Vice Chairman, Secretary, and Treasurer. Terms of office shall expire on the thirtieth day of June of each year.

(b) Duties. Duties of the Officers shall be as follows:

(1) The Chairman shall preside at all official meetings, call special meetings, and sign all documents relating to official actions of the Board.

(2) The Vice Chairman shall perform the duties of the Chairman in his/her absence.

(3) The Secretary shall keep the minutes of each Board meeting, or cause them to be kept, and, when they are approved, shall index them by subject or cause them to be indexed.

(4) The Treasurer shall serve as clerk-not encumbrance clerk or minute clerk-and perform other duties as appropriate.

Sec. 1-6. Board meetings

(a) Regular meetings. Regular meetings of the Board shall normally be held on the third Thursday of each month in the Board's Conference Room in the Administration Building, 6420 S.E. 15th Street, Midwest City, Oklahoma, unless changed by the Board as necessary.

[O.S. 25, Section 301.]

(2) Executive sessions. Executive sessions will be permitted for the purpose of discussing the employment, hiring, appointment, promotion, demotion, disciplining or resignation of any public officer or employee or for the purpose of discussing negotiations concerning employees and representatives of employee groups, or for the purpose of discussing the purchase or appraisal of real property; provided, however, that any vote or action thereon must be taken in public meeting with the vote of each member publicly cast and recorded. In addition, confidential communication with the College attorney may be held in executive session for the purpose of discussing a pending investigation, claim, or action when disclosure of the matter discussed would seriously impair the ability of the Board to process the claim or to conduct the pending investigation, litigation, or proceeding in the public interest, or as otherwise provided by law. [O.S. 25, Section 301.]

(3) Invalid action. Any action taken in violation of the provisions in (1) and (2) of this subsection shall be invalid. [O.S. 25, Section 301.]

(4) Legislature attendance. Any member of the Legislature appointed as a member of a committee of either branch of the Legislature or joint committee thereof or a committee of the State Legislative Council shall be permitted to attend any executive session of any state agency, board or commission authorized by this act whenever the jurisdiction of such committee includes the actions of the public involved. [O.S. 25, Section 301.]

(f) Rules of procedure. The rules of procedure for meetings of the Board shall be "Robert's Rules of Parliamentary Procedure."

(g) Quorum. Four members of the Board shall constitute a quorum.

(h) Order of business. In official meetings, the Board shall conduct its business pursuant to the Open Meeting Act 25 O.S. §301 et. seq.

Sec. 1-7. Board committees

(a) Special committees. Special committees of the Board may be created for specific tasks. After the committee has made a satisfactory report to the Board, it shall be discharged, unless continued for additional purposes. Committees can be terminated by a vote of the majority of the Board of Regents.
(b) Committee actions. No action, decision, or formulation of policy by a committee is legally binding or official until it is authorized by the Board in official meeting.

Sec. 1-8. Board policies, rules, and regulations

As Board policies, rules, and regulations are adopted, they shall be written, grouped into categories, and published periodically.

Sec. 1-9. Code of ethics

The following code of ethics shall govern the Board of Regents:

(1) Members. As a member of the Board of Regents representing all the citizens of Oklahoma concerned with Rose State College, I recognize:

(A) Educational development. That my fellow citizens have entrusted me with the educational development of the men and women attending this College.

(B) Concern. That the public expects my first and greatest concern to be in the best interest of each and every student without distinction as to who they are or what their background may be.

(C) Welfare. That the future welfare of this community, of this state, and of the nation depends in the largest measure upon the quality of education we provide in the public schools and colleges to fit the needs of every learner.

(D) Initiative. That my fellow board members and I must take the initiative in helping all the people of this community and this state to have all the facts all the time about Rose State College, to the end that they will readily provide the finest possible college programs, school staff, and school facilities.

(E) Operation of Board. That legally the authority of the Board is derived from the state, which ultimately controls the organization and operation of the College and which determines the degree of discretionary power left with the Board for the exercise of local autonomy.

(F) Personal obligation. That I must never neglect my personal obligation to the community and my legal obligation to the state, nor surrender these responsibilities to any other person, group, or organization; but that, beyond these, I have moral and civic obligation to the nation which can remain strong and free only so long as public schools and colleges in the United States of America are kept free and strong.

(2) Regents' endeavors. In view of the foregoing consideration, it shall be my constant endeavor:

(A) Effective service. To devote time, thought, and study to the duties and responsibilities of a regent so that I may render effective and creditable service.

(B) Cooperation. To work with my fellow Board members in a spirit of harmony and cooperation in spite of differences of opinion that arise during vigorous debates of points of issue.

(C) Voting. To base my personal decision upon all available facts in each situation; to vote my honest conviction in every case, unswayed by partisan bias of any kind; thereafter, to abide by and uphold the final majority decision of the Board.

(D) Legal authority. To remember at all times that as an individual I have no legal authority outside the meetings of the Board, and to conduct my relationships with the College staff, the citizenry, and all media of communication on the basis of this fact.
(E) Total interest of the College. To resist every temptation and outside pressure to use my position as a Board member to benefit either myself or any other individual or agency apart from the total interest of the area which the College serves.

(F) Educational programs. To recognize that it is as important for the Board to understand and evaluate the educational programs of the College as it is to plan for the business of College operation.

(G) College policies. To bear in mind under all circumstances that the primary function of the Board is to establish the policies by which the College is to be administered, but that the administration of the educational program and the conduct of routine College business shall be left to the President of the College and his/her professional and nonprofessional staff.

(H) Cooperation. To welcome and encourage active cooperation by citizens, organizations, and the media of communication in the area and state with respect to establishing policy on current College operation and proposed future developments.

(I) Effective service. Finally, to strive step by step toward ideal conditions for most effective service of the Board of Regents to my community and state, in a spirit of teamwork and devotion to public education as the greatest instrument for the preservation and perpetuation of our representative democracy.

Sec. 1-10. "Ten Commandments" for Regents

Through long experience, members of governing bodies of educational institutions have learned that there are certain practices which are generally not good. The Board of Regents and the Regents individually normally observe the following:

1. Board meetings. Don't conduct board meetings without the College President.
2. Administrative responsibility. Don't have more than one administrative person, the President, directly responsible to the Board.
3. Faculty. Don't solicit or encourage faculty complaints.
4. Advocacy. Don't become an advocate for someone seeking a job at the College.
5. Personal investigations. Don't conduct personal investigations into charges of unfairness in some student's failure.
6. Regent's role. Don't act like a Regent except when meeting as a Board or as a committee of the Board.
7. Board authorization. Don't speak for the Board except when authorized to do so by the Board.
8. Questions. Refer questions pertaining to administration to the President of the College.
9. Standing committees. Don't form numerous standing committees of the Board.

(10) Technology. To provide, as funds allow, advanced technological resources that will promote academic excellence.
Secs. 2-2 to 2-5. (Reserved for future use.)

Sec. 2-6. Curriculum development
(a) Programs and courses. Faculty-driven curriculum design and development is approved through institution-approved curriculum processes to the College Curriculum Committee under the leadership of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. Descriptions of courses to appear in the Rose State College Catalog must be approved by the Curriculum Committee.

(b) Divisional programs. Divisional faculty and staff, under the leadership of the Division Dean, is responsible for considering the total academic program within the division and recommending through the Division Curriculum Committee to the College Curriculum Committee those additions, revisions, omissions, or regroupings of offerings which they believe are necessary to meet the needs of the students.

(c) Essential elements. Interest of each professor, the total work of the College, and knowledge of the programs in other fields are essential elements in a realistic program of curriculum development. It is expected that professors will invite and welcome visitation of other professors to their classes.

(d) Procedures in curriculum development. The approval of new courses or any curricula requires the following steps:

1. Division recommendation. Recommendation by the Division Curriculum Committee to the College Curriculum Committee.
2. College Curriculum Committee. Recommendation by the College Curriculum Committee to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
3. Vice President for Academic Affairs. Recommendation by the Vice President for Academic Affairs to the President.
4. President. Recommendation by the President to the Rose State College Board of Regents.
5. Approval by the Rose State College Board of Regents.
6. Approval by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, as indicated by OSRHE Academic Policy.

(e) Considerations. Items of consideration in each step of curriculum development:

1. Necessary information. Recommendations from division of instruction for new courses or curricula should include the following information:

   - Division
   - Course title
   - Course number
   - Course length
   - Prerequisite(s)
   - Individual(s) preparing syllabus
   - Class hours (per semester)
   - Credit hours
   - Class hours (per week):
     - (i) lecture
     - (ii) lab
     - (iii) other (specify activity)
     - (iv) Course description (for Rose State College Catalog)
     - (v) Division course syllabus
(2) Basis for approval of courses or curricula by Curriculum Committee:
   (A) Educational value.
      (i) Courses should contribute to one or more of the objectives of the program objectives of the College as set forth in this Manual.
      (ii) Courses should be of value to students as a part of
            (I) General education.
            (II) A technical curriculum in a field which offers a real possibility of employment for the graduate.
            (III) Transfer curriculum.
            (IV) A worthy specialized interest.
      (iii) Courses should be taught in a manner appropriate to college students. Required high school make-up courses and remedial courses should also be taught in a manner appropriate to college students.
      (iv) The proposal to the Curriculum Committee should indicate clearly the educational purposes, the general content, and the unit value of the courses and necessary prerequisite courses.
   (B) Total program. Relation to the total program of the College.
      (i) The importance of the proposed course in relation to the other curricular actions or additions.
      (ii) The likelihood of adequate student demands.
      (iii) The degree of overlapping with existing courses.
      (iv) The degree of competition with other classes.

(3) Basis for approval of courses or curricula by College Administration:
   (A) Philosophy. Courses in accord with the mission, vision, and core values of the College.
   (B) Enrollment. Evidence of sufficient enrollment to warrant offering this course or curriculum.
   (C) Funding. Availability of sufficient funds to finance proposed course or curriculum.

Note: For the Curriculum Committee, see Section 1-51 of this Manual.

Sec. 2-7. Academic programs and courses in the College Catalog
   The academic programs and courses of instruction of the College appear in the College Catalog.

Sec. 2-8. Course numbering
   The course numbers consist of four digits. The first digit indicates the level of the course: (0)—sub-freshman; (1)—freshman; (2)—sophomore. The last digit indicates the number of semester credit hours of the course. The middle two digits identify the course within the department or subdivision.

Sec. 2-9. Credit for courses
   There are approximately 16 weeks in each regular semester at Rose State College. The semester hour is the unit of credit given at the College and is defined generally as the amount of credit given for sixteen lecture hours. A class meeting of 1¼ clock hours that is held twice a week for 16 weeks carries three semester credit hours. Certain courses which require laboratory work or skill practice may meet for more hours per week than the number of hours they confer.

Sec. 2-10. Course syllabi
(a) All course offerings. On file in the offices of the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Division Deans are course syllabi for all course offerings at Rose State College. These course syllabi frequently play a significant role in the determination of the image the College presents to other agencies. They may be used to secure approval from the Regents for Higher Education, to determine that the courses parallel those offered at other two- or a four-year institution, for research which deals with curricular development, to aid new professors in their preparations, to provide information to business and industry, and as a reference for students. They amplify the catalog description of the course.
(b) Criteria. The criteria necessary in the judgment of the quality and adequacy of a course vary with the course. In one course, the number of required compositions and their length would be significant; in another, the number of classroom hours spent on a particular concept would be significant; and in still another course, the use of laboratories and the ratio of lecture to laboratory time would be significant. When professors are preparing course syllabi, answers to these criteria should be included.
(c) New syllabi submission. Professors should submit all new syllabi to their Division Curriculum Committee Chairperson, who will initiate the approval procedure. Upon complete approval, each syllabi will be filed with the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. Professors should feel free to consult with their Division Dean or the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs when syllabi are being written or revised. (See Sec. 1-51, Division Curriculum Committee.)

Sec. 2-17. Program Review Policy
(a) Purpose of policy. Program review is the method by which the State Regents evaluate proposed and existing programs. State Regents recognize the primary role of institutional faculty, administrators, and governing boards in initiating and recommending needed changes in functions and educational programs. Rose State College’s program review policy will meet all of the requirements of the State Regents (Section 3.7 Academic Program Review) AND provide an effective in-house review. The primary purposes of the program review, as established by the State Regents, are:

(1) Quality. To maintain and enhance the quality of instruction, research, and public service conducted at state colleges and universities.
(2) Response. To respond to existing and emerging social, cultural, scientific, technological, and economic needs (including addressing the needs of business/industry).
(3) Variety. To provide to citizens a variety of high-quality opportunities for intellectual growth.
(4) Accessibility. To make programs commonly accessible to academically qualified citizens of the state.
(5) Resources. To utilize the state and the institution’s resources effectively and efficiently.
(b) Program Review Criteria. The criteria identified in OSRHE policy, 3.7.5 are designed to facilitate the analytical evaluation of the present goals and objectives, activities, outcomes, strengths and identify areas of improvement of the program. Informed decisions related to program initiation, expansion, contraction, consolidation, and termination, as well as reallocation of resources are among those that may result from the program review process.

1. Centrality of the program to the Institution’s mission. An assessment and written analysis will be made as to the centrality of the program to the Institution’s mission and in context of the Academic Plan. The mission defines the reason for the existence and the philosophy of the institution with respect to education and learning.

2. Vitality of the program. Vitality of the program refers to the activities and arrangements for ensuring its continuing effectiveness and efficiency. To maintain its vitality and relevance, a program must plan for continuous evaluation as defined in OSRHE Policy 3.7 of its goals, clientele served, educational experiences offered, educational methods employed, including the effective use of technology and the use of its resources. The vitality of a program can best be observed by examining the past and present initiatives to ensure the vitality of the faculty, students, and programs.

3. Program Objectives and Goals. Objectives should be written so that the need they address is clear; program outcomes can be assessed; and program clientele are specified.

4. Quality indicators. Quality indicators, as indicated in State Regent policy 3.7.5.2, are measured by faculty quality, ability of students, achievements of graduates of the program, curriculum, library, access to information technology resources including efficiencies and improved learner outcomes through appropriate use of this technology and appropriate use of instructional technology to achieve educational objectives, special services provided to students and/or community and other critical services. Specific documentation of student achievement must be provided including outcomes assessment data consistent with the State Regents’ Assessment Policy as indicated in State Regent Policy 3.7.5.2 and according to the Higher Learning Commission Criteria and Components.
   - The program’s goals for student learning outcomes are clearly stated for each educational program and make effective assessment possible
   - The program values and supports effective teaching
   - The program creates effective learning environments
   - The program’s learning resources support student learning and effective teaching
   - The institution’s curricular evaluation involves alumni, employers, and other external constituents who understand the relationship among the course of study, the currency of the curriculum, and the utility of the knowledge and skills gained
   - The institution learns from the constituencies it serves and analyzes its capacity to serve their needs and expectations

5. Minimum Productivity Indicators. Five year average Productivity Indicators are established in State Regent Policy 3.7.5.3. Programs not meeting these standards may be identified for early review as low producing programs. OSRHE will notify the institution not meeting either one of the two standards listed and other quantifiable measures.

6. Other Quantitative Measures. Other quantitative measures established in the OSRHE policy 3.7.5.4 include the number and size of classes taught, credit hours generated, instructional costs, general education credit hours generated, faculty members including full-time equivalent, employment information, if available, and student success data.
(7) Duplication and Demand. Demand of the program, reflecting the desire of people for what the program has to offer and the needs of individuals and society to be served by the program. It is a high priority of the State Regents to eliminate unnecessary program duplication. However, not all duplication is undesired or unnecessary. Normally basic liberal arts and sciences disciplines would not be considered unnecessarily duplicative. Unnecessary duplication is more prevalent in programs which need special manpower needs. An assessment of the demand for a program includes aspirations and expectations of students, faculty, administration and the various constituencies served by the program. Consistent with the Academic Program Approval Policy and the historical place of the program in the College’s mission, criteria used to evaluate the degree to which similar programs are unnecessarily duplicative include demand from students based on profiles of applicants, enrollment, completion data, and occupational data; demand for students produced by the program based on employer demands, demands for skills of graduates, and job placement data; indirect demands in the form of faculty and student contributions to the cultural life and well-being of the community; and, the meeting the demand through alternative forms of delivery.

(8) Effective use of program resources. Effective use of program resources, including financial support, facilities and equipment, library collections, support services, appropriate use of technology in the instructional design and delivery processes; and, the human resources of faculty and staff. The efficiency of resources may be measured by cost per student credit hour, faculty/student ratio, and other appropriate measures. The effective use of resources should be a major concern in evaluating programs. The resources allocated to the program should reflect the program’s priority consistent with the institution’s mission statement and academic plan.

(c) Low Productivity Review Process. Upon receiving notification from the State Regents of program low productivity, the College must review the designated program within one year of the State Regents’ notification. Programs not meeting the minimum productivity requirements, as established by the OSRHE policy 3.7.5.3, will be subject either to State Regents’ staff audit, or external review, OSRHE policy 3.7.5.3.b. Programs justified through either process will be placed back into the five-year review cycle. Exceptions to the external review process may include new programs, liberal arts and sciences programs, off-line programs, restructured programs, special purpose programs, or no cost/justifiable cost programs as listed in State Regent policy 3.7.5.b.3.

(d) Program Review Procedures. The review procedure outlined by the State Regents policy 3.7.7 requires a program review every five years of all programs except not included in the separate technical program review process or those reviewed and accredited by an approved external agency. Rose State College will do the self-study review as an ongoing project, averaging twenty percent of the programs per year. The programs to be reviewed are determined from the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education master list upon agreement with College officials on an annual basis. Priority should be given to any program scheduled for an accreditation review and to programs which appear to be marginal and in need of attention. A list of the programs to be reviewed in a fiscal year shall be submitted to the Vice President for Academic Affairs by May 1 of the preceding fiscal year; the reviews will be completed by March 1 of the review year. Each program review report will include the following:

(1) Introduction The general process of the review including participants in the review process, the use of consultants, relation to an accreditation visit, and/or prior recommendations from a previous visit.

(2) Executive Summary. The program's contribution to the strategic goals and mission of the College, strengths and areas for improvement of the program, key findings with regard to the Program Review Principles and Program Review Criteria, and its role in institutional effectiveness is also discussed.

(3) Analysis and Assessment. A complete review and analysis based on the Program Review Criteria identified in Section B, 1-8, will be made to include recommendations.

(4) Program Review Recommendations. Recommendations should be presented and clearly linked and supported by the information and analysis that were articulated in the previous section and should contain a realistic strategy for implementation of any changes.

(5) Program objectives. Learning-centered goals for student completers are described in this section of the Review.

(6) Plan of study. In this section the number of credit hours required in General Education, Program Requirements and Support and Related Requirements is documented.

(7) Program effectiveness. The program's relation to institutional effectiveness is provided in this section using a listing of headcount enrollment and degrees conferred over a five-year period. (OSRHE Policy 3.7.5.1a, 3.7.5.1.b)

(8) Program strengths. In this section an explanation of the effectiveness of the program is submitted. Faculty credentials, student achievement, and program completers, as stated in identified program outcomes, are all presented to document the effective use of program resources.

(8) Program concerns (and possible solutions). An explanation of observed concerns is developed in this section to relate needed changes for future program development.

Sec. 2-18. (Reserved for future use.)

Sec. 2-19. Faculty
Position descriptions are available in offices of Academic Affairs, Division Deans, and Human Resources/AAO.

Sec. 2-20. Academic freedom and responsibilities

The ultimate school authority rests with the Board of Regents, and it should be the responsibility of the Faculty Senate to investigate, in a timely and competent manner, all questions relative to academic freedom and responsibilities of the professor and to recommend appropriate action to the Administration. The following guidelines are appropriate to this statement:

(1) Academic atmosphere. Society, to remain free, requires citizens not only well schooled in traditional knowledge, but more fundamentally, citizens capable of critical evaluation of both new and old ideas. An institution of higher education can freely participate in the process of sifting and weighing traditional approaches and creating and evaluating new ones. Through the community and its college, society should provide an academic atmosphere in which questioning is encouraged, where alternatives can be explored, where one may follow where inquiry leads. It is, therefore, imperative that the professor enjoy full freedom in the civil discussion of his/her subject and related matters both in and beyond the classroom, the ultimate purposes of such freedom being the pursuit of truth.

(2) Civil liberties. As a citizen, the professor is entitled to publicly speak or write on issues which are of a public interest and to be active in any political party which does not violate state statutes. In addition, the professor is entitled to all other personal and civil liberties. The exercise of all of these privileges should in no way prejudice his/her position as a member of the instructional staff.

(3) Expression. As a professor, his/her right to express himself/herself in matters of College policy shall not be denied or abridged, nor should such expression jeopardize his/her academic position.

(4) Freedom from censorship. When the teacher speaks or writes as a citizen, he/she should be entirely free from institutional censorship or discipline, but his/her special position in the community obliges him/her to remember that the public may judge his/her profession and his/her institution by the validity of his/her opinions and the manner in which he/she expresses them. When he/she speaks or writes as a citizen, he/she should indicate that he/she is not an institutional spokesman.

Sec. 2-21. Controversial issues and materials

(a) Impartial viewpoint. Controversial problems and issues shall be studied from an impartial view, and the responsibility of professors under this policy is as follows:

1) Unprejudiced. To make certain that controversial issues are presented and discussed in an impartial and unprejudiced manner;

2) Personal privilege. To refrain from using personal privilege and prestige as a professor to promote or emphasize a partisan point of view;

3) Democratic tradition. To emphasize in their teaching the American heritage of democratic tradition and ideals as stated in the basic American documents, so that students are encouraged to develop a real love for our country.

(b) Difference of opinion. An issue or a material is deemed controversial when a marked difference of opinion exists among a substantial number of citizens regarding such issue or material.

Secs. 2-22 and 2-23. (Reserved for future use)

Sec. 2-24. Purposes of Board of Regents

The members of the Board of Regents of Rose State College believe that it is in the best interest of all to have clear understandings regarding the achievement of tenure and the terms under which faculty are secure. With these purposes in mind, this policy statement was devised; it includes tenure and faculty rights, responsibilities, instructional assignments, probationary status, granting of tenure, tenure in administrative assignments, periodic review of tenure status, and appeals procedure.

Sec. 2-25. Tenure and faculty rights

(a) Budget and tenure. Because of the budget-balancing amendment of the Oklahoma Constitution, the Board of Regents cannot obligate funds in excess of the unencumbered balance of surplus cash on hand. Consequently, the Board may not obligate itself by binding contracts beyond a current fiscal year for salaries or compensation in any amount to its employees. The Board of Regents does, however, recognize tenure and the intent to reappoint tenured personnel to the faculty within existing positions that are continued the next year when compatible with the annual budget for that year.

(b) Interpretation of tenure. For the purposes of this statement, tenure may be interpreted as an assurance to the faculty member that he/she may expect to continue his/her position unless adequate cause for dismissal or return to academic probation is demonstrated in a fair hearing, following established procedures of due process, which are discussed in the Faculty Appeals section of this statement.

(c) Value of tenure. In order to appreciate the value of tenure, one should understand the reasons for its inclusion in the institution's policies. Tenure assures the professor that his/her professional endeavors will not be hindered by outside pressures; and it assures students and the public, who rely upon the professor's professional integrity, that the professor's statements are influenced only by his/her best professional judgment. Academic tenure, by creating a faculty with strong personal commitment to the institution, contributes to institutional stability, to joint responsibility for professional and institutional standards, and to effective institutional governance. It is also important to note that tenure is a position that is acquired by a long-term exhibit of professional competence toward one's discipline, toward one's colleagues, and toward one's institution. At Rose State College, where there is no degree ranking, tenure status implies an element of seniority within a division, as well as recognition by the administration and other tenured colleagues of ability and achievement in a particular discipline.

(d) Promotion and tenure. Promotion for faculty members is synonymous with tenure, there being no designation of rank other than that of professor.

Sec. 2-26. Faculty responsibilities

(a) Contract. The normal faculty contract is for nine months and is a minimum of 165 days to include 80 days of instruction in each of the fall and spring semesters and five professional development days: e.g., three days of professional development in August and two in January.

(b) Major responsibilities.

1. Professional relationships. The professor is expected to be courteous, fair, and impartial when dealing with students. Open communication and a cooperative attitude are expected in work relationships with colleagues, staff, and administration. The sharing of ideas, techniques, and materials as well as supporting colleagues is expected of all professors.

2. Effective instruction. The professor is to organize course materials, presentations, assignments, and grading methods around the course objectives. All syllabi, course information, and documents are to be maintained and distributed by the professor. Class materials and presentations are to reflect current information and be organized in a logical manner. The professor is to actively engage the students in learning through the use of a variety of teaching techniques, and encourage student participation, analysis, and critical thinking.

3. Effective online instruction. In response to federal regulations for documenting online student attendance, faculty are required to design their online courses to include an academic activity on a weekly basis in order to know if a student is present in an online class. Examples of academic activities include, but are not limited to, contributing to a class discussion, completing a quiz or examination, completing an assignment, initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a course-related question, or participating in class activities or other attendance requirements as established by the instructor. The examples noted in this policy do not constitute an exhaustive list. The intent of this policy is to ensure student engagement in class activity to accurately record a “last date of attendance” as necessary for an AW or F grade.

4. Record maintenance. Professors are to keep attendance records necessary for advisement and counseling purposes and report absenteeism according to approved procedures. In addition, professors are to submit accurate grade reports in each course taught for students enrolled. It is expected that records will be current throughout the semester and submitted prior to the established deadline in accordance with the current College policy.

(5) Advisement. The professor should be prepared to provide academic advisement for students informally or as assigned by the division dean. These advisement activities are most frequently done outside of class time. Therefore, the professor will maintain required office hours that are convenient for his/her students. The required number of hours are to be posted on the professor's office door and with the Division office by the second week of school.

(6) Professional development. The professor also has the responsibility of improving competence and instructional techniques through continued professional development, such as those included below:

(A) professional organization membership/participation; continuing education credits; advanced degree coursework; journals read; participation in workshops, meetings, seminars, and institutes;

(B) research; publishing; development of new courses/program; new instructional techniques; development of materials of value to the students, colleagues, etc.

(7) College service. The faculty member is expected to work with colleagues and administrators in improving the total environment of the College through committee assignments, club sponsorship, and community service projects. Examples of these types of activities include the following:

(A) participation in special committees, consultation with College administrators, presentations at College-sponsored activities;

(B) community presentations using job related expertise; Speaker's Bureau; support of student activities, clubs, and projects; recruitment activities.

(8) Community service. Professors are expected to assist the College in service to the local community through participation in service projects; presentations; and noncredit, continuing education instruction. Examples of these types of activities include: membership and positions in civic organizations, consulting in civic activities, coordinating special projects, testing, activities which improve school-community relations, and volunteer activities.

Sec. 2-27. Assignments

(a) Full-time instructional assignment. Full-time faculty have a minimum thirty-hour per week assignment including instruction, office hours, and other College-related duties. The minimum assignment includes teaching an equated 15 credit hours and maintaining 12.5 posted office hours per week during each academic semester, or a maximum of 24 student contact hours with a minimum of 6 office hours per week. Teaching and laboratory hours above this minimum are to be compensated on an overload basis. Equated teaching load may include allowance for extraordinary assignments such as on-line or nontraditional course development, athletic coaching, drama production directing, college-assigned projects, or certain academic program coordination. The allowance or reassignment of the teaching load will be in credit-hour increments based on appropriate documentation of the time to be expended for the tasks.
(1) Equate hours. Lecture and recitation will be equated on a 1:1 ratio; laboratory on a 1.75:1 ratio. Clinical instruction varies as determined by the appropriate Program Director, Dean of the division, and Academic Vice President.

(2) Office hours. Office hours should generally be distributed over the five-day week, Monday through Friday. However, evening assignments, weekend assignments, or maximum student contact hours on days other than Monday through Friday may allow for the Dean of a division to approve alternate office-hour distribution schedules that meet the minimum requirements and provide convenient hours for the students. Office hours held on-line at home or on campus, or virtual office hours, may be arranged with the appropriate division dean. Such hours should not exceed the ratio of on-line teaching to regular on-campus instruction, i.e., if 40 percent of the load is on-line then 40 percent of the office hours may be virtual office hours. The total number of office hours posted as off-campus virtual office hours should never equal 100 percent as faculty are expected to be on campus for other College-related duties.

(b) Teaching responsibilities (split assignments)

(1) Deans. Deans of the divisions teach an equated three-hour assignment during the academic year and/or summer term.

(2) Associate deans. Associate Deans of the divisions teach 15 equated hours during the academic year and/or summer term.

(3) Program Director. The Program Director will carry an equated instructional load of 50 percent [seven and one-half equated hours in academic format and four equated hours in summer term if on a twelve-month basis] or as assigned by the Dean of the division.

(4) Professional with teaching responsibility. A professional staff member with teaching responsibility will teach as assigned by the appropriate administrator in coordination with the appropriate academic Division Dean. For credit instruction, the maximum assignment is normally limited to the equivalent of two courses, approximately six credit hours, during any sixteen-week period. Exceptions must be requested in writing by the Division Dean and approved in writing by their Vice President.

(c) Dean's authority. The Dean has authority to assign teaching responsibilities to best meet the needs of students (day/night/weekend/etc.) within available personnel.

(d) Adjunct assignments. The College may contract individuals on an adjunct professional basis to provide instructional services and/or perform extraordinary assignments. Employment offers are made on a course-by-course basis and may be rescinded if sufficient enrollment is not obtained or it is found to be in the best interest of the College.

(1) Credit: For credit instruction, the maximum assignment is normally limited to the equivalent of three courses, approximately nine credit hours, during any sixteen-week period. Exceptions must be requested in writing by the Division Dean and approved in writing by the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

(2) Therefore, adjunct faculty should have not more than 24 credit hours assigned during a calendar year (fall and spring semesters combined).

(3) Extraordinary assignments: Sec. 2-28(a)(1) will serve as the guideline for providing examples of extraordinary assignments, addressing credit-hour increment allowances, and calculation of equated hours.

Sec. 2-28. Overload policy
(a) Faculty overload basis. Faculty will be paid on an overload basis per semester once they exceed their normal assignment and/or if they substitute for a faculty member as defined in the "Policies and Procedures Manual." Overload will not be paid until the full-time obligation has been fulfilled. Total assignment in one academic semester should not exceed 21 equated credit hours. Overload pay may be granted for assignments over and beyond the normal teaching load that are not specifically instructional in nature. These equated loads must be approved by the President. Athletic coaching, drama production directing, college-assigned projects, and certain academic program coordination are examples of extraordinary assignments that may merit overload payment.

(b) Administrative, managerial, and professional personnel overload basis. Administrative, managerial, and professional personnel will be paid on an overload basis when teaching a class in excess of their full-time assignment if it is outside their regularly assigned hours, which are normally 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, or as approved by the appropriate administrator.

(c) Classified staff overload basis. Classified staff will be paid on an overload basis when teaching a class in excess of their full-time assignment if it is outside their regularly assigned hours, which are normally 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

To qualify for teaching, classified employees accepting a teaching offer will provide a letter to the hiring division stating their desire to teach a particular subject at their option on their own free time. Such assignments are not considered overtime for nonexempt employees.

Determination of necessity for overload teaching is discussed under Sec. 2-28. Assignments. Rates of pay/deductions are as follows:

1. Overload pay. Overload pay rate is determined on an equated-credit-hour basis each fiscal year for the fall and spring semesters and becomes effective with the fall semester.

2. Adjunct professor pay. Adjunct professor pay rate for fall, spring, and summer semesters is determined on an equated-credit-hour basis each fiscal year and becomes effective with the fall semester.

3. Regular faculty summer and interim term pay. Regular faculty summer pay and any interim session pay rate is determined on an equated-credit hour basis each fiscal year. Regular summer responsibilities include required office hour schedules with one office hour per week for each equated credit hour of theory instruction. Laboratory components of lecture/lab/combination courses do not have an office hour requirement.

4. Substitute pay/deduction.

   (A) Fall and spring semesters:

   (i) For short-term (less than three clock hours) bereavement/medical emergency, illness, personal, and professional leaves, regular faculty members are routinely expected to substitute (with Division Dean's approval) for each other without deductions from the overload compensation of the faculty assigned to the course and without the substitute faculty being compensated for the covered class(es).

   (ii) For long-term absences (three or more clock hours), except for professional leave, deductions will be made from the assigned faculty pay for overload class(es) at the substitute rate which is determined on a clock-hour basis each fiscal year and becomes effective with the fall semester, and additions will be made to the faculty substituting at the same substitute rate. No deductions or additions will be made on overload compensation for professional leave whenever colleagues cover classes.

(iii) Prorated adjustments to pay will be made for faculty on leave who instruct portions of courses as overload assignments and for other special instructional assignments.

(iv) Required deductions for all adjunct faculty’s absences will be made at the substitute rate. Also, adjunct faculty will receive additions at the substitute rate for covering classes as approved by the Division Dean.

(B) Summer semester: When regular faculty are absent from summer classes because of personal leave, deductions will be made at the rate which is determined on a clock-hour basis each fiscal year and becomes effective with the fall semester. Regular faculty who substitute for absent faculty (regular or adjunct) will be compensated for instruction at the summer rate which is determined on a clock-hour basis each fiscal year and becomes effective with the fall semester. Adjunct faculty who substitute for absent faculty (regular or adjunct) will be compensated at the adjunct rate which is determined on a clock-hour basis each fiscal year and becomes effective with the fall semester.

(5) Approved changes. Approved changes in the rate of overload, adjunct professor, summer, and substitution pay/deductions will be made effective with the fall semester of each fiscal year.

Sec. 2-30. Summer teaching assignment policy.

Maximum summer teaching assignments follow:

(1) Four credit hours. Four credit hours for a four-week session.

(2) Nine credit hours. Nine credit hours for an eight-week session.

(3) Twelve credit hours. Twelve credit hours for any combination of sessions.

(Exceptions to the summer teaching assignment policy may be granted for special circumstances by the appropriate Academic Division Dean.)

Sec. 2-31. Faculty seniority and retrenchment

(a) Seniority. Seniority, acquired through fulfillment of professional obligations and approved leave, may be defined as the length of continuous satisfactory service by Rose State College full-time faculty.

(b) Retrenchment. In the event of retrenchment, academically qualified faculty with seniority should be given first consideration for retention and any open positions.

Sec. 2-32. Probationary status

(a) Probationary period. All new professors appointed to full-time regular positions are employed on a probationary basis for a minimum of five years, effective beginning June 30, 1977. During the probationary period, professors are carefully evaluated. The Rose State College Board of Regents charges the President, through appropriate administrative officials as outlined in the "Policies and Procedures Manual," with responsibility for supervision, evaluation, and recommendations. During the non-tenured faculty member’s first year of employment, the non-tenured faculty member is ineligible for appeals processes as defined in Sec. 7-1(2)(a),
The probationary period is meant to be a period of development for professors. Methods and techniques appropriate to instruction will be encouraged and will be developed by the new professor during this period with the help of the immediate supervisor and tenured professors. Among the methods of aiding this development are campus professional development activities, professional meetings, course outlines and teaching guides, formal and informal conferences with tenured faculty, faculty mentors, third-year faculty evaluation by tenured faculty (Sec. 2-33), and division meetings. During the probationary period, faculty are evaluated carefully, in part through a formal third-year evaluation, at which time concerns/shortcomings may be identified and assistance then provided to help improve the individual's performance.

(b) Reappointments. Probationary employment carries no obligation for continuance, and the decision for reappointment is made each fiscal year. Administrative officials must decide whether to recommend reappointment to the Board of Regents. No recommendation for an individual means that no employment is offered to that person for the new academic year.

(c) Consideration for tenure. After completion of five years of satisfactory service, the full-time, regular professor is considered for tenure provided other requirements, such as degree qualifications, are met. The probationary period may be longer than five years, such as in the case of a professor with demonstrated instructional ability who applies for leave of absence to complete additional education needs or for sick leave or to accept an administrative position in this institution; the probationary time will resume as if uninterrupted upon reassignment in full-time instruction. If a professor teaches for only one semester during his/her year of tenure consideration, he/she will be evaluated for that year on the basis of the one semester.

(d) Tenure and special assignments. Tenure applies to full-time, regular position professors rather than those persons in special assignments. If a special-assignment employee becomes a regular instructional member, however, time spent in such assignments may, at the recommendation of the Division Dean and the Vice President for Academic Affairs and at the discretion of the President, be counted as probationary time.

(e) Special circumstances. If a tenured faculty member or a tenure track faculty member should leave the College and return or if any other special circumstance should develop concerning a faculty member's eligibility for tenure vote, the tenured faculty of the division will consider the circumstances. This committee will make recommendations to the Division Dean. These recommendations, along with those of the Division Dean, will be forwarded to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, then the President.

Sec. 2-33. Granting of Tenure and evaluating probationary faculty

(a) Consideration for tenure. All persons who have completed the probationary period are to be considered for tenure. This consideration is shared by tenured faculty members within the person's division, the Division Dean, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel, and the administration. In the event that the tenured faculty in a division number fewer than five, this number will be supplemented by the necessary number from the tenured faculty of the College. The Vice President for Academic Affairs will be responsible for having the tenured faculty of the division elect the additional members necessary.

(b) August professional development (fall) meeting. Each Division Dean will announce at the fall professional development meeting of the tenured faculty of the division to be held before September 15 for the purposes of presenting the names of faculty members in that division who are eligible for third-year review and tenure consideration and of reviewing the tenure process.
January professional development (spring) meeting. Each Division Dean will announce at the spring professional development the dates for the spring meetings pertaining to tenure.

Each faculty member being considered for tenure or for third-year review is responsible for checking his/her file for completeness and accuracy after the beginning of the spring semester but prior to the two weeks before to Spring Break. Tenured faculty will review the files for the tenure candidate(s) and third-year review candidates during the two weeks prior to Spring Break.

Tenure evaluation materials:
(1) Student Evaluation of Professor and Instruction (plus computer summary).
(2) Instructional Evaluation-Classroom Visit (composite).
(3) Faculty Performance Appraisal.
(4) Teaching Assignments.
(5) Grade Analysis.
(6) Additional information. Any additional information that a person being considered wishes to submit. These materials will have been collected at the appropriate times during the probationary period.

Spring tenure-related meetings.
(1) Reviewing files. The two weeks prior to Spring Break will be set aside each year for tenured faculty of the division to review the materials of each person to be considered for tenure and for those having their third-year review.

Tenure and Third-Year Review. The materials will be available in the division office or in another room designated for this purpose by the Division Dean. The materials may not be removed from the designated location and must be considered confidential. Each tenured faculty member must have signed a check sheet, attached to each file, upon having completed his/her review of the material in order to be eligible to complete the evaluation form and/or vote.

The tenured faculty may make notes during this review so as to better complete the evaluation at a later date. They may also obtain a copy of the form (from the online Forms Handbook) on which to make notes.

(2) Reviewing policy and signing ballots. During the week following Spring Break, a short meeting of the tenured faculty within the division will be called by the Division Dean for the purpose of reviewing the tenure voting process and electing a chairperson to serve during the tenure voting and evaluation process. Once a chairperson is elected by the tenured faculty, the Division Dean will leave the meeting, and the chairperson will review with the tenured faculty the evaluation form to be completed for third-year probationary faculty and for those who are to be considered for tenure. The chairperson will appoint an assistant, and they will proceed with the signing of the ballots. He/she will keep track of which tenured faculty members signed ballots as only those faculty will be allowed to cast votes at the tenure meeting.

Signing BALLOTS. A copy of the ballot should be obtained from the online Forms Handbook or from the Office of Academic Affairs. Voting is anonymous. Therefore, the names of all tenured faculty members in the division will be typed on the form, and one copy per faculty member times the number of faculty members being voted on for tenure will be produced. (Example: 20 tenured faculty members x 2 faculty members up for tenure will cause each faculty member to sign his/her name 40 times. At the voting meeting, only those tenured faculty members who previously signed ballots would be eligible to cast votes.)

(3) Voting and writing evaluations. The Division Dean or elected chairperson will call two (2) two-hour meetings of the tenured faculty within the division during the second week following Spring Break for the purpose of voting for tenure recommendations and of filling out faculty evaluations for those faculty being considered for tenure and for those having their third-year review.

The evaluation forms are Scantron forms available in the Office of Academic Affairs. Number 2 pencils will be necessary to complete the numerical portion of the form.

The Division Dean will give the tenure ballots, which were signed for purposes of validation at the preceding meeting, to the elected faculty chairperson and leave the meeting. Within the first assigned two-hour period, any tenured faculty member who previously signed ballots and reviewed tenure files will complete an evaluation of all third-year probationary faculty and of those eligible for tenure. In addition, all tenured faculty will vote on each person eligible for tenure. Those faculty members attending the first meeting must complete all evaluations and voting at that meeting. At the end of this first meeting, the completed ballots, evaluations, and the remaining blank ballots will be secured in the division office.

Those tenured faculty unable to attend the first meeting should attend the second two-hour meeting in order to complete faculty evaluations for those faculty being considered for tenure and for those having their third-year review. In addition, these remaining tenured faculty will vote on each person eligible for tenure.

The ballots and evaluations will be completed in the room designated for meeting and will be collected by the elected chairperson or the assistant. Both ballots and evaluations must be completed and collected within two hours of the beginning of the meeting. All must be completed by the end of the second two-hour meeting.

(4) Announcing tenure recommendations. The Division Dean will call a final meeting of the tenured faculty of the division prior to the last day of the spring semester at which he/she will inform the tenured faculty of their majority vote and subsequent action by the College administration and the Board of Regents.

(e) Disposition of the ballots and the evaluations.

(1) The elected chairperson and his/her assistant will compile the comments made by the tenured faculty on the evaluation forms.

(2) The evaluations will then be taken to IT Services so that a composite tally of the evaluation numerical scores can be run. (A tally of the evaluations and a compilation of the written comments will be sent to the Division.)

(3) The ballots will be taken to the Division Dean by the elected chairperson. The Division Dean and the elected tenure chairperson count the ballots with the Vice President for Academic Affairs. (An abstaining vote is not counted.)

The Division Dean will forward the results of the vote in a memo, indicated by a majority for or against (a majority being 50% + 1 vote), together with the recommendation of the Dean to the Vice President for Academic Affairs no later than the end of the second week following Spring Break. The Vice President will then forward the results and his/her recommendation to the President. The final decision is made, with the President’s recommendation, by the Board of Regents.
Tenure ballots will be destroyed four weeks after the faculty member under consideration has been notified of his/her tenure status.

(f) Notification of Tenure and evaluation results

(1) Notification. Official notification of tenure status is given to the faculty member by letter from the President no later than 10 days after the decision of the Board of Regents.

(2) No tenure recommended. In the event that a faculty member does not receive a recommendation for tenure, his/her services will be terminated at the end of the current contract period. If tenure is not recommended or approved for a candidate, he/she will be notified through the proper administrative channels.

(3) Results for faculty considered for tenure. For the faculty member(s) considered for tenure, the evaluations and the ballots will be taken to the Vice President for Academic Affairs for tallying within two days of the tenure vote meeting. The Vice President for Academic Affairs will store the evaluations for one year, then destroy them by shredding.

The Vice President for Academic Affairs will retain the tenure ballots for one month after the faculty member’s notification of granting or non-granting of tenure. In the event that an appeal occurs in connection with granting or non-granting of tenure, the tally may be viewed by the Hearing Committee.

The tally and a summary of comments from the evaluations will be given to the faculty member(s) considered for tenure at a meeting with the elected chairperson, which will occur as soon as possible after the tenured faculty of the division have been notified of the results of the tenure vote.

(4) Results for faculty considered for review. For the third-year probationary member(s), the tally from IT Services of the individual evaluation items and the evaluations themselves will be sealed and kept by the elected chairperson until his/her meeting with that faculty member, which will take place before the end of April. At this time the faculty member will receive his/her copy of the tally and a summary of evaluation comments, and the evaluations themselves will be destroyed. A copy of the composite tally and of the evaluation comments will be kept in the faculty member’s personnel file in the Division Dean’s office.

Sec. 2-34. Tenure in administrative assignments

(a) Not applicable. Tenure is not applicable to service in administrative assignments. The administrative officers of the College are appointed to serve in their assignments for an indefinite period but with annual renewal of employment terms on the part of the individual and the institution. Persons holding faculty tenure status who accept appointments to administrative positions, however, do not give up their tenure as faculty. Upon reassignment as faculty, tenure status continues.

(b) Exception. There is one exception to Sec. 2-35(a). Persons who have at least 60 percent instructional duties receive full credit on their probationary time for each year spent in such positions and are eligible for tenure.

Sec. 2-35. Periodic review of tenure status

(a) Procedures. For the purposes of assuring the public, the students, and the faculty of the institution's maintenance of the highest academic standards, procedures for periodic review and evaluation of officially tenured professional instructional staff have been established. The review, in the form of self-evaluation, student evaluation, administrator's evaluation, and conference with the faculty member, shall be conducted during the third and sixth years following the year during which tenure status is granted and every fifth year thereafter; however, all tenured faculty will be reviewed yearly for contributory services according to the personnel chapter (see Chapter IV, Personnel).

(b) Return to probation. If, at the conclusion of a periodic review of a tenured faculty member, it is determined that the faculty member's total evaluation reflects failure to comply with stated responsibilities, return to probationary status for one year may be recommended. In this event, the President will notify the faculty member in personal conference of the recommended action. If the faculty member agrees to the recommendation, the action will constitute full return to probationary status without privileges or guarantee of processes accorded tenured faculty. If the faculty member desires to appeal, he/she will so indicate to the President during the conference. Procedures will be the same as those in the personnel chapter (see Chapter IV, Personnel).

(c) During one-year probation. During a one-year probationary period, the faculty member will meet with the Division Dean at least once each semester for counseling and continuing evaluation.

(d) Recommendations after one-year probation. If, at the conclusion of a one-year probationary period, the faculty member is determined to have complied with stated responsibilities, he/she will be returned to tenured status; if not, recommendations that his/her services be terminated will be made. The recommendation, in either event, will be forwarded by the Division Dean through the proper administrative channels to the President, who will notify the faculty member. If the faculty member desires to appeal, he/she should follow the procedures in the personnel chapter (see Chapter IV, Personnel).

Sec. 2-36. Textbook and other instructional materials selection and adoption
(a) Selection responsibility. Rose State College has the responsibility of selecting textbooks and other resources to learning which are the best basic tools that may be used in the quest of complete and efficient learning. The College recognizes that the selection of textbooks is the right and responsibility of the faculty. Professors, because of their specialized training and thorough familiarity with the literature in their own subject fields, are best qualified to select these materials. However, the responsibility for selecting textbooks is not one to be taken lightly; rather, it is a task that must be frequently performed and frequently reviewed.

(b) Freedom of choice. The policy of the College shall be to allow professors the freedom of choice in instructional materials, including textbooks.

(c) Adjunct professors. Adjunct professors assigned to regular course offerings will use one of the approved texts.

(d) Procedures. Procedures to be followed in selecting or changing textbooks:

Computer Center returns Student Evaluations by January 15.

Repeat 1st semester outline for any new hires.
(1) Guidelines. Instructional faculty and staff members of Rose State College are to consider the least costly practices in assigning textbooks or other instructional materials for a course, without sacrificing educational content. Faculty are encouraged to use other good practices when financially feasible, being careful to require only those materials that will actually be extensively used during the course of the semester or term, and learning about and utilizing other emerging technology tools or resources in their courses.

(2) Submission. Recommendations for textbook selection and change will be submitted by the faculty member(s) to the Division Curriculum Committee for consideration and recommendation to the Division Dean. Upon approval by the Dean, the form shall be placed in the Division Textbook Directory. This Directory will be utilized to inform the bookstore as to what books shall be required/recommended in all courses. At the textbook adoption deadline, a copy of the Division Directory shall be forwarded to the Academic Affairs Office where the adopted textbooks shall be reviewed and approved. If a textbook selection is questioned, the concerned faculty, the Division Dean, and the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs shall confer concerning the textbook and/or request.

(3) Appropriateness. Textbooks selected must be appropriate to the adopted and filed course syllabi.

(4) Length of use. Once adopted, a textbook should be used for at least two years. Exception to the above may be made through an appeal to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

(5) Reevaluation. It is the responsibility of the Division Dean to request a faculty committee of one or more to reevaluate the continued use of adopted textbooks at least every four years.

(6) Request submission. Textbooks and equipment requests should be submitted to the Vice President for Academic Affairs by April 15 for fall semester, by October 15 for spring semester, and by March 15 for summer session. The Academic Affairs Office will send the approved requests to the Bookstore Manager, with an approved copy returned to the Division Office.

(7) Identifying information. Textbook orders must carry complete identifying information: author, title (as it appears on title page), edition (either by number or by year), publisher, and other courses in which the book is also required.

(f) Bookstore. Rose State College and our on-campus College Bookstore, contractually operated by “Follett,” are committed to providing comprehensive cost information for instructional materials required for any course. The College Bookstore shall provide students with the option of purchasing instructional materials that are unbundled when possible, disclose to faculty and students the retail costs of purchasing instructional materials, and publicly disclose how new textbook editions vary from previous editions. In addition, the College Bookstore will actively promote and publicize book buy-back programs.

(g) Prohibited and Permitted Practices. No Rose State College faculty or staff member may receive any inducement for requiring specific textbooks or instructional materials for coursework or instruction. Faculty or staff members may receive:

1. Sample copies and instructor copies of textbooks or instructional materials, as long as these are not sold by the faculty, staff member, or academic area;
2. Royalties or other compensation from sales of textbooks or instructional materials that include the writing or work of the faculty or staff member;
(3) Honoraria for academic peer review of textbooks and/or other instructional materials; and/or
(4) Training in the use of instructional materials and technologies.

Sec. 2-37. Student travel
(a) Student activities and events. Students who travel to represent the College as active participants in an approved College sponsored event or activity are to travel as a group in College provided buses, vans, and/or other vehicles.

All exceptions must be requested in writing and approved by the appropriate vice president prior to the event, and Liability Release Forms are to be completed when trips are not to be made in a College vehicle. Forms are available in the Office of Student Engagement, Division Deans, and the Mail Room.

(b) Field trips. Field trips can be an important educational experience. These experiences should be carefully planned so that students will not have too much difficulty in making up work in classes missed. The following procedures are used in organizing field trips:
   (1) Approval. Approval from the Vice President for Academic Affairs must be obtained one week in advance of the trip if it is at a time other than regularly scheduled hours of the particular class or classes involved.
   (2) Names. Names of faculty and students participating in the field trip are to be submitted to the office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs one week in advance of the trip in order that a list for distribution to all professors may be prepared.
   (3) College vehicle. Arrangements to use a College vehicle must be made through the appropriate Division Dean with approval granted by the Vice President for Administrative Services.
   (4) Participant responsibility. It is the responsibility of the faculty member planning a field trip to inform the participants that it is their responsibility to contact professors regarding make-up work necessitated by their absence, before leaving on the trip.
   (5) Liability Release Forms. See introduction to this section.

Sec. 2-38. Grading
(a) Grading. The matter of determining grades is left to each individual professor. Each professor is expected to employ his/her best judgment and the fairest technique known to him/her in assigning student grades. Final grades are reported for each student for every course undertaken according to the following grading system:

(b) Program grade requirements. The student must obtain at least a "C" grade in each course in the Program Requirements for the degree sought. For graduation with an associate degree, a student must have completed a minimum of at least 62 hours with a minimum retention grade point average, exclusive of physical activity coursework and zero-level courses.

(c) Grade requirements at another institution. While a student may earn a cumulative average of 2.0 which includes one or more grades of "D," it is well to remember that grades below "C" may not be acceptable for degree requirements at another institution.

(d) Incomplete. An incomplete grade may be used at the professor’s discretion to indicate that additional work is necessary to complete the requirements for a course. It is not a substitute for an “F,” and no student may be failing a course at the time an “I” grade is awarded. To receive an “I” grade, the student should have satisfactorily completed a substantial portion of the required course work for the semester. The professor, in consultation with the student, will determine remaining course assignments and deadlines, but all incomplete grades must be removed within one regular semester (e.g., a spring semester or summer term Incomplete should be completed by the end of the fall semester. A fall semester Incomplete should be completed by the end of the spring semester); otherwise, it remains as Incomplete on the student’s permanent record. Requests for exceptions may be made to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

(e) "W" grades. An automatic grade of "W" is issued when a student initiates a withdrawal during the allowable withdrawal period. The withdrawal period for an automatic "W" will begin after the tenth day of classes in the regular session and the fifth day of classes in the summer term and will not exceed twelve weeks of a sixteen-week semester or, in general, will not exceed three-fourths of the duration of any term. For any drop or withdrawal accepted after this deadline, a "W" or "F" will be assigned depending upon the student's standing in the class. The last day a student will be allowed to withdraw from a class is the last day of class work before the final examination.

(f) S - U grades. Professors are to assign "S" or "U" in and certain "Leisure and Recreational Activity" courses as designated in the College Catalog.

(g) Grades for “0” level courses. Professors may only assign an “A,” “B,” “C,” or “F” for the zero level courses. To successfully complete any zero level course, a student must earn a “C” or higher grade.

(h) Audit. No audits will be approved prior to the first week of classes in any semester. Persons enrolled in courses for audit may not change their enrollment to credit after the change of schedule period. With appropriate approval of the professor, a student enrolled in courses for credit may change to audit status any time through the first half of a session (four weeks of an 8-week session, eight weeks of a 16-week session, etc.). Further information for auditing a course may be found in the current College Catalog.

(i) Administrative withdrawal. Administrative Withdrawal may be assigned by the Office of Academic Affairs to indicate that a student has been "involuntarily" withdrawn by the institution during the designated semester for disciplinary or financial reasons or inadequate attendance. Before this grade is assigned, staff in the Office of Academic Affairs will review the situation with the faculty member and others as necessary to verify the appropriateness of the action. The grade will be GPA neutral.

(j) Procedure for grade changes. A "Change of Grade" form may be obtained by the professor from the Office of Admissions and Records. The form should be completed and signed by the professor and returned through the Division Dean to the Office of Admissions and Records.
(k) Challenging a grade. One of the functions of the Academic Grade Appeals Committee is to provide an opportunity for students to challenge a final grade, provided a solution cannot be reached through proper academic channels. Appeals for this purpose must be made within 90 days after the grade in question appears on the permanent record. Information concerning procedures to be followed is available from the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs (FA 100) or division offices.

(l) Grade points. Grade points are computed by multiplying the number of points that a particular grade (A, B, C, etc.) carries by the number of credit hours in a course. The grade point average may be found by adding the grade points for all courses and dividing them by the total number of applicable credit hours attempted.

Sec. 2-39. Honor Rolls

(a) Enrolled in 12 hours or more. Honor rolls will contain the names of students who have completed 12 or more credit hours within one semester with a grade average of "B" (3.0) or better. The President's Honor Roll is for students with a grade point average of 4.0; the Vice President's Honor Roll is for students with a grade point average of 3.0-3.99 with no course grade below a "C" including the grade of "U." Grades of "S" are neutral and are not figured in the student's semester grade point average, and only college credit courses (excludes "0" level courses) generating "S" grades will be considered toward the number of enrolled hours required for honor roll consideration. A student must complete any course for which an "I" was awarded before he/she may be considered for the honor roll. Honor Roll information is placed on the student's official transcript.

(b) Enrolled in 6 to 11 hours. Honor rolls for part-time students, those who are at least half-time (6 hours or more), will be based on the same academic standards as the full-time honor rolls. A student must complete any course for which an "I" was awarded before he/she may be considered for the honor roll.

(c) Enrolled in summer session. Honor rolls for a summer session will contain the names of students who have completed six or more credit hours with a grade average of "B" (3.0) or better. The same academic standards required during the fall and spring semesters for President's Honor Roll (4.0 GPA) and Vice President's Honor Roll (3.0 - 3.99 GPA) will be required for summer semester honor rolls. In addition, a student must complete any course for which an "I" was awarded before he/she may be considered for the honor roll.

Sec. 2-40. Safe use of equipment

The cooperation of all employees is requested with respect to the following regulations:

1. Faculty responsibility. It is the responsibility of faculty members to instruct students as to proper and safe use of all equipment.

2. Faculty presence. Shop power machinery is to be used only when professors are present in the shop.

Sec. 2-41. Classroom security

(a) Student disruptions or threats. In the event that a student causes excessive disruption or threatens bodily harm in the classroom or elsewhere on campus, assistance may be requested by a professor or other employee to handle the situation. In an emergency, security guards and/or the appropriate administrator (Division Dean, Director, Coordinator, Evening/Weekend Services) should be contacted. Incident Reports must be filed immediately, as indicated.
(b) Disciplinary action. Following handling of the immediate situation, the professor, or other employee, may request that the student be removed from a class or classes, be placed on disciplinary probation, or be suspended from the College. Such a request should be made to the appropriate administrator and will be considered by the Director, Student Conduct, the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management, who will determine what disciplinary action is to be taken. If the student wishes to protest the decision, he/she may appeal to the Student Conduct Committee.

Sec. 2-42. Extrainstitutional Credit

The policy allowing a student to be granted credit by examination recognizes that academic learning often occurs outside the formal college classroom setting.

Rose State College evaluates a student's previous learning experiences by awarding extrainstitutional credit by institutionally prepared examinations, standardized national tests such as CLEP and the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board (APP).

Subject matter tests such as the ACT PEP may also be used to validate experience in some disciplines.

(1) Eligibility. Students eligible to receive extrainstitutional credit are those who have been enrolled at Rose State College.

(2) Limitations.

(A) Validation. Extrainstitutional credit awarded to a student must be validated by successful completion of 12 or more semester hours at Rose State College before being placed on the student's official transcript.

(B) Residency requirements. The Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education policy on degrees conferred specifies that extrainstitutional credit may be earned by advanced standing examinations and applied to a degree program subject only to meeting the residency requirements of the institution conferring the degree.

NOTE: Sixty-two hours are required for an associate degree. At Rose State College, a student must complete at least fifteen hours in residency for a degree unless an exception is granted by the Chief Academic Officer of the College.

(C) Approve curriculum. Rose State College may award extrainstitutional credit only in those academic disciplines and in courses in the approved curriculum of the College. Whenever possible, Rose State College course title and number will be assigned to the credit awarded. The neutral grade of satisfactory (S) will be utilized to designate extrainstitutional credit.

(D) Majority of courses. A student may be awarded extrainstitutional credit on the basis of an advanced standing examination for a majority of the courses in the Rose State College "Catalog" whether or not a comparable course has previously been taken in high school or in college for which college credit has not been granted. Some exceptions may be necessary because of difficulty in structuring the time and place of the examination. The Division Dean will determine whether or not the test can be given. Credit for some courses may not apply toward a higher degree at another institution.

(E) Prerequisite courses. Credit will not be given for a prerequisite to a course for which credit has been granted.
(F) Audits. A student may be awarded credit in a course which he/she has previously audited by either repeating the course for credit or successfully completing it through advanced standing examination.

(G) CLEP test. Only the Subject Examination portion of the CLEP program tests will be accepted.

3) Other Criteria.

(A) Military training. Extrainstitutional credit awarded for military training schools shall not exceed the criteria and recommendations contained in publications of the American Council on Education especially designed for that purpose.

(B) Other noncollegiate experience. Extrainstitutional credit awarded for business and industrial, labor union, governmental agencies and other noncollegiate learning experiences shall not exceed the criteria and recommendations contained in publications of the American Council on Education especially designed for that purpose.

(C) Experiential learning. Credit for experiential learning, including, but not limited to, military occupational specialties (MOS), may be granted only on a course-by-course basis in instances in which an approved academic unit within the institution determines, on the basis of appropriate validation (i.e., not based simply on the presentation of experience), that the credit is equivalent to a course offered by the institution.

(D) International Baccalaureate program. Extrainstitutional credit may be awarded to a student who has taken "Higher Level" courses in the International Baccalaureate program and has scored at least a four (on a seven point scale) on the Higher Level course examination. Such credit shall be awarded on a course-by-course basis.

4) Transferability. Extrainstitutional credit, once recorded and validated, is transferable on the same basis as if the credit had been earned through regular study at this institution.

5) Charges. Institutional charges for administration and recording of locally administered advanced standing examinations shall be at the rate of $5 per semester-credit hour. Charges for administering and recording of nationally developed advanced standing examinations shall be at the rate established by the national testing agency for the particular test in question. No other charges shall be made for the administering or recording of extrainstitutional credit.

6) Approvals and Procedures. A student desiring to apply for advanced standing examinations should report to the Office of Admissions and Records, where eligibility will be determined and detailed instructions given. Approval must be granted by the Division Dean. The Division Dean will make arrangements with a professor for administration of the examination. Some examinations will be given only on designated dates established by the appropriate division in which credit is sought. Any division may establish a waiting period of up to six months for a student to take another advanced standing examination for a course for which he/she has failed an advanced standing examination.

NOTE: The Rose State College Extrainstitutional Credit Policy has been developed from criteria contained in the "Standards of Education Relating to Credit For Extrainstitutional Learning" statement as adopted and revised by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education on February 8, 1995.
Sec. 2-43. Courses for military service
(a) Credit for active duty. Upon completion of basic training, the student may have met the general education requirements for physical education.
(b) Evaluation. Official military transcripts such as CCAF (Air Force), AART (Army), and SMART (Navy and Marine) will be used when the experience is associated or related to the degree program.
(c) Final decision for credit. "A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experience in the Armed Services" is used to evaluate service schools, and recommendations are made by the Commission on Accreditation of Service Experience of the American Council on Education. However, Rose State College will make the final decision in granting such credit.

Sec. 2-44. United States Armed Forces Institute (DANTES) Courses
Reviews and decisions about the granting of academic credit for USAFI (DANTES) courses are the privileges of Rose State College. The Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records maintains Catalogs stating courses, their descriptions, and the recommendations for credit made by the Commission on Accreditation of Service Experiences of the American Council on Education.

Secs. 2-45 through 2-49. (Reserved for future use)

Sec. 2-50. Learning Resources Center
(a) Selection policy. The primary goal of the Learning Resources Center (LRC) is to support, through its collection of materials and its services, the philosophy and functions of the institution set forth by the Board of Regents of Rose State College. In its selection of materials, the LRC will uphold the principles of the American Library Association's Bill of Rights and the Freedom to Read Statement.
(b) Responsibility. The ultimate responsibility for the selection of materials lies with the Dean of the LRC. The librarians are responsible for review and purchase of materials on an ongoing basis. Materials will be chosen from a variety of selection tools. Requests and suggestions for consideration of materials from the faculty, staff, students, and community members are encouraged.
(c) General policy. Materials are selected primarily to support the curriculum of Rose State College; to support the informational, cultural, and recreational needs of the faculty, staff, and students; and to support the informational, cultural, and recreational needs of the community. Materials are selected for their quality, timeliness, and importance to the balance of the collection. The merit of a controversial item will be determined by consideration of the whole work, not of selected or random excerpts. Every attempt will be made to provide materials reflecting a variety of viewpoints.
(d) Children's collection. A collection of children's materials will be maintained to support the children's literature course of the Library Technical Assistant program and the Early Childhood Development program curricula. A comprehensive collection of children's materials will not be maintained, since this service is adequately provided within the community. Children's materials will be selected by the same criteria as other LRC materials: quality and timeliness.
(e) Periodicals. Periodicals are purchased to provide the most current information available in subject areas. The periodicals provide material not available elsewhere and supplement the book collection. Periodicals will be purchased for use as supplemental tools for the curriculum, as professional tools for book review and selection, and for general interest. Factors affecting the selection of periodicals will include relevance to the curriculum, quality, format, accessibility, and price.

(f) Microforms. The LRC acquires many materials in microform because of unavailability in other forms or reduced shelf requirements. Photocopy facilities are provided for microform materials.

(g) Audiovisual. Audiovisual materials are an additional means of collecting, storing, and transmitting information. The LRC chooses a variety of formats of audiovisual materials in order to meet different presentation needs. Audiovisual materials are selected using the same criteria as that used for book selection. Technical quality is also a consideration in the purchase of audiovisual materials.

(h) Gift policy of Learning Resources Center. Gift materials will be accepted by the Learning Resources Center with the following stipulations:

   (1) Delivered. They must be delivered to the dean's office.

   (2) Letters of acknowledgment. Letters of acknowledgement will be written for those leaving contact information.

   (3) Assumption of responsibility. The College will not appraise nor assume any responsibility for determining the value of material donations.

   (4) Lists of donated materials. The College will prepare lists of donated materials, if requested.

   (5) Records not maintained. The College will maintain copies of acknowledgement letters, if contact information is given.

   (6) Materials added. The College may or may not add gift materials to the collection. Gifts will be added under the same collection policy as for purchased materials, based on such factors as curriculum-related, currency, lasting-value, authority, and objectivity.

(i) Withdrawals. Material withdrawal sometimes becomes necessary. Withdrawals will be made using these criteria: worn out or damaged through use; no longer timely; no longer accurate; duplicate copies no longer in demand; and changing focus of the collection.

(j) Objections to materials. In the event that a member of the student body, faculty, or staff objects to material in the LRC, a form is available to request reconsideration of material. The form, completed and signed, will be reviewed by the Dean of the Learning Resources Center and the staff. All decisions of the LRC Dean or library staff are subject to appeal through normal administrative channels.

(k) Request for reconsideration of LRC material. Forms are available in the Learning Resources Center and the Mail Room.

Sec. 2-51. Recommendations for the purchase of materials

(a) Procedures. Materials may be recommended for purchase by following procedures outlined below:

   (1) Reviews. Procure competent review or judgment of value by one of the following methods:

   (A) Read review. Read a review in a journal or one of the reviewing medias.

   (B) Personal review. Make a personal review of the items.
(2) Anticipated use. Consider the anticipated use of the item and whether or not the expenditure is justified.

(3) Submission. Submit each request through the appropriate Division Dean to the LRC Dean. Request forms may be obtained in the Learning Resources Center. Be sure to supply sufficient bibliographic information for positive identification of the item being requested. Also indicate the location of an objective review of the item.

(4) Multiple copies. Multiple copies are ordered only for demonstrated need. It is recommended that the professor utilize reading lists with many selections rather than assigning the same title to the entire class.

(5) Office or personal materials. Materials intended solely for the office or private use should be purchased by the professor, personally.

(b) Purchase questions. If the LRC Dean questions the purchase of a particular title, the person recommending it should be able to justify his/her request.

Sec. 2-52. Use of materials - professors and other College personnel

(a) Circulation period. Professors are encouraged to return materials as soon as possible to make them available to others. The normal circulation period is twenty-one days. There is a one-semester maximum limit on faculty check-outs. At the end of each semester, all materials must be returned to the Learning Resources Center.

(b) Retention of materials beyond a semester is discouraged. Professors who need certain titles for permanent use are encouraged to purchase them for their personal libraries. When a student requests an item that is checked out to a professor, it is the duty of the professor to return that item to the Learning Resources Center within twenty-one days, unless there are extenuating circumstances.

(c) Noncirculating items. Periodicals and reference books do not circulate. Exceptions may be made when special need is demonstrated.

(d) Termination of employment. All Learning Resources Center (LRC) materials checked out to a professor must be returned to the LRC upon termination of employment at Rose State College. A professor is financially responsible for all LRC materials and must pay for their replacement upon loss.

(e) Interlibrary loan. Professors may request the LRC to obtain books and periodicals through interlibrary loan. It usually takes one to four weeks to secure the material.

(f) Beginning of privileges. Borrower privileges begin as soon as a professor or staff member has signed a letter accepting employment within the institution. A faculty/staff photo ID is required.

(g) End of borrower privileges. Borrower privileges end on the last day the professor or staff member is employed by the College; however, he/she may continue to borrow materials from the College Library if he/she qualifies as a courtesy borrower (see Section 2-55).

(a) Circulation period. Students and non-student area residents (see courtesy policy in Sec. 2-56) may check out books for twenty-one days.

(b) Student book limit. Only twelve books may be on loan to a student at any one time.

(c) Courtesy borrower book limit. Only five books may be on loan to a courtesy borrower at any one time.
(d) Noncirculating items. Reference books, audiovisual materials, and periodicals may not be checked out by students or courtesy borrowers.

(e) Reserve materials. Reserve materials are the exception to the twenty-one day circulation period. The circulation period for reserve materials varies and is set by the faculty or staff member who places the material on reserve.

(f) Beginning of privileges. Borrower privileges begin when a student enrolls and is issued a photo identification card.

(g) End of privileges. Borrower privileges end on the last day of the last semester in which a student is enrolled or on the date a student withdraws from college.

Sec. 2-54. Use of materials on reserve

(a) Reserve material location and circulation. Reserve materials are those items with a designated circulation period different from the normal twenty-one day period. Items are normally placed on reserve at the request of a professor who wishes to make the items more available to a particular group of students. The professor usually sets the length of the loan period and determines if a book should be limited to use only inside the LRC. All reserve materials are shelved behind the circulation desk on shelves designated for such items. They are arranged by professors' names.

(b) Placing material on reserve. Material may be placed on reserve by instructional staff at any time. However, all reserve material will have a common expiration date of August 10. Professors who wish their material to remain on reserve beyond that date must come to the LRC, review the material they have on reserve, and request an extension. Expired reserve materials belonging to instructional personnel will be returned to the professors when the materials are removed from the reserve collection. Expired reserve materials belonging to the LRC will be returned to their normal location within the LRC.

(c) Permanent reserve. Learning Resources Center personnel may at their discretion assign certain high-risk items a permanent "Reserve" status. Such action is intended only to protect the material, not to limit its use.

Sec. 2-55. Learning Resources Center borrower categories

(a) Student borrower cards. Student borrower cards will be issued to all Rose State College students, part-time as well as full-time.

(b) Special students. Student borrower cards will also be issued to special students participating in Senior Citizen, Community Service, American Institute of Banking, Management Training Center and other non-traditional programs sponsored by the College.

(c) Faculty/staff borrower cards. Faculty/staff borrower cards will be issued to all employees of the College, full-time and part-time. This does not include the personnel of agencies which perform contract work for the College. Personnel employed by contracting agencies may, however, qualify for borrower privileges under the courtesy card provision described below.

(d) Students when employees. In instances where employees of the College are also students here, student cards will be issued unless the employee is in a full-time or part-time regular position.

(e) Courtesy borrower cards. Courtesy borrower cards may, at the discretion of Learning Resources Center administration, be issued to individuals other than those mentioned above if: they are members of any branch of the United States Armed Forces, on active duty and stationed at Tinker Air Force Base; or, they are adults, residing on a permanent basis in the area bounded by Eastern, N.E. 63rd, Harrah Road and S.E. 134th.

(f) Proof of eligibility. Proof of eligibility for borrower privileges in each of the preceding categories will be as follows:

1. Student borrower -- Picture I.D. Card.
2. Special student borrower -- Picture I.D. Card and verification by the on-campus sponsor.
3. Faculty/staff borrower -- Picture I.D. Card
4. Courtesy borrower:
   - Military. Military I.D. Card
   - Non-Military. Picture I.D. or Social Security Card and proof of address.

Sec. 2-56. Learning Resources Center borrower responsibility

(a) Overdue notices. Two overdue notices will be sent: the first on the tenth day past due; and the second, which is actually a bill, on the thirtieth day past due. When the second notice is mailed, borrowing privileges are automatically blocked and, if the borrower is a student, a "hold" is placed on his/her academic records.

(b) Telephone notice. Patrons with overdue materials may be contacted by phone if there is a large number of books involved or if there appears to be some misunderstanding about policy.

(c) Responsibility for "holds" on records. The borrower will be responsible for clearing "holds" which have been placed on his/her records. Holds will be cleared when all overdue books have been returned.

(d) Return of overdue materials. Overdue materials may be returned at any time and records cleared when the borrower pays his/her fines. However, materials kept out for more than one year that are damaged, already replaced, or obsolete may not be accepted. In these exceptional instances, the Dean of the Learning Resources Center or the Librarian on duty may, at his/her discretion, charge the student or other patron the full value of the book plus a $10.00 fee. If full value is charged, the student or other patron may keep the book.

(e) Payment for lost material. When a student or other patron pays for a lost book or one which has been kept out for more than one year, a "deprocessing" fee of $10.00 will be added to the cost of the book. If a lost book which has been paid for is found and returned, the library will retain the deprocessing fee even though the price of the book may be refunded. No fines, however, will be charged.

Sec. 2-57. Confidentiality of Learning Resources Center records

The registration and circulation records of the Learning Resources Center at Rose State College are confidential. Registration records include any information the Learning Resources Center requires a patron to provide in order to become eligible to borrow materials. Circulation records include all information which identifies a patron as borrowing particular materials.

Except in accordance with proper judicial order, no person shall make known in any manner any information contained in such records. Nothing in this statement, however, shall prevent the use of such records by authorized personnel in performance of his or her routine duties.

Requests from law enforcement agencies for information described in this section should be referred to the Office of the President, Rose State College.

Sec. 2-58. (Reserved for future use)
Sec. 2-59. Copyright Policy

(1) Authorization. Employees of Rose State College are prohibited from copying copyrighted works unless the action is authorized by:
   (A) Specific exemptions in the copyright.
   (B) The principle of fair use.
   (C) The fair-use guidelines.
   (D) Licenses or written permission. Licenses or written permission from the copyright owner. Any other copying must be approved by the institution's Copyright Officer on a case-by-case basis.

(2) Performance authorization. Employees are also prohibited from "performing" copyrighted works unless the performance is authorized by:
   (A) Title 17, U.S. Code, Sect. 110 (1), (4) or (8).
   (B) Performance licenses.
   (C) Purchase order authorization.
   (D) Written permission from the copyright owner or the owner's agent.

(3) Copyright Officer. The President shall appoint a Copyright Officer who shall:
   (A) Implementation. Implement this copyright policy.
   (B) Campus Copyright Manual. Prepare and distribute a Campus Copyright Manual.
   (C) Training programs. Conduct training programs to assure that employees are aware of the copyright law.
   (D) Questions. Answer questions about the copyright law.
   (E) Records. Maintain appropriate records or see that records are maintained of permissions, agreements, and licenses.

   (G) Related duties. Perform other related duties, as needed.

(4) Liability for infringement. Employees who willfully disregard the Institution's Copyright Policy, or the specific provisions of the Campus "Copyright Manual," do so at their own risk and assume all liability, including the possibility of dismissal for persistent copyright infringements.
SECTION 3

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Note: For the Administrative Services Department, see Chapter II, Sections 1-59 et seq. of this Manual.

Sec. 3-1. Budget: source of funds

Funds to support the purchase of supplies, materials, equipment, and the other functions of the total Educational and General Budget are derived mainly from the following sources: State-Appropriated Income, Student Fees, Local Tax Levy Revenue, All Other Income, Gifts and Grants.

Sec. 3-2. Administrative Services' procedures regulations

Sec. 3-3. Purchasing procedure

(a) Proper approval of purchase requests. No College representative has the authority to make a commitment to purchase or pick up merchandise in the name of Rose State College without proper approval (this includes confirmation orders). "Proper approval" means a purchase order approved, issued, and numbered by Administrative Services (includes Purchasing Office).

(b) Requests for purchases. Requests for purchase of supplies, materials, and equipment must be initiated on the electronic Paperless Purchasing System form. The form should be completely filled out and adequately describe the desired item.

(c) Submission of purchase requests. All requests for purchase will be electronically submitted to the appropriate Budget Manager, Vice President, and the President (if required) for approval and then submitted to the Office (Purchasing Office). All requests will be reviewed in detail by the Purchasing Specialist and/or Accounting Representative/Buyer before the issuance of a purchase order. See also: "Rose State College Detail of Office Procedures" and "Rose State College Auxiliary Enterprises and Services Procedures Manual Guidelines."

(d) Issuance of purchase orders. The Office will issue purchase orders for items listed on properly approved requisitions. The amount of the purchase order will be charged to the appropriate budget. One copy of the purchase order will be sent to the vendor and to the RSC Receiving Office.

(e) Open purchase orders. Open Purchase Orders may be authorized at the discretion of the Executive Vice President/CFO. Open purchase orders shall include the names of persons authorized to pick up materials, supplies, and equipment. Authorized persons must be employees of the College. THE FOLLOWING PROCEDURES MUST BE FOLLOWED WHEN ITEMS ARE PICKED UP BY EMPLOYEES:
(1) Invoices, etc. An invoice, receipt, or similar document must be forwarded to the Office on the same day the item is picked up;

(2) Signature on document. The document must be signed by the person picking up the material and signed or received in the system by the Budget Manager; and,

(3) Purchase order number. The purchase order number must be on the document. Open purchase orders must also comply with paragraphs (a) through (c) above.

(f) Receiving Office. All supplies, equipment, and material (except for Food Service and the Bookstore) shall be received and verified through the Receiving Office located in the Physical Plant Building. Physical Plant personnel will deliver the merchandise to the proper budget manager who will sign the delivery ticket. When merchandise is received at locations other than the Physical Plant Building, shipping tickets, invoices, and/or other related documents must be forwarded to the Office on the same day that the merchandise is received and notification must be sent to the Physical Plant. The Physical Plant will make the receiving entry into the PeopleSoft system.

(g) "Urgent" purchase requests. Such purchase requests will be processed the same as regular requests for purchase except they will be given top priority. Paragraphs "f" and "u" should be followed for all urgent purchases.

(h) Returned materials. Material to be returned to a vendor must be processed by the Maintenance Receiving Clerk. A memo explaining the reason for the return must accompany the material.

(i) Cancellations. Any cancellation of an item or items from an outstanding purchase order must be approved by the Purchasing Specialist, Director of Finance, or the Executive Vice President/CFO. The amount of each cancellation will be added back to the responsible departmental budget.

(j) Increases. Any increase in cost that is 20 percent or $1,000 over the amount of the approved purchase order (excluding freight) must be approved by the Director of Finance or the Executive Vice President/CFO. The additional amount will be charged to the responsible department budget.

(k) Payment approval for goods and services received. After receipt of merchandise ordered, the department head will compare the merchandise received to the packing slip and electronic on-line purchase order in the receiving screen. If the quantity and quality of equipment/supplies received are acceptable, the department head will approve the purchase for payment in the electronic on-line receiving screen. The Accounts Payable clerk will compare the vendor's invoice quantities and unit prices to the on-line purchase order and approved receiving report. During the reconciliation process, the Accounts Payable clerk will make the necessary adjustments and/or corrections on the invoice and initial it, attesting to the correct amount due to the vendor. After determining the amount due, the Accounts Payable clerk prepares an on-line vendor payment claim. The Director of Finance/Treasurer of the Technical District or the Executive Vice President/CFO reviews the hard copy of the vendor's claim for E&G and Technical District accounts in accordance with policies and procedures and approves payment of the claim by signature. For 750 Fund (Agency Special Accounts) claims, the Director of Finance or the Executive Vice President/CFO reviews the file listing or handwritten check to vendors, in accordance with policies and procedures, and approves payment by signature.

(l) Authorized purchases. Rose State College is authorized to purchase all necessary supplies, materials, services, or equipment without advance presentation of purchase requisitions to the Board of Regents, subject to the policy established by the Board of Regents and applicable state law. The Executive Vice President/CFO will approve purchases equal to or in excess of $15,000. The President will approve purchases equal to or in excess of $50,000. The Board of Regents will approve purchases equal to or in excess of $75,000. (Rev. 08/15) Most bids can be used repeatedly for one year from the Board approval date. Bidding procedures for public construction contracts will be as set forth in the Public Competitive Bidding Act, 61 O.S. §102 et. seq. Bidding requirements will not apply to acquisitions such as food, food products, and textbooks, state contracts, purchases from other state agencies, or sole source items which are required to have a sole source vendor affidavit, or for architectural, engineering, legal, or other professional services, or maintenance agreements.

The purchase of alcoholic beverage and tobacco products are prohibited. Sole source purchases are permitted only after reasonable efforts have been made to identify all possible sources. When requests are submitted as a sole source, the supervisor of the requesting department and his/her Vice President are required to sign a sole-source affidavit and provide in writing the reasons justifying the purchase from a sole source. Approval for such purchases must be reviewed by the Executive Vice President/CFO. Purchases from Department of Central Services state contracts, contracts of other state institutions, and contracts of institutional consortiums should be used when they are advantageous to the institution. The total cost of all individual components of a project or service should be considered in determining whether bids should be solicited. Purchases are not to be split for the purpose of avoiding the competitive bidding requirement. Two or more purchase requests to the same vendor may be combined in the Purchasing Department. (74 O.S. §85.7.) Purchase orders may be increased 20 percent or $1,000, whichever is less.

The Purchasing Department will secure three quotes on items between $15,000 and $25,000; with the exception of state contracts, GSA contracts, bids, professional services, auxiliary items, architectural, engineering, purchases from other state agencies, utilities, sole source items which are required to have a sole source vendor affidavit attached, legal, or other professional services or maintenance agreements. Purchases that are approaching the quote limit ($15,000) may not be increased unless the services have commenced or the goods have been received. Auxiliary items such as textbooks, food service products, and merchandise for resale are exempt. If the items requiring quotes are too technical for the Purchasing Department to adequately describe or discuss, the requesting department may obtain the three quotes, and the Purchasing Department will verify the three quotes. Items may be purchased without obtaining quotes or bids if the acquisition cost is lower than the state contract and/or the GSA contract price. Unless otherwise provided for, contracts and acquisitions exceeding $25,000 must be competitively bid, except in cases of emergency as determined by the President. Such emergency orders shall be certified in writing by the President of the College and presented to the Board of Regents at their next regularly scheduled meeting. Contracts or acquisitions exceeding $25,000 must be competitively bid unless those contracts or acquisitions meet the exceptions previously stated about competitive quotes. The Board of Regents may establish policies and procedures more stringent than set forth herein.

(m) Minority preference. Rose State College will consider minority preference for all bids if so stated in writing by the vendor prior to the bid opening. The vendor must be certified as a minority vendor by the State Department of Central Services.

(n) Request for bid. A request for bid must be submitted by purchase request to the Purchasing Specialist two months before the anticipated order. Bids in excess of $25,000 will not normally be awarded until after the Regents' meeting following the bid opening. (Emergency purchases are excluded.)
(o) Protest of a bid. A protest of a bid must be made in written form to the Executive Vice President/CFO within five days of the awarding of the bid by the Rose State College Board of Regents. (This information will be so noted on all bids.)

(1) Protest. The Executive Vice President/CFO will present the protest to the President of the College.

(2) Protest decision. The President will render a written decision regarding the protest. The decision will be based upon procedures written in the College's "Policies and Procedures Manual," which is in concert with state statutes.

(3) Protests noted. The Rose State College Board of Regents will be notified of any protests.

(p) Procedures for Requesting Purchases from Club Accounts.

(1) Requests for purchases. Purchase requests must be submitted in writing to the Director, Student Engagement. These requests must contain the approval of the club treasurer or president and the club sponsor. The Director, Student Engagement will be responsible for entering the requests into the Paperless Purchasing System where normal approval will be obtained.

(2) Proper approvals. Funds must never be committed or items purchased until the proper approvals have been obtained and a purchase order issued. The purchase order must be submitted to the vendor, who may then release items, and invoice the club.

(3) Reimbursements. Only in unusual situations should an individual purchase an item and then request reimbursement. This procedure must be justified in writing as to the necessity of a reimbursement and approved prior to any purchases being made. Detailed receipts must be presented after the purchase is made. There will be no reimbursement made without the presentation of receipts for the items purchased.

(4) Payment for travel. When payment for travel or registration is requested, there is additional information needed by the Office. A Request for Travel Form must be completed with the proper authorizations (through the College President's office). Detailed brochures indicating meeting site, dates, fees, and the purpose of meeting must be presented. Any airline reservations must be made through the Executive Vice President/CFO. A copy of the club minutes approving the travel is required for records.

(5) Request for funds. All requests for funds must be presented to the Office in writing with the appropriate signatures (the club treasurer or president, the club sponsor, the Division Dean, and the appropriate Vice President).

(q) Agency special purchases. Auxiliary purchasing policy and procedures are in the "Rose State College Auxiliary Enterprises and Services Procedures Manual." Purchases for all other Agency Special accounts to include club accounts will follow the above procedures (Sec. 3-3, para. 1).

(r) Technical Area Education District. Purchases in the Technical Area District area will also adhere to the procedures given in Sec. 3-3. Purchase orders are not required for certificates of deposit.

(s) Computer Equipment Purchasing Policy. To ensure as much consistency and compatibility as possible in the acquisition of computer equipment, the request for purchase of any computer equipment will be reviewed and approved by the Vice President for Information Technology. The Vice President for Information Technology currently maintains a two-year plan for the acquisition of computer hardware and software. To allow for budget preparation, a statement of computing needs for the next fiscal year will be presented by each department to the Vice President for Information Technology through the appropriate Vice President in March of each year. Information Technology will then purchase, as budget allows, and provide maintenance for all computer equipment and software that has been requested by a department and approved by the appropriate Vice President. Equipment purchased by Information Technology cannot be altered (i.e., have more memory, discs, modems, etc.) by the receiving office without prior approval from the Vice President for Information Technology. If departments elect to purchase additional computer equipment from their own budgets, these requests for purchase must also be reviewed and approved by the Vice President for Information Technology. Information Technology will install and be responsible only for licensed software on equipment purchased by the College.

(t) Travel. Procedures regarding travel (in-state and out-of-state) are located in the "Rose State College Travel Guidelines Booklet."

(u) General fixed assets.

1. At the purchase request level, identify those items fitting the description of property, furniture, and equipment, as defined in the Office of State Finance Procedures Manual, and costing $500 and above, and properly code such qualifying items using the 54XXXXXX series of object codes. The only exception is library books, which will use the appropriate expenditure code of 54212000, regardless of cost.

2. Upon receipt, these qualifying items will be labeled as appropriate with a capital asset or inventory tag. Pertinent information is gathered for entering into the capital asset record. Qualifying items with a unit cost between $500 and $4,999.99 will be entered into Asset Management for tracking purposes only.

3. For financial reporting purposes, only those qualifying items stored in the Asset Management system that have a unit cost greater than $5,000 will be capitalized. Fully depreciated assets will be retired.

4. The Supervisor, Auxiliary Enterprises and Services is responsible for all equipment managed by Auxiliary Enterprises and Services (Food Services, Vending, and Game Room). An annual inventory of equipment is to be conducted in conjunction and coordination with the College’s Inventory Control Officer. All property disposed of by Auxiliary Enterprises and Services is to be handled in the same manner as property disposed of on the main campus.

5. The Inventory Control Officer (ICO), in conjunction and coordination with building managers, will conduct an annual inventory of all College capital assets. The building managers will assist the ICO in reconciling differences.

6. The Rose State College Property Movement Form will be utilized and properly approved prior to the movement of a piece of property. This form is available in the online RSC Forms Handbook. This form will be official notification to the ICO to make appropriate adjustments to Asset Management.

7. Any property salvaged or otherwise disposed will be so noted by an official memo from the originating department and accompanied by a Rose State College Property Disposal Form. Such memos will include the method of disposal and reason for the use of such a method, the circumstances involved, and any other pertinent information. The memo and form will be forwarded to the Director of Operations who in turn will forward them to the ICO.
Additionally, in the case of stolen property belonging to the College, Campus Police/Security will be notified. Any item valued in excess of $500 will be reported to appropriate authorities.

The completed Rose State College Property Disposal Form will be used as the source document for making appropriate entries to inventory through the Asset Management system. On all stolen, salvaged, or otherwise disposed property items a Rose State College Property Disposal Form will be executed with appropriate entries made to the inventory when the form is completed.

Sec. 3-4. Information on College publications
(a) Cost information. Every agency, department, board, commission, or institution of the State of Oklahoma shall list the following information at a prominent place near the beginning of each publication issued by them:
"This publication, printed by (name of printing firm), is issued by (here list the agency, department, board, commission or institution) as authorized by ____________________. ______ copies have been prepared and distributed at a cost of $________.

(b) Equal Employment Opportunity Statement. In addition to the cost information statement outlined in Sec. 3-4(a), publications will also contain an equal employment opportunity statement. This statement will be located immediately following the cost statement:
Rose State College, in compliance with Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, Executive Order 11246, as amended, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and other federal laws and regulations, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, age, national origin, religion, disability, sexual orientation, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to, admissions, employment, financial aid, and educational programs, activities, or services. Issues of noncompliance need to be referred to the Affirmative Action Officer, Administration Building, Room 104; telephone (405) 733-7979.

Sec. 3-5. College services
(a) The College provides the following various services for eligible College personnel and the community.
(1) Mail Room. An inter-institutional mail service for College personnel which is restricted to College. Off-campus or non-College literature is not to be placed in the mailboxes of College employees.
(2) Auxiliary Enterprises and Services. Auxiliary Services include support services of the College, including food services, Cyber Café Lab and Lounge, and vending. If appropriate, discounts may be applicable for departmental and institutional related services (i.e. bookstore).
(3) Rental of College facilities. The College has established rental rates for rooms in the Communications Center; the Tom Steed Center and University Center; the Student Center; the Learning Resources Center; the Atkinson Heritage Center; and the Professional Training and Education Center. Rates are reviewed each year and presented to the Rose State College Board of Regents for approval.
(4) Waiver of room rental charges. The President may waive established fees for rental of the Communications Center facilities by an organization when it is deemed by the President to be in the best interest of the College. Requests for waivers for the Communications Center are to be presented in writing to the President’s Office. Waiver requests for other College facilities should be submitted to the appropriate Vice President of the area overseeing the facility.

(5) Campus Police. Campus Police are available on campus.

(b) Learning Site Policy. In accordance with the Oklahoma Learning Site policies of the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, Rose State College will seek to discover any unmet educational needs within its service area and develop strategies to meet said needs. If the need cannot be met by the College, institutions of higher education within the State System will be given the first opportunity to respond, with priority given to those nearest the College. Out-of-state or in-state private colleges and universities will be asked to participate and be allowed teaching space on campus when they meet unique needs that would be prohibitively expensive to develop or beyond the expertise of the state higher education system.

Sec. 3-6. Rose State College Retirement Plan

(a) Prior retirement plan. The Rose State College Retirement Plan was frozen on June 30, 1986, with all benefits earned to that date frozen and payable at normal retirement age (62); other options in the plan remain viable, including the early retirement option. An increased benefit for late retirement (past age 62) is now available. An employee becomes eligible for this plan only upon completion of ten years of service at Rose State College, and no benefits will be accrued or accruable after June 30, 1986. The plan is administered by Lincoln National Insurance Company, and eligible employees will receive their retirement benefit directly from this company. (See Appendix 7 of the Fiscal Year 1995 "Policies and Procedures Manual," Fifteenth Revision, for details.)

(b) Annuity plan. The Board of Regents approved a plan to begin July 1, 1986, covering existing employees and new employees hired on or after July 1, 1986. This plan is based on employee and/or employer contributions into the tax-deferred annuity plan of the employee's choice. The combined employee and employer contribution may be as much as is allowable by the Internal Revenue Service. The College may supplement the employee's contribution on a percentage of salary basis, with the amount of College supplement to be reviewed and determined annually. If there is a need, Administration Regulations for 403(b) retirement program compliance and associated agreements and forms are available in the Administrative Services office.

(c) Retirement privileges. Regular full-time faculty and staff members who retire from Rose State College retain the following privileges: identification card, library access, H.B. Atkinson Theatre passes, athletic event passes, faculty/staff parking decal, and use of athletic facilities. Tuition waivers for retirees and/or their dependents are subject to available funding.

Sec. 3-7. Insurance

(a) Health. Health insurance is available on a pro-rata basis for all regular personnel employed 50 percent or more. The College will pay the employee’s health insurance premium equal to the Blue Cross Blue Shield High Option plan. Members of the families of the employees may be included in this group-medical program at the employee's expense.

(b) Dental. A dental insurance plan is available at College expense on a pro-rata basis for all regular personnel employed 50 percent or more of the time. (Example of pro-rata basis: 100 percent employee - College pays 100 percent of cost for individual; 50 percent employee - College pays 50 percent of cost for individual.) Members of the families of the employees may be included in the dental plan at the employee's expense.
(c) Vision. The College offers vision coverage at College expense on a pro-rata basis for all regular personnel employed 50 percent or more of the time. (Example of pro-rata basis: 100 percent employee - College pays 100 percent of cost for individual; 50 percent employee - College pays 50 percent of cost for individual.) Members of the families of the employees may be included in the vision plan at the employee's expense.

(d) Life. Life Insurance is available at College expense for all regular personnel employed 50 percent or more of the time in the amount equal to two times their annual salary, rounded to the nearest thousand-dollar figure. Double indemnity is provided for accidental death.

1. Amount of coverage. The amount of coverage will reduce to 65 percent upon the actively employed insured's attainment of age 65 and to 50 percent upon attainment of age 70.

2. Retirement coverage. Coverage will be allowed to continue at retiree’s expense. The amount of coverage available to the retiree will be 1 times the annual salary at the time of retirement up to a maximum of $200,000. Accidental Death and Dismemberment terminates upon retirement.

(e) Long-term disability insurance. Long-term disability insurance is provided at College expense for all regular personnel employed 50 percent or more of the time.

(f) Liability insurance. The College provides professional liability insurance on all its employees with no cost to the individual.

(g) Insurance forms. Insurance forms are available in the Payroll/Benefits Office.

(h) Continuation eligibility. Employees eligible for benefits during a contract period will be eligible for a continuation of benefits, except as specified by COBRA regulations, only after reappointment for a new contract period. Contact the Payroll/Benefits Office for details on COBRA.

(i) Continuation of insurance coverage. Employees may continue their insurance coverages, at their own expense, while on approved leave without pay. If they choose not to continue coverage, they will be treated as a new employee when they return to work.

NOTE: This section does not constitute a contract by the College to provide medical insurance or coverage of any kind. Each employee is responsible for ensuring that he or she or any dependents are properly enrolled in the desired program. It is also the responsibility of the employee to complete the necessary option form to maintain his/her enrollment in selected benefits. The annual option period is usually during the month of October. All insurance enrollment is subject to the insurability requirements of the company providing coverage. The College assumes no liability in the event coverage is denied for any reason.

Sec. 3-8. Unemployment compensation

The College is self-insured for the unemployment program which is administered by the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission. The program covers individuals who have established sufficient work credits for eligibility and who are unemployed or partially unemployed. Applications for unemployment compensation may be filed in any state employment office. See "Employee Benefits Summary" for details.

Sec. 3-9. Workers' Compensation

(a) Safety investigations and reports are conducted and written solely to prevent future mishaps. Privileged safety information resulting from a safety investigation will be used solely for mishap prevention and shall not be used when determining possible disciplinary action.
(b) Mishap defined. A mishap is an unplanned occurrence, or series of occurrences, that result in damage or injury as described in paragraph (b) (1).

(1) Damage or injury includes. Damage to Rose State College property; occupational illness to Rose State College employees; injury to Rose State College employees; damage to public or private property; or injury or illness to non-Rose State College personnel caused by Rose State College operations.

(c) Reporting Procedures. Immediately following a mishap that meets the criteria of paragraph (b) (1), the immediate supervisor of the employee shall report the incident to the Coordinator, Safety and Risk Management to ensure a prompt and thorough investigation can be accomplished. Additionally, an Accident/Incident Report, which can be found in the Forms Handbook, shall be filled out, signed, and turned in to the Office of the Coordinator, Safety and Risk Management, Student Center Building Room 128, within 24 hours of the occurrence of the mishap. The Coordinator, Safety and Risk Management will promptly distribute copies of the Accident/Incident Report to all relevant departments.

If the mishap does not necessitate immediate physician’s care but might require such care at a later date, an Accident/Incident Report should be sent to the Office of the Coordinator, Safety and Risk Management, Student Center Room 128. If a physician’s care is required at a later date, the individual or appropriate supervisor must then notify Human Resources and provide information for Worker’s Compensation or Risk Management.

(d) Workers’ Compensation. All college employees, including student and other temporary employees, are covered under Rose State College’s Workers’ Compensation program. Human Resources is the point of contact for all Workers’ Compensation claims which fall under the provisions of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration’s regulations and the Oklahoma Workers’ Compensation Act. Once notified that a workplace accident/incident has occurred, Human Resources will work in collaboration with the Coordinator, Safety and Risk Management.

(e) Return to Work Status. Following an employee’s work-related injury or illness, Human Resources must review the employee’s work restrictions before the employee can return to work. The employee’s treating physician will document any work restrictions or physical limitations on a return to work status report or fitness-for-duty certificate. Whenever an employee visits his/her physician for a work-related injury, either for an initial injury or for follow-up appointments, a return to work status report or fitness-for-duty certificate must be provided to Human Resources for review and consideration. Human Resources and the employee’s immediate supervisor will collaborate to determine if the employee’s restrictions can be accommodated. An employee must present a return to work status report or fitness-for-duty certificate to Human Resources prior to returning to work from a work-related injury/illness. The aforementioned documentation is to be provided to Human Resources at least two (2) working days prior to the employee’s intent to return to work.

(1) Accommodating Restrictions. The ability to provide reasonable accommodations is dependent upon the nature of the restrictions imposed by employee’s treating physician, the essential functions of position, and the physical demands of the position.

(2) Inability to Accommodate Restrictions. If an employee’s imposed restrictions are unable to be accommodated, the employee will not be permitted to return to work. An employee’s ability to return to work, with or without restrictions, will be re-evaluated after each follow-up visit with their treating physician.
Sec. 3-10. Annual leave

(a) Rate per month and accumulation. All full-time personnel who are employed on a ten to twelve-month basis receive annual leave at the rate of one and one-fourth days per month during the first two years of service, one and one-half days per month during the third through fifth years of service, and one and three-fourths days per month thereafter, or as otherwise approved by the President. The leave shall be cumulative to thirty-one and one-half days (252 hours). Annual leave accumulated in excess of 31.5 days will not be carried over to the next fiscal year. Please see (c) below for provision regarding accumulating in excess of 31.5 days. (Years of service is defined as continuous years of service.) All regular personnel employed less than 100 percent (but not less than 50 percent) on a 10 to 12-month basis receive annual leave on a pro-rata basis. Example of a pro-rata basis: employed 50 percent, 12-month basis, receive annual leave at the rate of five hours per month during the first two years of service, six hours per month during the third through fifth years of service, and seven hours per month thereafter, cumulative to fifteen and three-fourths days. (Years of service is defined as continuous years of service.)

(b) Leave approval. Usually, the annual leave may be taken in part or entirety when the employee chooses, subject to prior approval by the appropriate supervisor. However, at times the College administration may require employees to take annual leave in order to close the College for the period between Christmas and New Year's Day, for an emergency situation, or for other times when it is to the benefit of the entire institution. Leave taken without prior approval by the appropriate supervisor may be subject to leave without pay and may be cause for disciplinary procedure.

(c) Excess leave use. Employees may accumulate more than the maximum annual leave of 31.5 days, provided that such excess is used during the same fiscal year in which it accrues. Payments for annual leave exceeding 31.5 days shall not be made to the estates of employees or to employees who separate from the institution; such accumulations may be used for leave purposes only while the employee is continuously employed. The College President has final authority over scheduling annual leave for employees separating from the institution and is dependent upon budget availability. Exceptions to the “carry-over” of more than 31.5 days of annual leave to the next Fiscal Year are at the discretion/approval of the President and at the final approval of the College’s Board of Regents.

(d) Leave accrual. Employees who are on approved leave without pay, drawing Workers' Compensation benefits, or drawing disability pay will not accrue annual leave until they actively return to work.

(e) Payment for unused annual leave. An employee whose employment is ending due to resignation, retirement, or termination, must submit a written and signed request to the President in order to be paid for unused annual leave, not to exceed 31.5 days. The payment for unused annual leave is dependent upon budget availability. Exceptions to the maximum (i.e.: 31.5 days or 252 hours) is at the discretion/approval of the President and at the final approval of the College’s Board of Regents.

Sec. 3-11. Sick leave

(a) Rate and accumulation. All full-time personnel receive sick leave at the rate of one and one-fourth days per month based on a five-day work week cumulative to one hundred and twenty days for all eligible employees. All regular personnel employed less than 100 percent (but not less than 50 percent) on a 9-12 month basis receive sick leave on a pro-rata basis. (Example of pro-rata basis: employed 50 percent, 12-month basis, would receive 5 hours per month for 12 months; employed 60 percent, 9-month basis, would receive 6 hours per month for 9 months.)

(b) Use of sick leave. Sick leave is provided for use by the employee in the event of his/her illness, medical emergencies, and medical/dental appointments; however, sick leave may be utilized in the event of unusual circumstances and with prior approval by the President as specified in Sec. 3-14(c), p. II-3-11.

(c) Unused sick leave. Employees will not be compensated for unused sick leave upon resignation, retirement or termination from the institution. If the employee leaves the service of the College after having used more sick leave than has been earned, a deduction for such excess sick leave shall be made from his/her final salary.

(d) Availability of leave. Sick leave begins to accumulate from the first day the employee reports for work in each fiscal or school year and is available only when earned, or as otherwise approved by the President.

(e) Former employee. A former College employee who is reemployed within ten years of the date of the most recent resignation may receive credit for his/her unused cumulative sick leave from the previous term of employment at the College.

(f) Absence report filing. The absence report form will be filed when a person is absent from any assigned duties because of illness. A full day of sick leave will be charged when a full day's work assignment is missed due to illness. A statement from a physician may be required at the discretion of the Administration.

(g) Length of illness. In the case of brief illness, the faculty or staff member's work may be absorbed by other members of the faculty or staff. In case of extended illness, a substitute will need to be employed by the appropriate administrator. In this case, the staff member's regular pay would be continued for a period of time in keeping with his/her accrued sick leave time. Absences involving an employee’s extended illness (i.e.: 7-10 working days) must be reported to the Senior Director, Human Resources/AAO.

(h) Leave accrual. Employees who are on approved leave without pay, drawing Workers' Compensation benefits, or drawing disability pay will not accrue sick leave until they actively return to work.

Sec. 3-12. Leave without pay

(a) Leave without pay due to work-related illness or injury

1. Leave without pay requests. When a contracted employee (50 percent or more) is absent because of an illness or injury arising out of and sustained in the course of his or her employment with Rose State College and for which workers' compensation benefits have been filed, the College may place the employee on leave without pay for a period of time not to exceed 24 months. (See Sec. 3-15 for policy regarding leave without pay under the provisions of the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993.) (See Chapter II, Sec. 1-91 for policy regarding request for accommodation under the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act [P.L. 101-336].)

2. Insurance coverage, salary, benefits, and leave. An employee placed on leave without pay pursuant to the provisions of this section shall continue to receive insurance coverage previously paid by the College during the leave without pay. All salary, and other related benefits, including leave accruals, will be discontinued during the period of leave without pay.
(3) Right to return to position. An employee on leave without pay pursuant to the provisions of this section shall have the right to be returned to his or her original position or a comparable position at the College. The right of an employee on leave without pay to return to his/her original position or a comparable position shall expire 24 months from the date of the start of leave without pay.

(4) Medical statement. An employee on leave without pay pursuant to the provisions of this section shall provide to the Office of the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer a medical statement as to his or her ability to perform the duties of the position at least every three months.

(5) Compensation claim denial. If a workers' compensation claim based on such illness or injury is denied during the 12-month period, all benefits, rights, and obligations conferred upon an employee pursuant to this section shall cease and be discontinued immediately.

Sec. 3-13. Use of sick leave for retirement purposes

College employees who retire under the Oklahoma State Teachers’ Retirement Act are permitted to use up to 120 days of accumulated sick leave for retirement purposes.

Sec. 3-14. Discretionary leave for personal reasons

(a) Approval of leave. Upon prior approval of the appropriate administrator, 40 hours of discretionary leave per year are allowable without loss of pay. The 40 hours of leave do not accrue. Faculty are charged hour-for-hour on class assignments and posted office hours missed. Additional policies for such absences come under annual leave or family medical leave.

(b) Funeral services of College employees

(1) No leave would be charged when an immediate supervisor and/or area administrator(s) attend(s) funeral services for an employee in his/her area;

(2) discretionary or other appropriate leave must be recorded when College staff attend funeral services of a College employee.

(c) Unusual circumstance. In the event of unusual circumstance, the College President may, upon appropriate request and proper documentation, grant additional leave.

Sec. 3-15. Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA)

It is the policy of Rose State College (“RSC”) to comply fully with the requirements of the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, (the “Act”) as amended by Section 585 of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2008 (NDAA), Public Law 110-181. This Act requires that a covered employer provide up to twelve (12) workweeks of unpaid leave to eligible employees. Leave may be unpaid or paid based on the applicable leave policies of RSC. Eligible employees are those employees who: (1) have been employed for at least one year by RSC; (2) worked at least 1,250 hours during the previous twelve-month period; and (3) have requested leave for a reason covered by the Act.

(a) Qualifying reasons for leave. All eligible employees who meet the Act’s requirements may be granted a total of twelve (12) workweeks (i.e., sixty [60] work days) of paid or unpaid family leave, sick, vacation, and discretionary leave combined, during any year as defined in this policy, for the following reasons:

(1) Because of the birth of a son or daughter of the employee and in order to care for such son or daughter;
(2) Because of the placement of a son or daughter with the employee for adoption or foster care;
(3) In order to care for the spouse, child, or parent of the employee, if such spouse, child, or parent has a serious health condition;
(4) Because of a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform his or her job functions; or
(5) Because of any qualifying exigency arising out of the fact that the spouse, child, or parent of the employee is on active duty (or has been notified of an impending call or order to active duty) in the Armed Forces in support of a contingency operation.

(b) Servicemember family leave. An eligible employee who is the spouse, child, parent, or next of kin (i.e., the nearest blood relative of that individual) of a covered servicemember who is recovering from a serious illness or injury sustained in the line of duty on active duty is entitled to up to 26 weeks of leave in a single 12-month period to care for the servicemember. The leave described in this subsection shall only be available during a single 12-month period.

During the single 12-month period described in the above paragraph, an eligible employee shall be entitled to a combined total of 26 workweeks of leave under subsections (a) and (b). Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to limit the availability of leave under subsection (a) during any other 12-month period.

(c) Definitions. A more extensive list of terms and their meaning used in the Act is available through the U.S. Department of Labor website. For the purpose of this policy, the following terms have been defined.

The term “serious health condition” means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either in-patient care or continuing treatment by a healthcare provider. This term is intended to cover conditions or illnesses affecting health to the extent that in-patient care is required, or absences are required on a recurring basis or for more than just a few days. A “serious health condition” does not cover short-term conditions for which treatment and recovery are very brief. Such conditions would normally be covered by RSC’s sick leave policies.

The term “serious injury or illness,” in the case of a member of the Armed Forces, National Guard or Reserves, means an injury or illness incurred by the member in line of duty on active duty in the Armed Forces that may render the member medically unfit to perform the duties of the member’s office, grade, rank, or rating.

The term “year” shall mean a rolling 12-month period measured backward from the date an employee uses any leave.

(d) Availability of leave. In determining the availability of leave, RSC will consider the leave available to a person (whether paid or unpaid) by virtue of existing leave policies. The intent of RSC is to ensure each individual covered by the Act shall have the leave benefits available as a result of the law’s requirements. It is not the intent of RSC or this policy to provide leave benefits that exceed those authorized by existing law as supplemented by the Act. Thus, an eligible employee may elect to use any accrued paid vacation, discretionary, and sick leave for any part of the 12-week period. In the event the use of accrued leave results in less leave than is required by the Act, an eligible employee will be entitled to such additional unpaid leave as is necessary to result in the minimum leave specified in the Act for covered employees.

Also, an employee may elect a leave without pay status for any part of the 12-week period. If an employee elects a leave without pay status, he or she will not accrue annual or sick leave during the leave.
Where the employee’s spouse is also employed by RSC, the total number of workweeks of Act leave to which both spouses are entitled is limited to 12 workweeks during a year if such leave is for the birth of a child; or to care for a sick child or parent; or for placement for adoption; or foster care of a child.

Where a husband and wife are entitled to Servicemember Family leave and are both employed by RSC, the total number of workweeks of Act leave may be limited to 26 workweeks during the single 12-month period described in “Servicemember Family Leave” (subsection b) or a combination of leave under “Servicemember Family Leave” (subsection b) and “Qualifying Reasons for Leave” (subsection a).

(e) Application for leave. An “Application for Family or Medical Leave” can be obtained from the Human Resources Services office. An employee requesting leave must complete an application and state the reason for the leave, the duration of the leave (if known), and the starting and ending dates of the leave.

The application for leave is to be submitted to the employee’s immediate supervisor at least thirty (30) days before family or medical leave because of an expected birth or placement of a child, or because a planned medical treatment is to begin. If for reasons beyond the employee’s control the leave is to begin in less than thirty (30) days, an employee must give notice to his or her immediate supervisor as soon as is practicable, ordinarily within two to three working days of when the employee learns of the need for leave.

In the absence of an application for leave from an eligible employee, RSC may place an eligible employee on FMLA leave if the employee is absent for any of the reasons set forth above in the “Qualifying Reasons for Leave” and/or the “Servicemember Family Leave” subsections.

(f) Medical certification statement. A “Medical Certification Statement” must accompany an application for leave based on the serious health condition of the employee, the employee’s spouse, child or parent. Also, a “Medical Certification Statement” is required of the next of kin of an individual in the case the leave is taken under the provisions listed under “Servicemember Family Leave.” The statement must be completed by the applicable healthcare provider. It must state the date on which the health condition began, the estimated duration of the condition, and the relevant medical facts related to the condition. If the employee has a serious health condition, the certification must state that the employee cannot perform the functions of his or her position. In the event the employee is applying for leave to care for a spouse, child, parent or an individual who is eligible under the “Servicemember Family Leave” provision, the certification must state an estimate of the amount of time the employee will be needed. A “Medical Certification Statement” may be obtained from the Human Resources office.

Rose State College may require subsequent certifications to support FMLA leave but not more often than every thirty (30) days unless the employee: (1) requests an extension of leave; (2) circumstances described by the original certification have changed regarding the illness or injury; or (3) RSC receives information that casts doubt on the validity of an existing certification.

If the validity of the “Medical Certification Statement” is questioned, RSC reserves the right to require the employee to obtain a second medical opinion at RSC’s expense. If the medical opinions of the first and second healthcare provider differ, RSC may require a third opinion from a healthcare provider mutually agreed upon by RSC and the employee. The third opinion shall be final and binding.

If the employee has taken leave due to his or her serious health condition and when the employee is prepared to return to work, he or she must provide certification by his or her healthcare provider that the employee is able to resume work. If an employee intends to return to work before the expiration of family and medical leave, he or she must provide RSC with at least two working days’ notice of his or her intent to return and a doctor’s release to resume work.

(g) Intermittent leave or leave on a reduced leave schedule. An employee may request to use available leave intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule. Where leave is requested in connection with a serious health condition of the employee or his or her immediate family member, the request for leave must be supported with a medical certification statement from the healthcare provider that such leave is medically necessary and stating the expected duration and schedule of such leave. There must be a medical need for the leave and evidence that medical need can best be accommodated through an intermittent or reduced leave schedule. Any eligible employee seeking leave on an intermittent or reduced leave basis must obtain and complete a request for leave and must submit the medical certification required.

Intermittent or reduced leave may also be taken in connection with the birth or because of the placement for adoption or foster care of a child. However, intermittent leave or leave on a reduced leave schedule for this purpose may only be taken with the approval of the employee’s immediate supervisor, the appropriate Vice President, and the President.

Furthermore, leave qualifying under active duty or call to active duty (subsection (a) (5)) may be taken intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule. Rose State College may require that a request for leave under this subsection be supported by a certification issued at such time and in such a manner as the U.S. Department of Labor Secretary may by regulation prescribe. If the Secretary issues a regulation requiring such certification, the employee shall provide, in a timely manner, a copy of such certification to RSC.

When requesting intermittent or reduced schedule leave, an employee shall work with his/her supervisor to establish a work schedule that meets the employee’s needs without unduly disrupting RSC’s operations. Rose State College reserves the right to place the employee in an alternative position with equivalent pay and benefits to better accommodate an intermittent or reduced schedule leave.

(h) The effect of leave on benefits. During a period of family or medical leave, an employee will be retained on RSC’s healthcare benefits. Rose State College and the employee will continue to pay their customary portions of the monthly premium. In order to continue medical insurance coverage the employee must continue to make any contributions that he or she made to the plan before leave. Failure of the employee to pay his or her share of the premiums may result in loss of coverage. The Payroll/Benefits office will advise the employee of the payment due dates.

If the employee fails to return to work after the expiration of unpaid leave, the employee may be required to reimburse RSC for payment of health insurance premiums. The President may waive this requirement if the reason the employee fails to return is the presence of a serious health condition that prevents the employee from performing his or her job or to circumstances beyond the employee’s control.

The employee may not accrue any seniority or employment benefits (such as accrued annual or sick leave) that would have accrued if not for the taking of unpaid leave. If an employee elects to use any accrued paid vacation, discretionary and sick leave for any part of the twelve (12) week period, his or her leave accrual during leave will be determined under the policies set forth for the type of leave the employee has elected to have FMLA leave charged.

(i) Reinstatement to former position. An employee generally is entitled to be restored to an equivalent position and to equivalent conditions of employment. This may not be applicable to employees who are designated as “highly compensated employees.” Rose State College cannot guarantee that an employee will be returned to his or her original job. A determination as to whether a position is an “equivalent position” will be made by RSC. A highly compensated employee is one who is salaried and is “among the highest paid 10 percent” of the employees employed within 75 miles of the employee’s worksite. An employee who qualifies as a “highly compensated” employee may be denied restoration to employment if necessary to prevent substantial and grievous economic injury to the operations of RSC.

(j) Failure to return from leave. The failure of an employee to return to work upon the expiration of a family or medical leave of absence may subject the employee to immediate termination unless an extension is granted. An employee who requests an extension of family leave or medical leave due to the continuance, recurrence or onset of his or her own serious health condition; the serious health condition of the employee’s spouse, child, or parent; or the individual concerning whom the leave was taken under the provisions listed under “Servicemember Family Leave,” must submit a written request for extension to the employee’s immediate supervisor with a copy to the President’s office. This written request should be made as soon as the employee realizes that he or she will not be able to return at the expiration of the leave period.

Rose State College intends to remain faithful to the requirements of the FMLA. Questions regarding the interpretation, administration, and application of the Act to eligible employees shall be resolved by reliance on the mandatory obligations created by the FMLA and its interpretive regulations. Where relevant, RSC will consider its own policies, procedures, and practices.

Sec. 3-16. Jury duty and required court appearance

(a) Jury duty. When a regular employee of the College is summoned to jury service or as a witness in city, state, or federal courts, leave with pay may be granted. A copy of the summons to report for jury service shall be given to the immediate supervisor and forwarded to the Payroll/Benefits office. Written verification of actual jury service must be provided by the employee. Payment for jury duty will be retained by the individual serving on jury duty.

(b) Required court appearance. No deduction in salary will be made if an employee must appear in court when subpoenaed as a witness. This privilege does not normally apply to court cases involving an employee's personal legal matters.

Sec. 3-17. Professional leave

Requests for professional leave of College employees to attend conferences, committee meetings, and other professional activities should be submitted in writing through the proper administrative channels for approval. Professional leave for in-state activities will be approved by the appropriate Vice President’s office before forwarding to the Administrative Services office. Out-of-state activities will be approved by the appropriate Vice President and approved by the President before forwarding to the Administrative Services office. When an employee is absent with such administrative approval, no deduction in salary will be made. A faculty member's classroom responsibility shall be absorbed by other members of the faculty.

Sec. 3-18. Personnel absences to be reported

Personnel will report at the earliest possible time to the appropriate Division Dean or other immediate supervisor, if they are to be absent from duties.

Sec. 3-19. Military absence
The College recognizes and operates under the state and federal laws governing military leave, including 72 O.S. 1981, Section 48, "Leave of absence during active service," and 44§, 1981, Section 209, "Leave of absence to public officers and employees."

Sec. 3-20 Nonsabbatical leave

After a member of the staff has been in the service of the College for five years, leave without pay may be approved for a period of one year to do further graduate study if it seems in the best interest of the College. Requests should be submitted through proper administrative channels to the President.

Sec. 3-21. Holiday policy

Rose State College ("RSC") generally recognizes the following holidays:
- New Year’s Day
- Martin Luther King Day
- Spring Break Week
- Memorial Day
- Independence Day
- Labor Day
- Wednesday prior to Thanksgiving Day, Thanksgiving Day and the following Friday
- Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, and New Year’s Day. Additionally, five working days will be scheduled each year around these holidays.

When a holiday falls on Saturday or Sunday, the President may designate the preceding Friday or the following Monday as the RSC holiday.

Sec. 3-22. Pay Periods

(a) Pay distribution. The College, operating under the laws of the state of Oklahoma and the Rules and Regulations of the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, will process payroll claims and have checks ready for distribution on the last working day of each calendar month.

(b) Adjunct and overload pay. Actual date of pay varies by semester and will be announced.

(c) Payroll change requests. All payroll changes, additions, and deletions (including fringe benefits) must be submitted in writing to the Payroll Office before those changes will become effective.

Sec. 3-23. Continuing education for College personnel and dependents

(a) Credit courses. Rose State College will pay 100 percent of the tuition for up to six credit hours per regular semester and six credit hours per summer semester for regular Rose State College employees (employed 50 percent or more). Rose State College tuition waivers will be available for two dependents of each Rose State College regular employee for up to twelve credit hours per regular semester and nine credit hours per summer semester. The fee waiver can be renewed for a student in good standing. The waiver does not cover repeated enrollments in the same courses except for HPER.

(b) Non-credit courses and seminars. Many non-credit classes, workshops and seminars at Rose State College may be taken for a discount up to one-half the normal enrollment fee with appropriate administrative approval. This applies to regular contracted employees, 50 percent or more, but does not include non-credit programs for dependents. Form B-4 in the online Forms Handbook should be completed prior to enrollment. For a list of courses in which a discount applies, please contact the office of Workforce and Community Development.

(c) Fees. The benefit does not apply to student facility, student activity, or other special fees. Employees and/or dependents are responsible for paying these fees in accordance with the payment schedule printed in the Rose State College Student Handbook and semester schedule books.

(d) Guidelines. All employees of the College are encouraged to improve themselves both as persons and in their ability to perform their assignments by continuing their education. A course of study and/or training that is being pursued by regular personnel of this College must be handled in such a manner that it will in no way affect the person's responsibilities as they pertain to the effective operation of the College. The following guidelines should be observed:

   1. Normal working hours. Employees who are continuing their education should do so before or after the normal working hours that are assigned and with approval of the proper administrator.

   2. Recommended credit hours or equivalent. It is suggested that enrollment be held to six credit hours per semester. This credit hour load should not be too burdensome nor conflict with the regular assignment.

   3. Course selection. Course selection is obviously at the discretion of the individual; however, prior consultation with the immediate supervisor is necessary if such course work is to be considered for salary increments.

(e) Mandatory training. To meet legal requirements and to improve working conditions, certain training can be required of all College employees. Such topics could include health, safety, avoidance of harassment, and other timely issues as determined by the President in conjunction with supervisors.

Sec. 3-23.1. Continuing education for adjunct professors

(a) Credit courses. As current fiscal year budget permits, Rose State College will pay 100 percent of the general Rose State College enrollment fee for up to three credit hours per regular semester and three credit hours per summer term for Rose State College adjunct professors who are assigned at least three equated credit hours for instruction in that semester or summer term and who have instructed in at least two previous semesters or summer terms at Rose State College.

(b) Non-credit courses, workshops and seminars. Many non-credit classes, workshops and seminars at Rose State College may be taken for a discount up to one-half the normal enrollment fee with appropriate administrative approval. This applies to adjunct professors and half-time employees, but does not include non-credit programs for dependents. Form B-4 in the online Forms Handbook should be completed prior to enrollment. For a list of courses in which a discount applies, please contact the office of Workforce and Community Development.

Sec. 3-24. Compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA)

(a) Classification of employees and rights and responsibilities involving nonexempt employees. It is the policy of Rose State College to ensure compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) provisions concerning the payment of overtime at the established rate to eligible employees. Consistent with that obligation this policy discusses the proper classification of employees as exempt or nonexempt employees and also addresses the rights and responsibilities of the College and nonexempt employees in areas related to the authorization necessary for overtime work and related recordkeeping requirements. The purpose of the policy is to ensure that the College correctly identifies those individuals entitled to overtime and ensures that nonexempt employees required to work overtime as a condition of their employment receive either monetary compensation or compensatory time for approved overtime. The College’s construction and interpretation of this policy shall be consistent with FLSA’s mandatory provisions.

(1) Rose State College’s overtime obligations. The FLSA does not limit the number of hours that an employee may work, either daily or weekly. It requires that overtime compensation be paid on time accrued at a rate of not less than one and one-half times the nonexempt employee’s regular rate of pay for each hour worked in a work week in excess of the maximum hours applicable to the type of employment in which the employee is engaged. For Rose State College employees, this means overtime for hours in excess of 40 per week for nonexempt employees.

While overtime must be calculated on a work week basis, there is no requirement in the FLSA that the overtime compensation be paid weekly. As a general rule, overtime earned in a particular work week should be paid where possible on the regular payday for the period in which such work weekends. When the correct amount of overtime compensation cannot be determined until later, the College will pay it as soon after the regular pay period as practicable. Payment shall not be delayed beyond the next payday. In those cases where an employee elects or the College enforces compensatory time, the use of accrued time is controlled by the College’s Compensatory Time for Overtime Policy.

(A) Employee classification for purposes of FLSA. It is the College’s intent to adhere to the requirements of FLSA with regard to the classification of employees and with respect to the payment of overtime wages to eligible employees.

(B) Exempt employees. In accordance with the FLSA, exempt employees do not receive overtime. Exempt employees include executive, administrative, professional, and/or computer personnel. An exemption is determined for the respective categories based upon application of either the new salary test or the single standard duties test as described in 29 CFR §541.100 through §541.400-402.

The College employs a variety of employees. The determination of an employee’s proper classification requires evaluation of specific duties and criteria; however, the following provides guidance regarding how employees are generally classified for purposes of overtime compensation.

(C) Nonexempt employees. Nonexempt employees are entitled to overtime for all hours worked in excess of 40 in a work week. Overtime compensation is paid at a rate of not less than one and one-half times the nonexempt employee’s regular rate of pay for each hour worked in a work week in excess of 40 hours per week.

(D) Authorization required for overtime. Employees are not permitted to work overtime without the prior written authorization of the employee’s supervisor or the Vice President. An employee who works overtime without authorization will be subject to discipline up to and including the possibility of termination. If for any reason the employee is unable to obtain approval of overtime prior to working overtime, he/she is required to immediately bring overtime work to the attention of his/her supervisor.

Supervisors are required to strictly enforce the College’s prohibition of unauthorized overtime. To this end, a supervisor must not allow an employee to work overtime if the supervisor knows or reasonably suspects that the employee is working in excess of those hours authorized. A supervisor who fails to take reasonable action to enforce the College’s policy will be subject to discipline up to and including possible termination of employment.

(E) Use of time clocks or other time records. Employees will be assigned a method for keeping track of work hours. Each employee is responsible for the complete and accurate reporting of his/her time and must verify that the time reported is truthful to the best of the employee’s knowledge.

Employees assigned a time clock must not clock in more than seven (7) minutes prior to the beginning of the employee’s work schedule or more than seven (7) minutes after the end of the schedule. An employee who does not have prior written permission and who is found to have clocked in more than seven (7) minutes before his/her schedule, or clocked out more than seven (7) minutes after his/her schedule will be in violation of the provisions of this policy. An employee who has questions regarding whether the employee should be on the time clock should immediately contact his/her supervisor for assistance.

An employee utilizing an alternate method of time keeping is, likewise, required to ensure that the times listed by the employee are complete and accurate and recorded to the best of the employee’s knowledge and is subject to the same requirements and penalties as an employee utilizing a time clock.

An employee identifying an erroneous entry on his/her time card or record should immediately bring the error or mistaken entry to the attention of his/her supervisor and both should insert and initial the correct entry or information on the time record.

All hours reported will be in increments of 15-minute segments. Therefore, employees who clock in more than eight (8) minutes late will be docked ¼ hour. Employees who are eight (8) minutes early will be paid overtime only if the early report to work is approved by the employee’s supervisor. Voluntary overtime is strictly prohibited.

Questions concerning any part of the policy should be directed to the employee’s supervisor or the area’s Vice President.

If at any time an employee believes that he/she is incorrectly classified for purposes of FLSA or is entitled to additional compensation under federal or state law, he/she should immediately notify the area’s Vice President in writing, setting out the basis for the employee’s complaint of misclassification or incorrect compensation.

(b) Compensatory time for overtime policy. The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) extends flexibility to colleges in adopting arrangements that provide compensatory time off in lieu of monetary overtime compensation. Accordingly, Rose State College will provide, within reasonable limits, compensatory time off. The calculation used to determine the amount of compensatory time available to a nonexempt employee is one and one-half hours of compensatory time for each hour of overtime worked. Compensatory time received by an eligible employee extinguishes the employee’s entitlement to monetary overtime compensation. Compensatory time off is subject to all of the conditions provided in this policy and the College’s other policies concerning FLSA. The College’s President or area’s Vice President shall, at all times, retain the authority to make the final decision as whether to permit an employee to accumulate and use compensatory time or to pay the employee for overtime worked. However, the standard of time and one-half for overtime hours worked shall apply in either instance. The College’s policy and procedures concerning compensatory time are detailed below.

1. Prior approval of overtime required. Overtime will not be allowed to any nonexempt employee unless prior written approval has been given by the employee’s supervisor or their designee. Nonexempt employees working in excess of forty (40) hours per work week without prior written approval may be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including the possibility of dismissal.

2. Calculation of compensatory time. If a nonexempt employee is properly assigned to work more than forty (40) hours in a work week, the College may provide compensatory time (“comp time”) off in lieu of monetary overtime compensation at a rate of not less than one and one-half (1 ½) hours of compensatory time for each hour of overtime worked.

   It shall be the responsibility of the employee and the employee’s supervisor to maintain accurate records of all comp time accrued. On a weekly basis, each supervisor shall record any time worked by nonexempt employees under his/her supervision that has been in excess of the established 40-hour work week. The record shall clearly state the employee’s name, the amount of time worked, and the date the work was performed. Both the employee and the employee’s immediate supervisor shall sign and date the record as an indication of their agreement as to the time worked.

   Nonexempt employees may elect whether to receive overtime as compensatory time or paid overtime. The election must be made at the time the overtime is recorded. The employee’s election is subject to the approval of his/her supervisor.

3. Scheduling use of compensatory time. Any nonexempt employee who has accrued comp time and who requests the use of the comp time shall be permitted to use the comp time within a reasonable period, after making the request, as long as the use of the comp time has received prior approval from the employee’s supervisor and does not unduly disrupt the operation of the College. Supervisors are encouraged to limit the accumulation of comp time to eight (8) hours per pay period, but special circumstances may justify greater accumulation. All requests to use comp time must be in writing. If the request is denied, then the employee and supervisor are to arrange an alternate date for the comp time to be used. If no agreement can be reached, then a meeting will be conducted with the area’s Vice President to schedule a date for the comp time to be taken. The College, at its sole option, may require an employee to use accrued comp time at certain times.

4. Maximum accrual of time. Employees may accrue up to 240 hours of comp time. (Because comp time is accumulated at time and one-half, this is 160 hours of actual overtime worked.) Employees who work in a public safety activity, emergency response activity, or seasonal activity may accumulate up to 480 hours of comp time (320 actual overtime hours.)

5. When hours are not considered work hours. Time periods in excess of twenty (20) minutes during which the employee is not actually performing job duties will not be included as hours worked if the time can effectively be used for the employee’s own purpose.

6. Volunteer work. Nonexempt employees are typically not allowed to do volunteer work for the College. Although the College appreciates the occasional willingness of nonexempt personnel to volunteer their time, FLSA regulations create an unacceptable risk of overtime liability when nonexempt personnel volunteer to perform services for the College or volunteer to work longer hours without compensation. An exception to the volunteer prohibition is only if the employee’s volunteer activities or services are unrelated to the employee’s compensated duties with the College. Unpaid interns or volunteers must complete a Non-Compensated Volunteer Form (ADM 29) prior to beginning their volunteer service with the College. The Non-Compensated Volunteer Form (ADM 29) may be obtained on the College’s on-line Forms Handbook or by contacting Human Resources at (405) 733-7979.

(7) Payment for comp time upon end of employment. Any nonexempt employee whose employment with the College terminates and who has accrued but not used comp time shall be paid at his/her regular hourly or salary rate in effect at the time the employee received the payment. The College reserves the right, at any time, to substitute a cash payment, in whole or in part, for comp time.

(8) Notice of policy to nonexempt employees. A copy of this policy will be provided to all of the College’s nonexempt employees along with a compensatory time agreement which employees will sign and which the employee’s supervisor will sign. The agreement, unless withdrawn by the College, will remain in effect while the employee works for the College. This compensatory time off policy shall be considered as a condition for employment for all nonexempt employees of the College. Unpaid interns or volunteers must complete a Non-Compensated Volunteer Form (ADM 29) prior to beginning their volunteer service with the College. The Non-Compensated Volunteer Form (ADM 29) may be obtained on the College’s on-line Forms Handbook or by contacting Human Resources at (405) 733-7979.

(c) Establishment of the work week. The work week shall begin at 12:00 a.m. Sunday and end at 11:59 p.m. Saturday.

(d) Establishment of work schedule for nonexempt employees. The employee’s work schedule is established and authorized by the position’s supervisor and area’s Vice President and developed to ensure the College’s internal and external customers receive the highest level of customer service. Work weeks are normally Monday through Friday with a designated eight (8) hour work day. It is standard practice that each work day is scheduled with a one (1) hour lunch and two (2) breaks of 15 minutes each. Breaks are scheduled so that one break will occur within the first four hours of the work day and the second will occur within the last four hours of the work day. Exceptions to the College’s standard practice must receive prior approval and authorization from the position’s supervisor and the area’s Vice President.

(e) Establishment of the work week for exempt employees. The work week for full-time professors is a minimum of 30 hours per week (to include office hours) and for professional/administrative staff a minimum of 40 hours per week. With the approval of his/her supervisor, the exempt employee’s work schedule and one-hour lunch period will be established to ensure the needs of the institution and its patrons are met. Work time by exempt employees beyond the minimum hours per week for their regular assignment is not compensated. Overload teaching by professors and professional/administrative staff is compensated at the overload teaching rate.

Sec. 3-25. Professional services

Recommendations for hiring of consultants or other professional services are to be submitted through the proper administrative channels (to include Human Resources) and should include a statement of purpose, date and length of service, amount of pay, travel expense, and evaluation and statement of the performance rendered by the supervisor in charge. Different procedures are necessary for state employees, Rose State College employees, and others. A purchase order must be processed for all non-College or non-state employees, as well as a form BA-2, “Request for Payment of Professional Services.” Professional services for College and state employees will not need to be encumbered, but the BA-2 form will need to be completed prior to the service.

Sec. 3-26. Tuition and fees

Tuition and other fees are charged according to guidelines established by the Oklahoma Legislature, recommended by the Rose State College Board of Regents, and as approved by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education. For specific fees see the Rose State College Catalog and the current class schedule. Tuition, resident, nonresident, and other fees are subject to change without notice.

Sec. 3-27. Payment of tuition and fees

Students should make payment to the Office by the deadline date to avoid penalties. TUITION AND FEES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE. In the event the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education assess a fee change, students will be assessed accordingly. A late penalty of $20 will be assessed against student accounts per month after the 4th week of a 16-week session or 2nd week of an 8-week or 4-week session, with a maximum of $60 per term.

(1) Payment of fees by mail. To avoid the lines during the last few days to pay, students are encouraged to PAY BY MAIL at the earliest possible date. All payments by mail (including telephone enrollment billings) must be received in the Cashier's Office by the deadline date to avoid penalties. All checks and money orders should include the student's name and Student ID number for proper credit.

(2) Payment of fees in person. Students are also encouraged to come in as early as possible when paying in person. Students paying in person may pay by cash; check; money order; and MasterCard, VISA, or Discover credit cards. EXCEPT: Checks are not accepted for payment of prior debts or from a person who has written a bad check to the College. Accounts not paid will be sent to collection 30 days from the last day of the semester.

(3) Important fee information. Students who register in classes and decide not to attend must cancel registration immediately to release space for other students who are registering. If the student cancels before the first day of classes, there is no charge. Students who do not withdraw by the deadline will be charged 100 percent of tuition and other fees due to the College. Students who withdraw from the school after classes have begun will be refunded fees according to the refund policy which appears below. If it is the desire of students to CANCEL any or all of their classes, a WITHDRAWAL form must be completed.

(4) Class attendance policy. The student is responsible for class attendance after completion of registration. The student must cancel registration with the Office of Admissions and Records before the first day of classes in order not to be charged 100 percent of tuition and fees.

(5) Fee refund policy. The refund policy with respect to tuition and other fees collected from students at institutions shall be as follows:

(A) Changes in schedules during the defined add/drop period will result in full charges for courses added and full credit for courses dropped. No refunds will be made after the add/drop period for that session except as stipulated for first-time enrollment of Title IV recipients.
Federal law now specifies how a school must determine the amount of federal financial aid that a student earns if s/he withdraws, drops out, is dismissed, or takes a leave of absence prior to completing more than 60 percent of a payment period.

The amount of federal financial aid assistance that the student earns is determined on a pro-rata basis. Once the student has completed more than 60 percent of the payment period, all financial aid assistance is considered to be earned.

Percent earned is calculated by number of calendar days completed up to the withdrawal date divided by total calendar days in the payment period-excluding any scheduled breaks that are at least five days long.

Percent unearned is 100 percent minus percent earned.

When a student receives federal financial aid in excess of earned aid, the school returns the lesser of:

(i) Institutional charges (tuition, fees, and book charges) multiplied by the unearned percentage, or
(ii) Title IV federal financial aid disbursed multiplied by the unearned percentage;

the student returns:

(i) Any remaining unearned aid from the funds that s/he received as financial aid disbursements.

(I) Any loan funds are repaid in accordance with the terms of the promissory note, that is, scheduled payments to the holder of the loan over a period of time;

(II) Any grant amount the student has to return is a grant overpayment, and arrangements must be made with the school or U.S. Department of Education to return the funds.

The student is billed for funds the College is required to repay. Federal law requires that the calculation assume that federal aid was used first to pay for educational costs. Consequently, a student may owe a payment to the College for educational costs—even if the student received a tuition waiver or other scholarship or assistance. The Office invoices the student, and accounts not paid within 90 days are turned over to a collection agency.

*Funds must be repaid in the following order: Unsubsidized Direct Stafford loans (other than PLUS loans); Subsidized Direct Stafford loans; Federal Perkins loans; Federal PLUS loans; Direct PLUS loans, Federal Pell Grants for which a return of funds is required; Academic Competition Grants for which a return of funds is required; National SMART Grants for which a return of funds is required; Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG) for which a return of funds is required; Federal TEACH Grants for which a return is required; and Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant for which a return is required.

Withdrawal date is defined as the actual date the student begins the institution's withdrawal process, the student's last date of academically-related activity, or the midpoint of the payment period for a student who leaves without notifying the institution.
(G) Add/drop refund period. Changes of schedule may be made during the first two weeks of a regular semester/term and the first week of an eight-week or a summer term without charge.

(H) Nonattendance. Refunds will not be issued for nonattendance.

(I) Official withdrawal. Students must officially withdraw before a refund, if due, will be made.

(J) Processing. Processing of refunds may require as long as 45 days.

(K) Reduction of refunds. Refunds are reduced by any amount owed to the College by the Student. All financial obligations to Rose State College must be paid in full before refunds.

Sec. 3-28. Student activity fee

Payment of the student fees at the time of registration carries with it privileges including entitlement to selected College publications, admission to College events, including athletic costs, drama and other instructional related programs and activities.

Sec. 3-29. Motor vehicle regulations

The following regulations apply to all motor vehicles including, but not limited to, automobiles, trucks, motorcycles, motor bikes, and motor scooters:

1. Regulations. These parking and traffic regulations are in effect at all times, day and night, including holidays.

2. Motor vehicle laws. The motor vehicle laws of the State of Oklahoma are in effect on the campus and other Rose State College property.

3. Registration by nonresidents of Oklahoma. Any student certified as a full-time equivalent student by an institution of higher learning in this state and being a nonresident of Oklahoma, presently attending any institution of higher learning, shall not be required to purchase an Oklahoma automobile or motorcycle license plate, provided that the state, federal district, territory or possession of the United States of which the student is a resident affords a similar exemption to Oklahoma students attending institutions of higher learning in such state, federal district, territory or possession of the United States. This exception for nonresident students does not apply when such student registers to vote as a resident in Oklahoma. Title 47, Section 22.12 (B) of the Oklahoma Statutes.

4. Other motor vehicle laws. Faculty, staff, students, and visitors on the campus are expected to know and comply with the State Motor Vehicle laws, the traffic ordinances of Midwest City, and the Traffic and Parking Regulations of Rose State College.

5. Pedestrians. Pedestrians shall be given the right-of-way at all crosswalks.

6. Campus drives. The maximum speed limit on all campus drives and roads is 25 miles per hour.

7. Parking lots. The maximum speed limit in the parking lots is 10 miles per hour.

8. Other motor vehicles. Motorcycles, motor scooters, and motor bikes must obey these and all motor vehicle regulations. They must not be driven on campus grounds or walks.

9. Bicycles. Wherever bicycles are used on campus walks, they must at all times yield the right-of-way to pedestrians.

10. College's responsibility. The College assumes no responsibility for the protection of vehicles or property left in vehicles.
Sec. 3-30. Identification of motor vehicles
(a) Registration of motor vehicles. Faculty, staff, and students who own or have motor vehicles in their possession at Rose State College during all or part of the academic year shall register for a parking permit.
(b) Parking permit placement. Parking permits are to be hung on the rear view mirror of vehicle with the Rose State College logo facing the front windshield.

Sec. 3-31. Parking regulations and designations
(a) Parking stalls. All vehicles parking on campus must be parked within stall markers; no parking in fire lanes, flag plazas, or other areas designated as no parking.
(b) Parking violations. Motor vehicles parked in violation are subject to removal, wheel locking, towing costs, and violation penalty.
(c) Responsibility. A student, faculty member, or staff member is responsible for any vehicle bearing a sticker issued to him/her.

   (1) Students (except disabled): white stripes
   (2) Faculty and staff: yellow stripes and designated "Reserved"
   (3) Disabled: blue stripes, designated as "Disabled"
   (4) Students, faculty, or staff with motorcycles: white or yellow stripes designated "Motorcycles"
   (5) No parking in fire lanes, designated by red.

Sec. 3-32. Parking violation fines

   (1) Failure to display hanging parking permit ................................................. $15.00
   (2) Falsification of registration information .................................................. $15.00
   (3) Parking violation in faculty staff stall ................................................... $15.00

   (7) Unauthorized parking in Disabled Parking ............................................. $50.00
   (8) Reckless driving/speeding ....................................................................... $35.00
   (9) Parking violation in visitor stall .............................................................. $15.00
   (10) All other parking violations .................................................................. $15.00

(b) Suspension of privileges. Four violation tickets per student may result in suspension of parking and driving privileges on campus for the remainder of the academic year.
(c) Suspension or dismissal. Five or more violation tickets may result in suspension or dismissal from College.
(d) Academic records. Student's academic records will be withheld until all fines are paid.

Sec. 3-33. Procedures for appeal

(c) Faculty/Staff appeals. Faculty and Staff appeals shall be given to the Faculty-Staff Traffic Committee at the Office of the Director, Student Engagement.

Sec. 3-35. Accident/Incident Report

(a) Notification. In the event an employee, student, or visitor of the College has an accident on the campus or on a school-sponsored trip, including travel to and from work or off campus but on College, which necessitates a physician’s care, the Senior Director, Human Resources/AAO and the Coordinator of Safety and Risk Management must be notified immediately by the appropriate supervisor.

If the accident, or incident, does not necessitate immediate physician’s care but might require such care at a later date, an Accident/Incident Report should be sent to the Office of the Coordinator of Safety and Risk Management, Student Center Room 128. If a physician’s care is required at a later date, the individual or appropriate supervisor must then notify Human Resources and provide information for Worker’s Compensation or Risk Management.

The College provides Worker’s Compensation for all College employees. Any absence from work caused by an accident must be reported immediately by the supervisor on the Accident/Incident Report Form. If an employee is present when an accident or incident occurs involving anyone (student, visitor, etc.), he/she should send an Accident/Incident Report to the Office of the Coordinator of Safety and Risk Management.

(b) Report form. See the online “Forms Handbook” for a copy of the Accident/Incident Report. Additional copies are available in the Human Resources office, ADM Room 104.

Sec. 3-36. Campus Police and Security

(a) Campus Police and Security services consist of the following:

(1) Off-Duty Police Officers from Midwest City or other departments as necessary

(2) Contracted third-party security officers

(b) Police and Security services are available 24/7. Midwest City Police Officers provide armed patrol for the Campus from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. M-F. Two contracted security officer are on duty at all hours. The latter will unlock campus buildings for daily operations, monitor parking lots, write citations, patrol the Campus and monitor the video surveillance system.
Sec. 3-37. Emergency Response Plan
In addition to the following information, employees may also refer to the Emergency Alert Guidelines manual available through Administrative Services.

(a) Definition of emergencies:

1. Major emergency impacting a sizable portion of the campus and/or outside community. Major emergencies may be single or multi-hazard situations, and often require considerable coordination both within and outside the institution. These emergencies include projected events on campus or in the general community that may develop into a major institutional crisis or a full disaster. (Examples: Heating plant failure, extended power outage, severe storms, major fire, etc.)

2. Catastrophic emergency involving the entire campus and surrounding community. Immediate resolution of the disaster, generally multi-hazard, is beyond the emergency response capabilities of campus and local resources.

(b) Declaration of emergency situation. Any executive-level officer is authorized to declare a major emergency when s/he deems it necessary to place into immediate effect emergency procedures and/or to close all or part of the College. This individual may also create and activate a Response Team as the situation dictates. Normally, the Response Team will be comprised of members of the Executive Council and other staff members as deemed appropriate by the executive level officer responding to the event.

(c) Response Team members. Members include:

1. President
2. Executive Vice President/CFO
3. Vice President for Student Affairs and Marketing
4. Vice President for Academic Affairs
5. Vice President for Workforce and Community Development
6. Vice President for Information Technology
7. Senior Director of Human Resources/AAO
8. Director of Operations
9. Coordinator of Safety & Risk Management
10. Associate Vice President Strategic Communication & Marketing
11. Other members of the College staff as designated by the President (or their acting designee)

(d) Major emergency response. Emergencies or potential emergency conditions should be reported immediately to the College’s Campus Police/Security Office at ext. 7313. A Campus Police/Security Officer will contact the Midwest City Police, if necessary, and notify the Executive Vice President/CFO. The Executive Vice President/CFO will function as the evaluator of response protocol.

If the emergency is deemed sufficient to activate a Response Team, a call list is initiated. The Executive Vice President/CFO will coordinate the assembling of the Response Team, and s/he will determine the appropriate level of response and to what extent the Team will be involved.

Some situations may require deviation, but in all situations full and complete communication with College officials is required.

If a major emergency has occurred or is imminent, a Response Team shall be assembled. In the absence of the President, leadership responsibilities will be assumed by the Executive Vice President/CFO until the President arrives. Prior to the assembling of the Response Team on campus or the arrival of Police or other response personnel, on-scene responders are authorized to... make necessary operational and response decisions and to commit resources to mitigate and control the crisis. The Response Team is authorized to request immediate assistance from College departments and personnel on an emergency basis, including asking staff to be reassigned from less critical assignments to assist the Team.

A call list shall be maintained by the President's office and provided to all anticipated members of the Response Team to use in communication and assembling of a team. These key personnel shall be the principal vehicle for communicating the gravity, scope, and response of the College to the crisis.

(c) Emergency Command Center. Major emergencies require that the President establish an Emergency Command Center. Normally the Emergency Command Center will be the Regents' Conference Room. However, the Center can be established at other locations where necessary support facilities exist, including easy access to:

1. Telephone and communication services
2. Radio access via a scanning radio for all campus and local municipal frequencies
3. Campus computer network connections
4. Large scale campus map
5. Designated fax machine

(f) College staff responsibilities. The following College offices/individuals are to assume various roles and provide support as needed in an effort to provide an effective, coordinated response:

1. Academic Deans. Identify and resolve instructional and research issues. Coordinate necessary faculty resources.
2. Recreation and Athletics. Coordinate use of the Gymnasium complex or other designated spaces as staging areas, open bay temporary shelter, and/or a temporary morgue.
3. Special Services. Assist employees and students in coping with trauma.
4. Printing/Duplicating and Mail Room. Provide courier services for Response and Management Team. Post signs and notices. Provide printed material as directed.
5. Physical Plant/Operations. Mitigate utility, facility, and grounds damages, restoring to functional levels. Assist Police create safety perimeter(s) at the emergency site(s). Arrange for set-up of temporary quarters for displaced units. Coordinate structural evaluations and repair estimates.
6. Campus Police. Evacuation, crowd control, site security, and mobile communications. Communicate with on-site fire and medical command personnel.
7. Purchasing. Obtain emergency goods and services including coordination of pick-up and delivery to emergency site.
8. Telecommunications. Coordinate temporary telephone, fax, and computer hookups.
9. Public Relations. College spokesperson and media coordination.
10. College Food Service. Coordinate dining services for dislocated students, personnel, and emergency workers.

In some circumstances, it may be necessary to request faculty or staff to assume temporary roles outside the normal scope of their duties, taking into consideration their ability to carry out those temporary roles. Any department (i.e., Financial Aid, Admissions, etc.) not having a specific role for their personnel will automatically become part of a "pool" of reserve personnel to assist as assigned by the Response Team.

(g) Public health emergency.
(1) In the event of a public health emergency such as Pandemic Influenza or other natural disasters, the College may implement its Emergency Response Center to coordinate with appropriate public agencies to provide staff logistical support and access to the College’s physical plant and infrastructure as needed to assist the Incident Command Center established to respond to the declared emergency.

(2) The College will, in the event of a Pandemic Influenza, provide the Communications Center as a physical location for the Incident Command Center’s operation and to serve as a vaccination site.

(3) The College, to the extent possible and requested, will support the Incident Command Center in its educational efforts to communicate with the media and the public regarding the emergency and the response.

(h) Termination of major emergency situation. Any executive level officer may officially declare an end to the state of emergency after counsel and advice with the Response Team. A debriefing after the crisis event is an important evaluation tool to assist in refining the Emergency Response Plan.

Sec. 3-38. Emergency campus closing and evacuation procedures

In order to assure that students, faculty, and staff are notified as rapidly as possible when conditions exist that necessitate emergency cancellation or dismissal of classes, a procedure for appraisal and notification has been established. This procedure will be followed in the case of tornado alerts, bomb threats, hazardous driving conditions, or other emergencies.

(1) Imminent peril and hazardous weather conditions

(A) Notification. When class cancellation on the basis of hazardous driving conditions is in question, the President, after consultation with staff, will determine whether classes should be cancelled. If classes are to be cancelled, the President will notify those staff members who report to him; they, in turn, will notify those who report to them. For such class cancellation, the Associate Vice President Strategic Communication & Marketing will notify the appropriate newspapers, radio stations, and television stations.

(B) Administrative leave. If the College is closed because of an imminent peril threatening the public health, safety, or welfare of College employees or the public, or when College services are temporarily reduced due to hazardous weather conditions, the President shall place employees who are scheduled to work in the affected work areas on paid administrative leave or, if applicable, shall assign them to work in another location. During their normal duty hours, employees on paid administrative leave due to unsafe working conditions are on stand-by or on-call status. The President or designee may call employees to return to their normal duties or respond to the demands of the situation as necessary.

As used in this section, paid administrative leave means leave granted to affected employees if offices of the College are closed because of an imminent peril threatening the public health, safety, or welfare of College employees or the public or when College services are temporarily reduced due to hazardous weather. Examples of reasons for temporarily closing an office due to unsafe working conditions are: leaks of toxic fumes in buildings; life threatening damage to building structures; or emergency operations which would be disrupted by the presence of the usual workforce; or any other condition which poses a significant threat to the safety of the workforce.

Paid administrative leave shall be accorded to affected employees only when the College is temporarily closed or services are temporarily reduced due to hazardous weather. Upon the College’s reopening, normal policies and procedures shall apply. The granting of administrative leave applies only to employees scheduled to work during the time period of the closure or reduced services. It does not apply to employees who are absent during the closure or reduction on any previously approved leave. Employees who are not eligible to accrue leave, such as temporary part-time employees, shall not be granted administrative leave under this section when College services are temporarily reduced due to hazardous weather conditions.

(C) Basic minimum services. When the Governor or a designee of the Governor authorizes agencies or parts of agencies to maintain basic minimum services because hazardous weather conditions impede or delay the movement of employees to and from work, employees responsible for providing such basic minimum services shall report to work. The College President or designee shall be responsible for determining essential College functions (basic minimum services) and ensuring that employees who staff such functions are so informed. Nonexempt employees who are considered responsible for basic minimum services and who are required to work when College services are temporarily reduced due to hazardous weather conditions shall be entitled to accrue administrative leave on a straight-time basis for all hours worked during such reduction. Such leave must be taken within 180 days of its accrual or the employee shall be paid for the leave. An extension of the time period for taking the leave may be approved for up to an additional 180 days, providing the President sends a written memo with sufficient justification to Payroll and Human Resources offices.

Nonexempt employees who are responsible for basic minimum services who do not report to work have the following options to account for leave:

1. Charge the absence to unused compensatory time;
2. Charge the absence to accumulated annual leave;
3. Make up lost time in a manner consistent with the FLSA, if the President determines that office hours and schedules permit.

(2) Employee Emergency Action and Fire Prevention Plan. Emergency evacuation of building due to fire alarms, or actual fire:

(A) Fire observation. When a fire is observed, or a fire alarm is activated, the building(s) must be immediately evacuated. Employees should be familiar with normal escape routes from the building as well as alternate escape routes if normal escape routes become blocked. Personnel should know location of the fire extinguisher nearest to their place of employment, so that small fires can be controlled and extinguished. Fire alarm pull stations are located on the wall next to each exit in the building. When the alarm actuator is pulled, the fire alarm will sound in that building and in the Physical Plant Building. Professors and professional staff should explain the nature of the emergency to students and others, ask them to take their personal belongings, identify the nearest safe exit, advise that elevators are not to be used to exit a building during an emergency, direct students away from the building, and indicate how the "Safe to Re-Enter" signal will be communicated.

(B) Notification. The Executive Vice President/CFO, or his/her representative in the Office, should be notified and he/she will confirm that the alarm is real or false. If real, he/she will notify the Midwest City Fire Department of the fire giving the building(s) location on the campus. On other days and evenings, when appropriate, administrators and authorities are not available, Campus Police/Security should assume responsibility for the safety of those on campus. A master control panel located in the Physical Plant is activated any time a fire alarm actuator is pulled. The proper procedure is to check the alarm panel, silence the alarm, then call the building in which the alarm was made. If no answer is received, Maintenance personnel are to call 911 and report that a fire was reported in the building in which the alarm was sounded. After calling the fire department, Maintenance personnel are to notify the Office of Administrative Services that a fire alarm was received, give the location of the alarm, and inform Administrative Services that the fire department was notified.

(3) Emergency Other Than Bomb or Fire Threat on Campus. An emergency other than a bomb threat severe enough to cause evacuating a building(s), seeking immediate shelter, and/or dismissing classes will be handled as follows:

(A) Daytime. The Executive Vice President/CFO, or his/her representative in the Office, should be notified; he/she in turn, will notify the main office in each building(s) and appropriate administrators and authorities. Notification to the people in a given building will be carried out through the main office of that building. In the event that danger is immediate for a given building only, the person in charge of that building should evacuate the building, then contact the Executive Vice President/CFO. Should evacuation of a building(s) be necessary, professors and administrators should explain the nature of the emergency to students and others, ask them to take their personal belongings, identify the nearest safe exit, direct students away from the building, and indicate how the "Safe to Reenter" signal will be communicated. On other days and evenings when appropriate administrators and authorities are not available, Campus Police should assume responsibility for the safety of those on campus.

(B) Evening. After 5 p.m., the Evening Administrative Assistant should be notified. In the event that danger is immediate for a given building only, the person in charge of the building should evacuate the building, then contact the Evening Administrative Assistant. In the event a severe weather warning results in being advised to seek shelter away from campus, or to take immediate shelter, professors should explain the emergency, ask students to take personal belongings with them and direct them to the nearest exit or escort them to designated safety zones. No one can be forced to go to a designated safety zone; however, strong encouragement is recommended. Also, if necessary, emphasis should be placed on the danger of being close to any interior or exterior glass, particularly the enclosed walkways between buildings, and the danger of trying to reach a car or another building. In the event an emergency situation such as a tornado dictates taking immediate shelter, the Evening Administrative Assistant will signal the emergency by using the two-way radio system. The radio message will be "Take Cover Now in Designated Safety Zones." After the emergency message has been received, Associate Deans, Campus Police, and those in charge of a particular building or their representatives should also notify staff and students in other buildings in which they are responsible. Divisions should be sure someone has been selected to be in charge of building(s) after 8 p.m. This is especially important should there be potential for severe weather after the Associate Dean leaves the campus.

(i) Humanities Division Associate Dean:
   (I) Notifies all staff and students in Humanities Building.
   (II) Contacts Campus Police and Campus Police notifies all staff and students in H.B. Atkinson Theatre and Fine Arts Building.

(ii) Social Sciences Division Associate Dean:
   (I) Notifies all staff and students in the Social Sciences Building.
   (II) Contacts Campus Police/Security and Campus Police/Security notifies all staff and students in Gym, Aquatics Center, and Child Development Laboratory Center.

(iii) and Information Technology Division Associate Dean: Notifies all staff and students in the Information Technology Building.

(iv) Engineering and Science Associate Dean:
   (I) Notifies all staff and students in Science and Math Building.
   (II) Notifies all staff and students in the Engineering Technology Building.

(v) Learning Resources Center (Reference Librarian):
   (I) Notifies all staff and students in Learning Resources Center.
   (II) Notifies all staff and students in Lecture Hall.

(vi) Physical Plant (Person in Charge):
   (I) Notifies all personnel in the Physical Plant.
   (II) Notifies all maintenance/custodial staff in buildings and on grounds.

(vii) Tom Steed Center (Person in Charge):
   (I) Notifies all staff and persons in Tom Steed Center.

(viii) Communications Center (Person in Charge):
   (I) Notifies all occupants of the facility.

(ix) Campus Police, in addition to helping the Associate Dean should:
   (I) Immediately dispatch an officer to the Health/Environmental Science Building and notify all staff and students and escort them to designated safety zones.
   (II) Immediately notify person in charge of Student Center and assist and escort all staff and students to designated safety zones.
   (III) Immediately notify the Vice President for Student Affairs and Marketing who is in charge of the Student Services Building and assist and escort all staff, students, and other persons to designated safety zones.
(IV) Campus Police should also be responsible and alert for those persons on campus who may not be in a building, but may be in transit to or from a building.

(4) All clear message. When it is safe to leave the safety zones, the Evening Administrative Assistant will give the message, "All Clear to Leave Safety Zones." This message will also be transmitted by two-way radio.

(5) Bomb Threat Procedure. The procedure to be followed in the event of a bomb threat differs from that of other emergencies. The procedure is basically the same, but personnel to be notified differs for day and evening.

(A) Day Time. If the switchboard operator receives the call, he/she will notify the Executive Vice President/CFO, Ext. 7306, and fill out the Bomb Threat Checklist available in the "Forms Handbook." If a person other than the switchboard operator receives the call, he/she should notify, or have someone notify, the Executive Vice President/CFO and fill out the Checklist. The Checklist should be given to the Executive Vice President/CFO who, in consultation with available members of the President's staff, will make a decision regarding a bomb search and/or building evacuation. Following a decision to evacuate and buildings to be searched:

(i) Executive Vice President/CFO or his/her representative notifies:
   (I) Switchboard operator
   (II) Appropriate agencies, such as Fire and Police
   (III) Campus Police/Security (Turn off radios, begin search of parking lots, and post themselves at entries to campus to turn away incoming traffic.)
   (IV) Physical Plant (If buildings are evacuated, vans dispatched to CDLC)

(ii) Switchboard operator notifies:
   (I) Police Department

(iii) Vice Presidents notify all associate vice presidents, deans, directors, coordinators, and the offices in their area of responsibility. Those in charge of buildings will supervise the search and/or evacuation of their building, instruct occupants concerning where to congregate if it is deemed necessary to evacuate their building even though a total campus evacuation is not ordered, post "Building Closed for Emergency" signs at all entry doors, and search their buildings for unusual objects should time permit, searching exit ways and the facility from exterior to interior. Once the building has been searched, areas and offices searched should be marked with an appropriate sign and a report of findings should be communicated to the Executive Vice President/CFO. Building supervisors will then meet in front of the Administration Building unless otherwise directed by the Executive Vice President/CFO.

IN THE EVENT BUILDINGS ARE EVACUATED:

(iv) Division Deans (or representatives) are to notify each office and classroom. Should there be sufficient time, the professors will check their classrooms, turn off the lights, and close the doors of rooms they have searched. They should be alert to assist any disabled students. Empty rooms should also be checked by Division Deans. They should leave upstairs outside doors to elevators unlocked. Division Deans (or representatives) will then report to the front of the Administration Building.

(v) Professors who are conducting classes should tell students that buildings are being evacuated and ask that they take their personal belongings with them as they leave through the nearest exits.

(vi) The Director, Operations, will dispatch College staff and vans to the Child Development Laboratory Center for evacuation of children and staff to Traub Elementary School.

(vii) Learning Resources Center staff clears and searches the Lecture Hall.

(viii) The Student Center will be cleared and searched by the Supervisor, Auxiliary Enterprises and Services (or representative).

(ix) Everyone evacuating should move past the sidewalks into the parking lots, or a minimum of 100 to 300 feet away; they should not stand between buildings or inside the mall area. In the event the Student Center is unaffected and the weather is inclement, students may be directed there; but they should not go through the mall area to the Student Center.

(x) UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES IS ANYONE TO REENTER THE BUILDINGS ONCE THEY HAVE BEEN LOCKED UNTIL AUTHORIZATION IS GIVEN. Notification and authorization to reopen buildings will be determined by the President (or Executive Vice President/CFO).

(xi) The Executive Vice President/CFO will be responsible for the following:

(I) Master keys and College floor plans should be available from Campus Police on request.

(II) Immediate consideration should be given to public areas such as lobbies, Student Center, and Library. Other areas to be considered include cafeteria, public toilets, stairwells, storerooms, and trash receptacles outside and inside the buildings.

(III) The search should be thorough, eliminating those areas which are locked and unavailable to the public. If the caller indicates the area in which the bomb is located, that area should receive immediate attention. Tight security should be maintained on each area searched until the entire search is completed.

(B) Evening. After 5 p.m., if the switchboard operator receives the call, he/she will notify the Evening Administrative Assistant, Ext. 6298, and fill out the Bomb Threat Checklist available in the "Forms Handbook." If any office other than the switchboard receives the call, the recipient is to report it directly to the EveningAdministrative Assistant, Ext. 6298, and complete the Bomb Threat Checklist. The Evening Administrative Assistant, in consultation with available members of the President's staff, will make a decision regarding a bomb search and/or building evacuation. Following a decision on evacuation and buildings to be searched, the

(i) Evening Administrative Assistant notifies:
(I) 0 Switchboard operator, who notifies:
(II) Campus Police/Security Offices

(ii) Evening Administrative Assistant then notifies:
(I) 7340 Division Dean/representative, BIT Building
(II) 7450 Division Dean/representative, Science and Math and Engineering Technology Building
(III) 7359* Division Dean/representative, Health/Environmental Science Building
(IV) 7380 Division Dean/representative, Humanities Building (responsible for Fine Arts Building, and Theatre)
(V) 7413 Division Dean/representative, Social Sciences Building (responsible for Child Development Laboratory Center)
(VI) 7543, 7544 Learning Resources Center (responsible for Lecture Hall)
(VII) 7392* Tom Steed Center Building
(VIII) 7408 Student Services Building
(IX) 7972 Professional Training and Education Center
(X) 7455 University Center
(XI) Administration Building representative:

7308 During regular evening hours, contact Admissions Office
7356 After night time closing, contact Information Technology Services

(iii) Administrative Services representative notifies:
(I) 7371 Student Center
(II) 7313 Campus Police/Security (one Campus Police/Security Officer goes to the HPER Building; one goes to the Health/Environmental Science, Tom Steed Center, and Communications Center Buildings.)
(III) 7350* HPER Building

*If no answer after several rings, do not keep trying; Campus Police/Security Officer will go to the building.

(6) Reentry. Persons responsible for buildings meet in front of the Administration Building. The Evening Administrative Assistant and Associate Deans (or representatives) will determine when to re-enter. In case of inclement weather, the Student Center will be checked first and reopened for students and staff to reenter. (DO NOT go to the Student Center through the Mall area.)

Sec. 3-39. Guidelines for employee actions during emergency medical situations

(a) Step 1: CALL 911 (9-911-campus telephone)
Step 2: CALL CAMPUS POLICE/SECURITY at 733-7313
Step 3: Notify a CAMPUS ADMINISTRATOR
Vice President for Student Affairs and Marketing: 733-7374
Executive Vice President/CFO: 733-7306
(b) Individual responsibility vs. College responsibility. Campus students, employees, and visitors must be cognizant of the fact that Rose State College presents all the risks of any public facility and that individuals coming to campus must accept responsibility for being exposed to those risks. Further, some individuals will undoubtedly be involved in an emergency situation while on campus. They should know that Rose State College's function is that of a college and that rendering emergency medical care is not a responsibility of college employees.

However, it is the intent of the College to prepare employees for the proper response to emergency medical situations. These guidelines, and annual review of their contents with employees, represent the College's good faith efforts to properly prepare employees for medical emergencies on campus.

(c) Supervisors have a duty and responsibility to inform employees of the following:

(1) The proper response for an employee to an on-campus medical emergency. An employee faced with a life-threatening emergency should respond by calling 9-911 according to the nature and severity of the situation. Life-threatening emergencies include loss of consciousness or altered level of consciousness, difficulty breathing, not breathing, pain, no pulse, severe bleeding, and shock. Other serious conditions that might warrant calling 9-911 include suspected fractures, seizures, and/or a sudden illness, which may cause the victim to experience breathing difficulties. If an employee is unsure of the severity, he or she should treat the situation as a severe emergency. In any emergency, sudden illness, or injury, the victim should not be moved unless the scene is unsafe and could result in additional complications.

Once the situation is ascertained as an emergency by the employee on the emergency site, the proper initial response is to get trained emergency personnel to the scene as quickly as possible. An Ambulance (Emergency Medical Technicians/Paramedics) can be called to the scene by dialing 9-911.

(A) When calling 9-911 be prepared to:

1. Give a clear description of your location:
   Rose State College
   Campus building, floor, room number 6420 S.E. 15th, Midwest City
2. Type of emergency
3. Number of victims
4. Person making the call
5. Destination choice of victim if responding to a non-life-threatening emergency

NOTE: Do not hang up. Remain on the line until informed to hang up.

An employee may provide any "good samaritan" assistance depending on his or her level of training. No employee should do something he or she is not comfortable with or trained to do. Getting qualified help is the first step.

After qualified help is contacted, or in situations that are not severe emergencies, Campus Police/Security and a College Administrator should be notified.
(2) Emergency personnel in charge. At any emergency scene, the emergency personnel are in charge. If it is a medical situation, the senior EMT/Paramedic will be in charge. At a fire, the senior firefighter present will usually be in command. If it is a crime, a police officer will be in charge.

(3) Victim refusal of transport. If a victim refuses transport to a medical care facility and the victim is deemed able to make his or her own decisions by the emergency medical personnel at the scene, the patient cannot be legally transported. The victim is left in the care of whomever is at the scene, which in some cases may be no one. If the victim is a minor, every effort should be made to contact the legal guardian or parent. In a life-threatening emergency, consent is implied if parental contact cannot be made quickly. In a non-life-threatening emergency, legal guardian or parental consent must be obtained prior to giving care.

As long as employees have made a proper response, acting in a prudent and reasonable manner to get qualified assistance, the College has done everything that could be done for the person.

If a person is not transported, the best scenario that could happen is that a friend, classmate, or family member would remain with the person and see that he or she gets off the campus safely. Employees do not have any responsibility for transportation and are discouraged from providing transportation or further medical assistance after qualified help has been obtained.

(4) Responsibility for proper clean-up and care of emergency location. The College Physical Plant personnel should be notified following an emergency so that proper clean-up may be accomplished. Clean-up by qualified maintenance workers also is recommended due to the possible presence of spilled body fluids in the emergency area and proper disposal of biological hazards.

NOTE: The preceding information is intended only as a guide for faculty and staff action during a medical emergency. Every situation is unique and different. Employees must, therefore, use this guideline in association with logic and common sense and do the best they can, based on the situation, training, and experience.

Sec. 3-40. Emergency message notification of students procedure

(a) Message center. For the hours of 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday through Friday, a student message center has been designated at the Information Desk in the Student Center, Ext. 7371 or 7379. After 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday and after 6 p.m. Wednesday through Friday these calls should be transferred to Academic Affairs. Academic Affairs will handle such calls to the Student Information Desk between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday if:

(1) Student Information Desk attendant requests assistance.
(2) Person walks into Academic Affairs Office and requests this service.
(3) Person calls Academic Affairs directly or is mistakenly referred to this office.
(4) If line is busy to Student Information Desk and the call reverts back to the telephone switchboard operator.

(b) Extreme emergency. In the case of an extreme emergency, the person on duty will check the student's class schedule on the computer and will notify the division office in the building in which the student is attending class. Immediate notice will be sent to the classroom. After 5 p.m., if there is a question whether or not a request is in fact an extreme emergency, the person should be referred to the Evening Administrative Assistant. For messages which are important but not an extreme emergency, the division office personnel will notify the student before the class begins or at the end of the class period. During these same hours, an emergency call for a faculty or staff member will be directed to that person's division office or other designated office by the campus switchboard operator or through the Academic Affairs Office.

(c) Evenings and weekends. Between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m., on Monday, 6 p.m. to 10 p.m., on Tuesday through Thursday, the Evening Administrative Assistant's Office will check the student's schedule and notify the appropriate division; the procedure outlined in the preceding paragraph will then be followed. After 5 p.m., on Friday and through the weekend, Campus Police/Security should be contacted. When the campus telephone operator closes the switchboard at 7 p.m., on Monday and 6 p.m., on Tuesday through Thursday, the incoming calls should be automatically switched to the Academic Affairs Office and all emergency messages will be delivered to the classrooms or offices. A recorded message will be automatically initiated after the switchboard office closes (7 p.m., on Monday, 6 p.m., Tuesday through Thursday, and 5 p.m., on Friday), for incoming calls.

Sec. 3-41. Court or law enforcement officials on campus regarding legal matters

Employees and students of Rose State College are subject to the actions of law enforcement officials or representatives of courts of jurisdiction while on campus. However, in their actions on campus, law enforcement officials and representatives of courts are expected to coordinate their actions to minimize the disruption to the mission of the College.

(a) College employees. If a court or law enforcement official contacts or visits your office area requesting to contact an employee regarding a legal matter (serving papers, warrant for arrest, etc.), please adhere to the following policy:

Direct the individual serving (server) papers or other legal matters to the Campus Police/Security Office located in the Student Center building. Campus Police will require the person to present photo identification or other valid credentials to substantiate that he or she is a Court or Law Enforcement Official.

(1) Day Hours. If the server is an authorized Court or Law Enforcement Official, Campus Police will escort the individual to the office of the Senior Director of Human Resources/AAO. The Senior Director of Human Resources/AAO will contact the Vice President's office of the employee requested. The Vice President’s office will then contact the appropriate Director/Supervisor. Campus Police/Security will then go to the appropriate office area and escort the employee to the Senior Director of Human Resources/AAO.

(2) Evening Hours. If the server is an authorized Court or Law Enforcement Official, Campus Police will escort the individual to the Office of the Evening Administrative Assistant, who will make a photocopy of the server's credentials. The Evening Administrative Assistant and Campus Police/Security will go to the appropriate area and escort the employee to the Evening Administrative Assistant's office.

(b) Students. When a law enforcement official or court representative contacts a College employee regarding a need to visit with a student, arrest a student, or serve a legal document on a student, the following procedures should be observed:

(1) S/he should be directed to the Campus Police/Security Office in the Student Center building. Campus Police will confirm the credentials of the individual.

(2) Campus Police will then obtain the student class schedule as noted:
(A) During daytime hours of operation, Campus Police/Security will contact the Office of Student Affairs and Marketing and obtain permission from the Vice President for Student Affairs and Marketing or designee to interrupt classes.
(B) Normally, Student Affairs and Marketing personnel will approve the request and notify the appropriate Division Dean regarding the action.
(C) The student's class schedule will be provided to Campus Police/Security by Student Affairs and Marketing staff as authorized by the Vice President or designee.
(D) During evening hours of operation, Campus Police/Security should coordinate their actions through the Evening Administrative Assistant.
(3) Campus Police/Security will escort the individual to the classroom. Where possible, the arrest or serving of documents should occur before or after class. The class should only be interrupted in an extreme emergency and as authorized by the Vice President or designee. If a class is interrupted, the Division Dean or other appropriate College official should interrupt it. The professor will be advised of the circumstances and the student called to the hallway by the professor. In any case in which a Law Enforcement official specifies a different course of action, the judgment of the Law Enforcement official will supersede the provisions of this policy.

Sec. 3-42. Workplace threats and violence
(a) Purpose and goal. It is the goal of Rose State College to provide a safe and secure workplace. The safety of College employees and students is very important both in terms of enhancing the educational environment which RSC strives to provide and in promoting a supportive working atmosphere for employees. However, the College cannot absolutely ensure that unanticipated acts of violence, or serious threats or harassment, will never occur. The purpose of this policy is to establish a framework for responding to situations involving serious threats or harassment, and acts of violence against employees and students in order to increase employee and student protection and minimize the probability of recurrence of dangerous situations.
(b) Definitions.
(1) An "act of harassment or abusive behavior" is a threat, obscenity, or other serious annoying communication or action.
(2) An "assault" is an action that puts a reasonable person in fear or apprehension of immediate bodily harm.
(3) A "serious threat" is one that puts a reasonable person in fear of harm to himself/herself or to another, even in the absence of fear of immediate bodily harm.
(4) An "act of violence" is one involving physical battery of another person, with or without the use of a weapon.
(5) A “weapon” is defined as any object or device which will, is designed to, or may be readily converted to expel bullet, shot or shell by the action of an explosive or other propellant; any handgun, pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun or other firearm of any nature, including concealed weapons licensed pursuant to the Oklahoma Self Defense Act, and amendments thereto; any BB gun, pellet gun, air/C'O2 gun, paintball gun, stun gun or blow gun; any explosive, incendiary or poison gas (A) bomb, (B) mine, (C) grenade, (D) rocket having a propellant charge of more than four ounces, or (E) missile having an explosive or incendiary charge of more than ¼ ounce; any incendiary or explosive material, liquid, solid or mixture equipped with a fuse, wick or other detonating device; any tear gas bomb or smoke bomb; however, personal self-defense items containing mace or pepper spray shall not be deemed to be a weapon for the purposes of this policy; any knife, commonly referred to as a switch-blade, which has a blade that opens automatically by hand pressure applied to a button, spring or other device in the handle of the knife, or any knife having a blade that opens or falls or is ejected into position by the force of gravity or by an outward, downward or centrifugal thrust or movement; any straight-blade knife of three inches or more such as a dagger, dirk, dangerous knife or stiletto; except that an ordinary pocket knife or culinary knife designed for and used solely in the preparation or service of food shall not be construed to be a weapon for the purposes of this policy; any martial arts weapon such as nunchucks or throwing stars; or any compound bow, longbow, crossbow and arrows or other projectile that could cause serious harm to any person; and the possession or use of hazardous chemicals that could pose a health risk. This includes chemicals which, when combined with other substances, could be hazardous or present a danger to others.

(c) Application. This policy applies to all situations involving acts of harassment or abusive behavior, assaults, serious threats, or acts of violence engaged in by all faculty, nonfaculty staff, and students, full-time or part-time, permanent or temporary, on the Rose State College campus.

(d) Policy

(1) Serious threats or acts of intimidation (i.e., statements or physical act which put a reasonable person in fear of harm to him/herself or another) and acts of violence, with or without the presence of a weapon, will not be tolerated at RSC. Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action, including possible suspension, termination, and/or the filing of criminal charges.

(2) All employees, regardless of position with the College, shall immediately report acts of violence and any serious threats which a reasonable person would consider potentially dangerous made against them or witnessed by them. Such reports may be made to the employee's immediate supervisor, the Human Resources/AAO office, Campus Police/Security, or any administrative unit management official.

Employees should also feel free to report concerns about unusual or threatening behavior, even though such behavior is not perceived as a direct threat or an immediately dangerous situation when the employee in good faith is fearful for his/her continued safety or the safety of others. Reportable situations include those of coworkers, students, and visitors to the campus-such as spouses, job applicants, etc.

Reports made as authorized in this policy may be in oral or written form, but if in oral form shall be memorialized in writing as soon as reasonably possible after the initial oral report.

The College will not tolerate retaliation against employees making good faith reports as provided for in this policy, even where the concerns prove ultimately to have been in error. However, the College does not provide indemnification or immunity to any person wrongfully accused, except as provided by law.

Supervisors receiving reports of acts of violence, serious threats, or good faith concerns about unusual or threatening behavior shall take appropriate steps as reasonably possible, including communicating with Campus Police/Security, to reduce or eliminate any threats of immediate danger, and forward a written report describing the threatening situation to a member of the RSC Threat Assessment Team.

Nothing in this policy relieves a supervisor or manager from taking immediate action when the safety or security of employees is threatened and time is critical. Such action may include notification of law enforcement and Campus Police/Security, suspension, or the temporary physical separation of employees in the work place. Similarly, this policy does not replace routine management actions such as counseling, reprimands, or changes in work assignments. This policy is intended for those cases of continuing inappropriate actions or threats where normal management and personnel actions have been ineffective and the possibility of violence is such that police and others need to be involved.

Following a serious threat or an act of violence in the work place, employees, witnesses, and families often suffer from stress-related ailments such as depression, anger, headaches, and continued fear. Rose State College, through a group of administrators identified as the Campus Crisis Team, will provide debriefing teams, counseling, and support as needed to those affected. These actions, provided within a 24- to 72-hour period following a traumatic event, will help minimize the impact of an incident and prevent further violence.

(3) The presence of weapons on campus poses an unacceptable risk to the health and safety of all members and guests of Rose State College. Therefore, to the extent allowed by law and unless otherwise provided here, the possession of weapons is prohibited on the Rose State College campus.

Possession includes, but is not limited to, storage in academic or administrative offices, lockers, desks, backpacks or briefcases. With respect to College personnel (faculty, staff and student staff), possession of weapons on campus or while attending or participating in a College-sponsored activity off campus is subject to sanctions, up to and including termination of employment. With respect to students, possession of weapons on campus or while attending or participating in a College-sponsored activity off campus is subject to sanctions up to and including expulsion. Sanctions will be imposed in accordance with the procedures of the Student Code of Conduct, Staff Policies and Procedures, or Faculty Code, as appropriate. With respect to visitors, possession of weapons is subject to expulsion from campus by Campus Security staff.

a. Exemptions. Nothing in this section shall be read to prohibit possession of weapons on campus (1) as necessary for the conduct of Board approved academic programs or College approved activities or practices, or (2) by Midwest City Police officers while acting within the scope of their employment, or (3) military drills, honor guards, and color guards utilizing facsimile weapons, or (4) normal kitchen utensils and cleaning supplies when appropriately used.

b. This policy does not prohibit small quantity personal protection chemical spray devices (e.g., key chain sprays) intended for defensive purposes.

c. Reporting Weapons. The College requires all members of and visitors to the campus community to help maintain safety and security at the institution and at College-sponsored activities off campus. All students, faculty, and staff who have knowledge of weapons on campus and at College-sponsored activities off campus have an obligation to report that knowledge promptly to the Director of Security Services, the Midwest City Police Department, or a member of the College’s contract security staff.
d. Search. In the case of suspected possession of weapons by College personnel (faculty, staff and student staff), Rose State College reserves the right to search personal belongings on College property, including but not limited to articles of clothing, purses, briefcases, backpacks and bags. All such searches must be approved in advance by the President, or, in his absence, the Vice President for Academic Affairs for faculty; the Executive Vice President/CFO for staff; or, in the case of students, the Vice President of Student Affairs and Marketing. Searches will only be conducted by Midwest City Police Department officers or other state law enforcement authorities that may be present on campus. Individuals may be asked to leave campus or remain in the presence of Security staff or Midwest City Police until a search is conducted or until the situation is resolved safely and appropriately. Midwest City Police may take weapons discovered in a search into temporary custody, for safe-keeping.

e. Applicability. This policy applies to anyone on the Rose State College campus, including College personnel, students, and visitors. It also applies to College personnel and students attending or participating in a College-sponsored activity off campus.

(e) Procedures. The following procedures will be followed in the event of workplace serious threats or violence:

1. A Threat Assessment Team, consisting of the Executive Council, will review all reports generated relative to this policy. This core team may draft additional members as warranted. Note: The Threat Assessment Team may include some of the same members as the Campus Crisis Team but the function and purpose of each team is different. The Threat Assessment Team seeks to recognize and avert violent acts while the Campus Crisis Team provides support services after a traumatic event, not limited to just violent acts.

2. Team members will review the report, gather additional information as needed, and develop a plan of action which may include specific suggestions to the immediate supervisor, directed counseling, Employee Assistance Plan intervention, and/or police action. Team members and the department head or designee of the affected work area will follow up to assure implementation of suggestions and that protective measures are in place as needed. Decisions and actions that directly affect an accused employee will be taken in compliance with existing laws and applicable policies and rules of the College.

3. RSC understands the sensitivity of the information provided and/or alleged in such reports as it pertains to employees' reputation, rights to privacy, and confidentiality. Appropriate procedures will be followed to corroborate the accusation and limit the dissemination of reports on a need-to-know basis.

   Should a report prove to be false, or actions misinterpreted as threats of violence, the continued acceptance and effectiveness of the accused employee is essential. The Threat Assessment Team will balance the safety and security of students and employees against the need for confidentiality of information. Where appropriate, legal guidance will be requested.

4. All levels of management at RSC will be familiar with this policy. All reports of possible violent behavior, intimidation, or serious threats should be forwarded to a member of the Threat Assessment Team as described in paragraph (e)1, above.
5. The College will make available training directed at violence in the workplace for all levels of RSC employees.

6. Should an act of violence occur, the Campus Crisis Team, consisting of the President; Vice President for Student Affairs and Marketing; Director of Special Services and Student Outreach; and Senior Director, Human Resources/AAO will consider the impact of the incident on the campus community and initiate appropriate debriefing, counseling, and support actions for the victims, coworkers, and families. An incident in this category might include serious or fatal injuries to one or more campus members in a manner that frightens or shocks segments of the campus community for a continuing period.

7. The Campus Crisis Team will also provide timely reports to the campus administration.

Sec. 3-43. Exposure Control Policy for Bloodborne Pathogens

This Exposure Control Policy is established for Rose State College in accordance with the guidelines published in the Federal Register (12-6-91) as part of Subpart Z of 29 CFR §1910.1030, [56 FR 64004, Dec. 06, 1991, as amended at 57 FR 12717, April 13, 1992; 57 FR 29206, July 1, 1992; 61 FR 5507, Feb. 13, 1996; 66 FR 5325 Jan. 18, 2001] and with the Updated U.S. Public Health Service Guidelines for the Management of Occupational Exposures to HBV, HCV, and HIV and Recommendations for Postexposure Prophylaxis; June 29, 2001, Vol. 50, No. RR-11; U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). The plan applies to all at-risk faculty/employees/students who have the potential for occupational exposure to blood or other potentially infectious materials and is designed to minimize or eliminate faculty and student exposure to such materials. It is the intent of Rose State College to establish and enforce policies and procedures to protect faculty, employees, students, and their patients. The procedures include Universal Precautions, at-risk faculty/employee/student education, exposure management, follow-up, and record keeping. The plan is available for public inspection in the President’s Office, ADM 203.

Sec. 3-44. Right to Know: Oklahoma Hazard Communication Standard

Material safety data sheets relating the toxicity or hazardousness of any hazardous substances which are present in the workplace will be maintained in the Safety Officer’s office located in the Physical Plant.

Sec. 3-45. Identity Theft Prevention Policy

The policy of Rose State College is to ensure compliance with the Federal Trade Commission’s (FTC’s) Red Flags Rule (“Rule”) which implements part of the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act of 2003. The regulation is set forth at:

1. 16 CFR § 681.2 and applies to financial institutions and creditors that are subject to administrative enforcement of the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) by the FTC pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1681s(a)(1); and,
2. 16 CFR § 681.3 and applies to a person described in 681.2 that issues a debit or credit card (card issuer).

A college that meets the definition of a creditor would be subject to this regulation. (See II. Definitions, (5) Creditors.) Under the Rule, every creditor is required to establish an Identity Theft Prevention Program (“Program”) tailored to the size, complexity, and nature of its operation. Each program must contain reasonable policies and procedures to:

1. Identify relevant Red Flags for covered accounts that the creditor offers and incorporate those Red Flags into the Program;
2. Detect Red Flags that have been incorporated into the Program;
3. Respond appropriately to any Red Flags that are detected to prevent and mitigate identify theft;
4. Implement and adopt the Program with approval from the Board of Regents;
5. Update the Program periodically to reflect changes in risks to customers and to the safety and soundness of the creditor from identity theft; and
6. Oversee the program through a senior management employee.

In addition, to the extent a college issues campus cards which can be used as debit cards to make electronic funds transfers from a transaction account to off-campus merchants, such a college would be subject to this regulation. Under the Rule every card issuer must establish and implement reasonable policies and procedures to:

1. Assess the validity of a change of address if it receives notification of a change of address for a consumer’s debit or credit card account; and
2. Notify the cardholder, if within a short period of time afterward (during at least the first 30 days after it receives such notification), the card issuer receives a request for an additional or replacement card for the same account.

Detailed procedures are available in the Rose State College Administrative Services office.

SECTION 4

STUDENT AFFAIRS AND MARKETING

Note: For the Student Affairs and Marketing Department, see Chapter II, Sections 1 68, et seq. of this Manual.

Sec. 4-1. Preamble

Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. As members of the academic community, students engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic liberty. The freedom to learn depends upon the appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on the campus, and in the larger community. Students must exercise their liberty with responsibility. The responsibility to secure and to respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community. Rose State College has a duty to develop policies and procedures which provide and safeguard this liberty. The purpose of this statement is to enumerate the essential provisions for student freedom to learn and the responsibilities which go with their liberties as established by the Board of Regents of Rose State College.

Sec. 4-2. Freedom of access to higher education

Under no circumstances should a student be barred from admission to Rose State College on the basis of race, color, sex, age, national origin, religion, disability, sexual orientation, or status as a veteran. Thus, within the limits of its facilities, the College should be open to all students who are qualified according to its admission standards.

Sec. 4-3. In the classroom

(a) Free discussion, etc.; and grading. The professor, in the classroom and in conferences, should encourage free discussion, inquiry, and expression. Student grades will be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic situations.

(b) Protection of freedom of expression. Students will be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course of study in which they are enrolled.

(c) Improper academic evaluation. Students shall have protection through proper channels as established by the administration against improper academic evaluations. At the same time, they are responsible for maintaining standards of academic performance established for each course in which they are enrolled.

(d) Protection against improper disclosure. Information about student views, beliefs, and political association which professors acquire in the course of their work will be considered confidential. Protection against improper disclosure is a serious professional obligation. Judgments of ability and character may be provided at the discretion of the professor after inquiring as to the nature of the requesting agency or individual and the intended use of the information.
Sec. 4-4. Student records

To minimize the risk of improper disclosure, academic and disciplinary records will be kept separate. Transcripts of academic records will contain only information about academic status, except that disciplinary action taken against a student which affects his/her eligibility to re-register with the institution will be recorded. The College may, if it sees fit, add a note to student academic records if the student is on disciplinary probation, but the note will be removed when the probation term has expired. Information from disciplinary or counseling files will not be made available to unauthorized persons on the campus or to any person off campus without the expressed consent of the student involved, except under legal compulsion or in cases where the safety of persons or property is involved. No records will be kept for the sole purpose of reflecting the activities or beliefs of students. Administrative staff and faculty members will respect confidential information about students which they acquire in the course of their work.

Note: Regarding student records, see also Appendix 5 of this Manual.

Sec. 4-5. Student affairs

In student affairs, certain standards must be maintained if the freedom of students is to be preserved:

1) Freedom of inquiry and expression
   (A) Discussions. Students and student organizations will be free to examine and discuss all questions of interest to them and to express opinions publicly and privately. They will be free to support causes by orderly means which do not disrupt the regular and normal operation of the institution and which comply with the regulations that relate to student activities and conduct. At the same time, it should be made clear to the academic and the larger community that in their public expressions or demonstrations, students or student organizations speak only for themselves.
   (B) Student organizations. Recognized student organizations will be allowed to invite and to hear any person of their own choosing when the purpose of such an invitation is consistent with the aims of the College.

2) Student participation in institutional government. As constituents of the academic community, students will be free, individually and collectively, to express their views on issues of institutional policy and on matters of general interest to the student body. The student body will have clearly defined means to participate and to express their views concerning any formulation and application of institutional policy affecting academic and student affairs. The role of the Student Senate, both its general and specific responsibilities, will be made explicit, and the actions of the Student Senate, within the areas of its jurisdiction, will be reviewed only through orderly and prescribed procedures of the College.

3) Student publications. In the delegation of editorial responsibility to students, the institution must provide sufficient editorial freedom and financial autonomy, in accordance with the financial policies of the institution, for the student publication to maintain integrity of purpose as a vehicle for free inquiry and free expression in an academic community. Institutional authorities, in consultation with students and faculty, have a responsibility to provide a written clarification of the role of the student publication, the standards to be used in their evaluation, and the limitations on external control of their operation. At the same time, the editorial freedom of student editors and managers entails corollary responsibilities to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism, such as the avoidance of libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, attacks on personal integrity, and the techniques of harassment and innuendos. As safeguards for the editorial freedom of student publications, the following provisions are necessary:

(A) Censorship. The student press will be free of censorship and advance approval, and its editors and managers shall be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage, all within the framework of the mutual obligations and responsibilities set forth in the Guidelines for Student Publications.

(B) Editors. Editors and managers of student publications shall be protected from arbitrary suspension and removal because of student, faculty, administrative or public disapproval of editorial policies or content. Only for proper and stated causes should editors and managers be subject to removal and then by orderly and prescribed procedures. The agency responsible for the appointment of editors and managers will be the agency responsible for their removal, subject only to the provisions of Sec. 4-5 (4) and Sec. 4-5-(5)-(A)-(i).

(C) Editorial opinions. All publications shall explicitly state on the editorial page that the opinions there expressed are not necessarily those of the College or student body.

(4) Guidelines for Student Publications

(A) Purposes of 15th Street News:

(i) To publish news, information, entertainment, and editorial opinions for the benefit of the student body and College community.

(ii) To provide journalism training and experience for students and a laboratory for journalism classes.

(iii) To provide a forum for free expression, interchange of ideas, and exhibition of literary and artistic talents among students.

(iv) To provide a forum for exchange of ideas among students, administrators, and individuals within the community.

A good newspaper reports, interprets, and comments upon those events and ideas which it deems significant or which are of interest to its readers. These purposes should be the basis for exercise of editorial judgment, news play, content selection, and editorial policy. Readers should receive a newspaper which provides accurate coverage of campus life and exhibits sound judgment and reasoning in columns and editorials. The 15th Street News staff members have the obligation to criticize, to question, and to evaluate, and assume responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of all criticism. Constructive criticism, thoughtfully prepared and respectfully presented, is basic to college press freedom. The 15th Street News staff realizes the exercise of that freedom entails a heavy burden of responsibility. This responsibility includes not only the right to print, but also the right not to print. The staff must be free to exercise its judgment, not only in what is said but also in what is left unsaid, making such judgments after careful consideration of the ramifications and consequences and in conformity with the purposes of 15th Street News, as outlined above. The 15th Street News staff members may make mistakes, but not without benefiting from them, not without full realization that they are responsible for them, and not without exercising every reasonable control against mistakes and attempting to make amends for them if they do occur.

(B) Policies
(i) To afford students a medium of free expression, in keeping with First Amendment rights, the College administration and faculty shall refrain from participation in the editorial policies and decisions of the 15th Street News staff. News staff members will be responsible for content selection, design, and placement, in compliance with regulations of the Rose State College Board of Regents and all local, state, and federal laws. Submissions to the editor must adhere to guidelines in the “Info & policies” box in the 15th Street News. Letters to the Editor must include a writer’s full name, social security number or ID number, and telephone number and cannot exceed 500 words in length.

(ii) Because publishing a newspaper is a highly technical process that must operate with precision within certain inflexible deadlines, it is necessary to concentrate executive authority in the hands of one individual: the Editor-in-Chief, or, in his/her absence, the Coordinator, Student Publications.

(iii) Circulation of a specific issue of the newspaper should be restricted by no one other than the Editor-in-Chief or Coordinator, Student Publications, unless so ordered by the College Counsel. It is the responsibility of the person ordering the restriction of the circulation to convene the Student Publications Board within 24 hours of the time newspaper distribution is prohibited. Four voting board members shall constitute a quorum. A board member unable to attend may designate a proxy in writing or, if that is not possible, by telephone calls to two board members specifying who shall have the proxy and on what questions that person may vote. The board chairperson will assure that a public notice is posted as soon as possible for emergency meetings. These notices shall be posted outside the regular meeting room, in the Administration Building, and in the Student Center and should specify the time, date, place, and precise subject of the meeting. The chairperson or his/her specified representative will make every reasonable effort to notify all parties involved in the dispute of the meeting and the precise subject matter of arbitration to be considered. The person ordering the restriction of circulation shall have the burden of proof to establish that the objectionable material is not protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution; otherwise, circulation of the paper will resume. Paramount in the Editor's or Coordinator's mind in making such a decision must be legal considerations and the canons of good journalism.

(iv) To protect academic freedom, 15th Street News will not quote or otherwise cite statements made in class, except with the written permission of the person(s) who made such statement(s).

(C) Student Publications Board

(i) When the Editor-in-Chief and Coordinator of Student Publications cannot concur, the Student Publications Board will determine, in accordance with the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, the printability and circulation of materials with respect to avoidance of libel, that is, statements that unjustly expose one to public contempt, realizing that truth is not always a defense; avoidance of indecency or that which describes, in terms patently offensive as measured by contemporary community standards for the print medium, sexual or excretory activities and organs; undocumented allegations, or statements of fact, written or uttered, which have no basis on which they may be proved; attacks on personal integrity; harassment and innuendo or the techniques of persistently annoying one or leading readers to conclusions by veiled, equivocal, or ambiguous reflections on one's character or reputation, and/or threat of substantial disruption.
(ii) The Student Publications Board will recommend policies and guidelines for the student newspaper to the appropriate administrator and will serve as arbiter in case of disputes, whether internal or external, concerning the student newspaper. This avenue of due process for students will be the final level of appeal within the College on such disputes.
(iii) Student Publications Board meetings will be open to the public.
(iv) Composition of the board: The Dean of Humanities will serve as the chairperson; one member approved by the Vice President for Academic Affairs, recommending by the Professional/Administrative Staff Association; two faculty representatives selected by the Faculty Senate (only one may have a journalism background); two student representatives selected by the Student Senate (only one may be a journalism student or affiliated with news staff); and one professional journalist from the community selected by the President. Voting members will serve one-year terms from August 1 through July 31. The Editor-in-Chief and Coordinator will serve ex-officio without voting privileges.
(v) All arbitration by the Student Publications Board will be concluded in as timely a fashion as possible to assure maximum freedom of expression, especially in those cases where time of expression is a critical factor.

Sec. 4-6. Off-campus freedom of students
(a) Exercise of rights of citizenship. College students are both citizens and members of the academic community. As citizens, students will enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and the right of petition that other citizens enjoy; and as members of the academic community, they are subject to the obligations granted to them by virtue of this membership.
Faculty members and administrative officials will insure that institutional powers are not employed to inhibit such intellectual and personal development of students as is often promoted by their exercise of the rights of citizenship, both on and off campus.
(b) Institutional authority and civil penalties. Students who violate the law incur penalties prescribed by civil authorities, but institutional authority will never be used merely to duplicate the function of general law. Only where the institution's interests as an academic community are distinct and clearly involved should the special authority of the institution be asserted. The student who incidentally violates institutional regulations (such as those relating to class attendance), in the course of his/her off-campus activity, will be subject to no greater penalty than would normally be imposed. Institutional action will be independent of community pressure.

Sec. 4-7. Retained rights
The enumeration of the above rights and responsibilities shall in no way be interpreted as denying the existence of other rights and responsibilities which a student holds as a student or citizen.

Sec. 4-8. Student responsibilities
In all aspects of student rights, the student body collectively and individually has the responsibility of participating as citizens of the academic community to assist the College in accomplishing its stated purposes. By virtue of enrolling in Rose State College, a student has indicated that he/she will assume the responsibility for his/her behavior and acknowledge and share the following responsibilities:

1. Legal authority. Students must acknowledge that the only legal authority for the operation of the College belongs to the Board of Regents of the College, who have delegated this authority of the College, to the administration.

2. Student involvement. Students should acknowledge that the primary purpose for their being involved in the administration of appropriate functions of the College is to gain the education it affords the student and to assist the administration in making better decisions.

3. Responsibility for rules and regulations. By enrolling in College, students assume the responsibility for complying with the rules and regulations of the College. Further, students must assist the College in reinforcement of such regulations to provide the greatest educational opportunities to all.

4. Disagreements. The right to disagree has been previously established. However, the student must make sure the disagreement is in good taste, is factual, and is presented with the proper respect for those with whom he/she is disagreeing.

5. Communication with administration. When approaching the administration about any matter, students should go through the established channels of communication. Students must assume responsibility for active participation in student government in order that this organization might continue to be an effective means of communication.

6. Compliance. Students have the responsibility to comply with all regulations established by the Board of Regents of Rose State College and the laws of the State governing student conduct, and such regulations and laws as they may now exist or may be subsequently enacted and adopted shall have precedence over the provisions of this document.

Secs. 4-9 to 4-14. (Reserved for future use)

Sec. 4-15. Special Services

(a) Counseling. Licensed Professional Counselors (LPCs) are available for consultation with students and staff of Rose State College. Their role is to facilitate the learning process of students by assisting them in clarifying basic values, attitudes, interests, and abilities; in making educational and vocational choices; in dealing with personal and emotional difficulties; and in identifying and resolving problems that interfere with the learning process. LPCs are available to assist staff with problems that interfere with work performance also.

(b) Students with disabilities. Students with disabilities attending Rose State College have been provided a physically accessible campus and special services designed to meet their needs. The Coordinator for Disability Services will make arrangements for students with disabilities requiring accommodations for access to programs of instruction and/or services. The Coordinator for Disability Services will coordinate with faculty, staff, or administrators to consider requests and to provide the accommodation when appropriate. The Coordinator for Disability Services will provide the Americans with Disabilities Coordinator copies of accommodation requests and information regarding requests granted on a regular basis.
Sec. 4-16. Enrollment advising

Sec. 4-27. In-state/out-of-state classification

Upon admission to Rose State College, each student will be evaluated for eligibility for in-state tuition rates. Such evaluation, by the Office of Admissions and Records, will be guided by the in-state/out-of-state classification policies of the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education. (For further details, refer to State Regents’ Academic Affairs Procedures Manual online at http://www.okhighered.org/state-system/policy-procedures/part3.shtml).

Sec. 4-28. Admission to programs with additional program requirements
Acceptance into Health Sciences programs and the Legal Assistant program is through action of admissions committees and/or program directors for each program. A limited number of students are accepted in each Health Sciences program. Students new to the College should:

(1) Academic Advisor. Meet with advisor for assignment to the appropriate program director.
(2) Program Director. Meet with program director for academic advisement and program application forms.
(3) Complete the College admission requirements.
(4) Rose State College Catalog. Carefully read the Rose State College Catalog for program requirements in addition to admission to Rose State College.

Sec. 4-29. Transfer students
(a) Academic retention standards. Transferring students must meet the academic retention standards as outlined in Section VIII of the Rose State College Catalog.
(b) Official transcripts. Students who transfer from other higher education institutions to Rose State College must submit, prior to their initial semester at Rose State College, official transcripts from all institutions attended. This is necessary in order to properly advise such students for maximum benefit of their time spent at Rose State College.
(c) Out-of-state college. Undergraduate students wishing to transfer from an out-of-state college or university to Rose State College may do so by meeting the entrance requirements of the College as outlined in the Rose State College Catalog and submitting official transcripts.

Sec. 4-30. International Students and Other Students for Whom English is a Second Language
(a) English proficiency. All students seeking to enroll at a college or university of the State System and for whom English is a second language shall be required to present evidence of proficiency in the English language prior to admission, either as first time students or by transfer from another college or university. The intent of this policy is to admit only those students into an institution who have a reasonable chance of success based on their ability to comprehend and use spoken and written English. Students must either demonstrate their competency in English through passing the test as described below or demonstrate proficiency through successfully completing the State Regents' high school core requirements in an English speaking school. In administering this policy, institutions will err on the side of assuring competency in English. Institutions may not waive this admission requirement as part of the alternative admissions category of admission within the State Regents' general policy on admission.

For students who have not taken their high school core curriculum in an English speaking school, the institutions will use the following minimum standards to determine English language proficiency. The following minimum standards shall be utilized by all State System institutions to determine English language proficiency.

1. TOEFL or IELTS examinations. All applicants shall have taken the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) examination as the first step toward satisfying requirements for admission. Results of TOEFL or IELTS tests taken at International Testing Centers and Special Testing Centers will be accepted at all State System colleges and universities. Results of TOEFL or IELTS tests administered at Institutional Testing Centers shall not be accepted by colleges and universities other than the administering institution.
2. First-time admission for undergraduates. Applicants for first-time admission at the undergraduate level shall be required to present a score of 61 or higher on the internet-based TOEFL test or 500 or higher on the paper-based TOEFL test, or 173 or higher on the computer-based TOEFL test, or 5.5 or higher on the IELTS test in order to meet the standards for unqualified admission to a college or university of the State System. Internet based TOEFL scores will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. An individual not eligible for admission under this standard may be admitted at a State System institution, if he/she presents a score of 48 or higher on the Internet-based TOEFL test, 460 or higher on the paper-based TOEFL test, 140 on the computer-based test, or 5.0 on the IELTS Examination and has, subsequently and immediately prior to admission, successfully completed a minimum of 12 weeks of study at an approved English language center or program operated by an institution of higher learning or a private school approved by the State Regents. System institutions with an approved program of English as a second language may admit students into this program but no other courses without meeting the other requirements of this policy. Alternatively, a student who has both the requisite ACT score for admission to the institution and has taken the high school core requirements will be considered to be proficient in the English language.
3. Extraordinary and deserving cases. The Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records may admit a student who fails to meet the above requirements in extraordinary and deserving cases. In these situations, the applicant must have demonstrated his/her proficiency in the English language prior to admission. Such exceptions must be appropriately documented and reported to the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education annually.
(4) Admission by transfer. Applicants seeking admission by transfer who have attended an accredited college or university for a minimum of 24 semester credit hours with passing grades shall be admitted on the same basis as other transfer students.

(5) Effective date. This policy change became effective upon approval by the State Regents and was revised June 29, 2006, and was effective for the Fall 2006 semester.

(6) Standards. The standards set forth above shall be utilized as minimums by all State System colleges and universities. Institutions wishing to establish higher standards for their own students may do so by submitting a proper and timely application to the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education. No policy establishing higher standards than those above shall be implemented without prior approval of the State Regents.

(b) Additional requirements for international students.

(1) Secondary Transcripts. International students who apply for admission to Rose State College must submit OFFICIAL transcripts of completed secondary school and college credits, with notarized translations. The student shall also complete other requirements for admission as requested by the College.

(2) Transfer of Foreign Credits. Students who have earned college or university credits in a foreign country may transfer these credits on a course by course basis, at the discretion of the College. In some cases, the Office of Admissions and Records may need to verify that the foreign institution is recognized by the Ministry of Education in a certain country before credits may be accepted. The student will be responsible for having an official evaluation of their foreign credentials completed by an outside foreign credential evaluation service. The evaluation service must be a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES). Once complete, the credential evaluation and the official transcript from the foreign institution must both be presented to the Office of Admission and Records, where copies will be made for the student’s academic file. In determining which courses to transfer in to the College, input may be sought from the academic divisions.

(3) TOEFL or IELTS scores. The student must furnish satisfactory proof of proficiency in the English language by presenting a score of 61 or higher on the internet-based test or 500 or higher on the paper-based test or 173 on the computer-based test on the TOEFL or a 5.5 or higher on the IELTS exam.

(4) Health and repatriation insurance. In addition, international students must present proof of health and repatriation insurance prior to formal admission and before each enrollment period.

(5) Financial ability. Evidence of a sponsor’s ability to pay college and living expenses is necessary.

Sec. 4-31. Undocumented Immigrant Students (effective November 1, 2007)

Undocumented immigrant students need to come to the Office of Admissions and Records to have their admission eligibility evaluated.

(a) Admission categories. The three categories of Undocumented Immigrant Students are:

(1) Category I. Students who enrolled in a degree program and received tuition benefits during 2006-07 or prior years (“grandfathered” students), Category I does not include concurrent high school students;

(2) Category II. Students who enrolled in 2007-08 and thereafter;

(3) Category III. Oklahoma’s Promise students.
(b) Admission standards. Rose State College may admit Undocumented Immigrant Students, but admission to the College will not protect the student from any type of government legal action, including deportation. An Undocumented Immigrant Student must not only apply in the Office of Admissions and Records and meet the Rose State College admission criteria set forth by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, including English proficiency outlined in Sec. 4-30, but also must file an affidavit with Rose State College stating that he or she has filed an application or has a petition pending with the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) to legalize his or her immigration status or will file an application to legalize his or her immigration status at the earliest opportunity the student is eligible to do so.

(c) Student records. All documents provided to Rose State College, including immigration affidavits or petitions, shall be maintained in the education record in the Office of Admissions and Records.

(d) Resident classification. All categories of Undocumented Immigrant Students are to be classified as nonresident students. They are not eligible for classification as an Oklahoma resident, but may still be eligible to pay resident tuition and receive state financial aid.

(e) Federal financial aid. No Undocumented Immigrant Student is eligible for any type of federal financial aid.

(f) Resident tuition and state financial aid for Category I – “grandfathered” students. An Undocumented Immigrant Student may be eligible for resident tuition and state financial aid if the student is a Category I “grandfathered” student who meets the following criteria:

1. Graduated from a public or private high school in Oklahoma or received the GED certificate in Oklahoma.

4. Has been admitted and is currently enrolled in a credit course at Rose State College;
5. Has filed an affidavit with Rose State College stating that the student has filed an application or has a petition pending with the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to legalize the student’s immigration status or will file an application to legalize his or her immigration status at the earliest opportunity the student is eligible to do so.

(A) If the five above provisions have been met, Category I “grandfathered” students are eligible to receive awards for the following state financial aid programs: Oklahoma Tuition Aid Grant (OTAG), Academic Scholars Program, Oklahoma Tuition Equalization Grant (OTEG), Regional University Baccalaureate Scholarship, National Guard Tuition Waiver, Future Teachers Scholarship, Tulsa Reconciliation Scholarship, any other state-funded scholarship, and any institutional financial aid (including tuition waivers).

(g) Resident tuition and state financial aid for Category II – Students enrolled in 2007-08 and thereafter. The requirements are separate for resident tuition and state financial aid for Category II students.

An Undocumented Immigrant Student may be eligible for resident tuition if the student is a Category II student who meets the following criteria:

1. Graduated from a public or private high school in Oklahoma. Note: GED or home school education will not establish eligibility for any student.
An Undocumented Immigrant Student may be eligible for state financial aid if the student is a Category II student who meets the following criteria:

1. Graduated from a public or private high school in Oklahoma. Note: GED or home school education will not establish eligibility for state financial aid for any student. This provision does not apply to home school students with respect to Oklahoma’s Promise. These students are addressed in Sec. (h) of this policy.

2. Resided in Oklahoma with a parent or legal guardian while attending a public or private high school in Oklahoma for at least two (2) years prior to graduation. This provision does not apply to home school students with respect to Oklahoma’s Promise.

3. Rose State College admission standards, as determined by the Oklahoma State Regents, have been met.

4. Has been admitted and is currently enrolled in a credit course at Rose State College.

5. Has provided Rose State College a copy of a true and correct application or petition filed with the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services to legalize the student’s immigration status or file an affidavit with Rose State College stating that the student will file an application to legalize his or her immigration status at the earliest opportunity he or she is able to do so, but in no case later than either: (a) one year after the date on which the student enrolls for study at the institution; or (b) if there is no formal process to permit children of parents without lawful immigration status to apply for lawful status without risk of deportation, one year after the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) provides such a formal process. Students who file an affidavit with Rose State College must provide a copy of a true and correct application or petition filed with USCIS no later than either (a) one year after the date on which the student enrolls for study at the institution; or (b) if there is no formal process to permit children of parents without lawful immigration status to apply for lawful status without risk of deportation, one year after the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) provides such a formal process.

Oklahoma’s Promise students who enrolled in the program as 8th, 9th, or 10th-grade students on or before July 2, 2007, can establish eligibility for that program by filing an affidavit as explained in Sec. (h) of this policy.

(A) Category II Undocumented Immigrant Students who do not provide or present Rose State College with a copy of a true and correct application or petition filed with the USCIS to legalize the student’s immigration status, the affidavit which establishes eligibility for resident tuition does not establish eligibility for state financial aid. Oklahoma’s Promise students who enrolled in the program as 8th, 9th, or 10th-grade students on or before July 2, 2007, can establish eligibility for that program by filing an affidavit as explained in Sec. (h) of this policy.
(B) Category II Undocumented Immigrant Students who do not provide or present Rose State College with a copy of a true and correct application or petition filed with the USCIS are eligible for: financial aid that is funded only from private or non-state sources such as foundations, or concurrent enrollment tuition waivers and cooperative alliance tuition waivers.

(h) Category III – Oklahoma’s Promise students. The two groups of Oklahoma’s Promise students are (Group A) those students enrolled in Oklahoma’s Promise on or before July 2, 2007, and (Group B) those students enrolled in Oklahoma’s Promise after July 2, 2007. Group A students are Oklahoma high school graduates of 2008 and 2009 and are eligible for the college award. Also, 2010 high school graduates who enrolled in the program in 8th grade (2005-06) or 9th grade (2006-07), and 2011 high school graduates who enrolled in the program in 8th grade (2006-07) are in Group A. Group B students are those who graduate high school in 2010 who enrolled in the program in the 10th grade (2007-08), those who graduate in 2011 who enrolled in the program in the 9th grade (2007-08) or 10th grade (2008-09), and those who graduate high school in 2012 and thereafter. If a student was not enrolled in the Oklahoma’s Promise program on or before July 2, 2007, he or she cannot receive the college award.

(1) Group A students (including current college students) are eligible to receive the award by providing or presenting a copy of an affidavit or petition filed with USCIS or by filing the Oklahoma’s Promise affidavit. This affidavit recognizes that Oklahoma’s Promise students may be home schooled. To qualify for resident tuition, Group A of the Oklahoma’s Promise students must also file the Category I affidavit or the Category II affidavit, whichever is applicable.

(2) Group B students must be a United States citizen or lawfully present in the United States at the time they enter Rose State College to receive the program award. For Group B, neither the Oklahoma’s Promise affidavit nor the copy of an application or petition filed with USCIS will establish eligibility for the award. Rose State College must verify that the student is a U.S. citizen or lawfully present in the United States as defined by the USCIS, evidenced by whatever documents may be required under federal law. The first Group B students are expected to enter college in 2010.

Sec. 4-32. Classification of students
Students with degree objectives who have successfully completed 30 semester hours are classified as sophomores; those with fewer than 30 hours are classified as freshmen. Students who have no degree or program objectives are classified as special students.

(b) Credit. A student may be awarded credit in a course which he/she has previously audited by either repeating the course for credit or successfully completing an extra institutional examination. The fee structure for auditing a course is the same as the credit hour enrollment. A student may not audit a course for which he/she has a curricular or performance deficiency. An audit in a course that is a prerequisite to another course is not evidence that the prerequisite has been satisfied.

(c) Procedures. Procedures for auditing a course will be administered by the Office of Admissions and Records. No audits will be approved prior to the first week of classes in any semester. Auditing of lab courses will not, as a general rule, be permitted.

(d) Change. Persons enrolled in courses for audit may not change their enrollment to credit after the change of schedule period. With appropriate approval, a student enrolled in courses for credit may change to audit status any time through the first half of a session (four weeks of an 8-week session, eight weeks of a 16-week session, etc.).

Students eligible for participation in inter-collegiate athletic programs are considered full-time when enrolled in 12 credit hours or more, which is in compliance with regulations of the NJCAA. Students may be required to limit their course loads if placement test scores indicate that such limitation is desirable. Such students may also be required to take selected courses.
(b) Three-quarter time. A student is considered three-quarter time when enrolled in 9-11 credit hours during a 16-week semester or two consecutive 8-week sessions in the same semester.
(c) Half-time. A student is considered half-time when enrolled in 6-8 credit hours during a 16-week semester or two consecutive 8-week sessions in the same semester.

(3) If the documents listed in item 2 are not available, then the student must demonstrate proof of usage by providing proof that he or she is the person whose name is to be changed. (1) College-assigned email address. All Rose State College students are assigned a student email account. The College will direct all electronic communication to the College-assigned email address.

(2) Other email address. A student may have email electronically redirected to another email address. If a student wishes to have email redirected from his or her official address to another email address, the student may do so at his or her own risk. The College will not be responsible for the handling of email by external services beyond the College’s assigned student email. Having email redirected does not absolve a student from the responsibilities associated with communications sent to his or her official email address. Admissions and Records may send communications to applicants’ other email addresses as provided by applicants in relation to the online application.

(3) Monitoring email communications. Students are expected to monitor the College-assigned student email account on a frequent and consistent basis in order to remain informed by the College.

Sec. 4-42. Change in enrollment schedule Change of schedule request. First-time students who want to change their enrollment schedules can drop and add courses through the first-time advisement office located in the Student Services Building, Room 100. Transfer and returning students in good academic standing can drop and add courses through the Rose State College online enrollment system, division advisor.

Deadlines for dropping and adding courses are recorded in the class schedule for each individual semester.

Schedule changes made each semester before classes begin and during the Add/Drop periods of each session will not reflect the "W" mark (meaning Withdrawal) on the student's record.

After the Add/Drop period, the mark of "W" will appear on all courses from which the student withdraws.

(b) Complete withdrawal from College. If a student finds it necessary to withdraw from the College, he/she is encouraged to meet with an academic advisor and should then report to the Office of Admissions and Records in the Administration Building to complete the necessary form, fax in a signed letter prior to the deadline to withdraw, or mail in a signed letter postmarked prior to the deadline to withdraw. A complete withdrawal may also be done on the Rose State College web page. Complete withdrawal may not be done by phone. A student may withdraw from the College according to the following schedule:

1. Prior to the end of the 12th week in a 16-week session.
2. Prior to the end of the 6th week of any 8-week session.
3. Prior to the end of the 3rd week of any 4-week session.
4. Prior to the last three class periods of an interim session.

(c) Special permission. If a student wishes to drop courses or withdraw from the College after the last day to drop courses or withdraw from the College until the end of the appropriate session, the requests must first be approved by the professor and the Division Dean before the student submits the completed form to the Office of Admissions and Records. If a student is unable to come to campus due to illness or other reasons, he/she must send a written request to the Vice President for Academic Affairs and follow the same procedure as above before the end of the appropriate session.

(d) Appeals. If a student is unable to drop courses or withdraw from the College within the time frames of the schedule stated in part (b) above or from a special permission request as stated in part (c) above, he/she may appeal for the drop(s)/withdrawal through the Academic Grade Appeals Committee. Appeals for this purpose, as with any challenges of a grade, must be made within ninety (90) days after the grade in question appears on the permanent record. A student who wishes to appeal a grade through the Academic Grade Appeals Committee may begin procedures through the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Secs. 4-44 to 4-50. (Reserved for future use)

Sec. 4-51. Class attendance: expected, responsibility of students, etc.
(a) Class attendance. Punctual and regular class attendance is expected of all students. This is considered the responsibility of the student. It is also the responsibility of the student to consult with his/her professors when an absence must be excused. Professors are given the prerogative of determining the excusableness of student absences except absences for school-sponsored activities and legally required jury duty, which shall be deemed excusable. A student is also responsible for all class work covered during his/her absence from class, even in classes in which he/she is able to satisfy the professor that the absence was unavoidable. Failure to attend class regularly may result in a recommendation for the student to withdraw from class or from College. Students who cease attending a class but do not withdraw from that class may receive a grade of F for the course.

(b) Guidelines for attendance report. Attendance will be taken in each class at Rose State College each time that class meets. Attendance provides the opportunity for quality instruction to augment textual materials in the learning process for all students. In addition, records must be kept for students receiving financial aid of any type. Certain steps are necessary for full compliance with institutional policies and the additional regulations concerning attendance.

Sec. 4-52. Payment of accounts

It is expected that students will make satisfactory arrangements for the settling of accounts promptly. Failure on the part of a student to make satisfactory arrangements for the settlement of an account by the due date may result in a late payment penalty; continued failure to settle the College account will result in either the cancellation of the student's enrollment or the placing of a "hold" on the student's official records. If it becomes necessary to place a "hold" on the student's records, he/she may neither re-enroll, receive a diploma, nor obtain a transcript until he/she has:

1. Cleared the account.
2. Service charge. Paid a service charge to cover the administrative expense involved in placing a "hold" on his/her records if such is deemed appropriate by responsible officials.

Secs. 4-53 to 4-55. (Reserved for future use)

Sec. 4-56. Graduation and retention policies

(a) Graduation requirements. Students pursuing the Associate in Arts or the Associate in Science degree must have earned a minimum 2.00 graduation grade point average. The grade point average includes all course work attempted and excludes any course work repeated or reprieved under the terms of the College's Academic Forgiveness Policy. In addition, some academic programs may require students to validate competencies in courses designated as program requirements if the courses were taken five years or more prior to the completion of the program. Students may receive an additional associate degree at Rose State College if they complete a minimum of an additional 15 credit hours at Rose State College for a different degree program, in addition to the credit hours required for one degree. The additional 15 credit hours for the additional degree must apply toward the second degree/major.

(b) Academic Status Classification. A student is expected to make satisfactory progress toward a degree, certificate, or other approved objective. A 2.00 grade average (based on a 4.00 scale) is considered minimum for satisfactory progress. Failure to maintain a proper grade average will place the student in one of the following academic status categories:
(1) Academic Notice. Academic Notice signifies that the student is not making normal academic progress. It is a condition that could lead to serious academic problems if academic performance does not improve. The student is urged to seek advice and guidance from an academic advisor.

(2) Academic Probation. Academic Probation signifies that the student has failed to maintain the necessary grade average on all work completed and must seek permission to enroll from the Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records.

(3) Academic Suspension. Academic Suspension signifies that the student has failed to achieve the required grade average while on Academic Probation and will not be permitted to enroll at RSC for a minimum period of a 16-week fall or spring semester.

(c) Cumulative GPA requirements. A student will be placed on academic probation if he/she fails to meet the following requirements:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Cumulative Credit Hours</th>
<th>Attempted GPA Requirement</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0 through 30 semester credit hours</td>
<td>1.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greater than 30 semester credit hours</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Freshmen students, 30 or fewer credit hours, with a GPA of 1.7 to less than 2.00 will be placed on academic notice.

The 2.00 GPA required for retention does not include grades earned in activity and/or performance courses not related to the student's degree objective. He/she will not be allowed to enroll at Rose State College for a minimum period of a 16-week semester (fall or spring). Students who are admitted on probation after having been suspended for poor academic performance will be required to enroll in and successfully complete EDUC 1103, Educational Planning.

(d) Academic Repeat. Effective with the Fall 1995 semester, a student may, with the College Registrar's approval, repeat up to a maximum of four courses but not to exceed 18 credit hours to meet retention and/or graduation standards. Requirements for academic repeat include:

(1) only the first four courses repeated in which grades of "D" or "F" were earned may be used for retention or graduation grade point average calculation;

(2) the repeated course grade, even if lower than the original grade, will be used in calculations;

(3) transfer course equivalency will be verified by the appropriate academic division;

(4) if a course is repeated more than once, all grades earned--except the first one--will be used to calculate the retention and/or graduation grade point averages;

(5) a student who repeats more than 18 credit hours will have the original grade and the repeated grade averaged on the additional courses. To apply for academic repeat or receive more information about the procedure, students may visit with the Assistant Director or Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records in ADM 100. An application for academic forgiveness must be filed in the office of Admissions and Records. Academic forgiveness must be requested prior to the end of a student’s graduating term.
(e) Academic Reprieve. Effective with the Fall 1992 semester, a currently enrolled student may, with the College Registrar's approval, reprieve all coursework taken in up to two consecutive semesters of enrollment. Requirements for academic reprieve include: at least three years must have elapsed between the time the grades were earned and the reprieve request; prior to requesting the reprieve, the student must have earned a grade point average of 2.00 or higher with no grade lower than a "C" in all regularly graded coursework (minimum of twelve credit hours) excluding activity or performance courses.

The courses reprieved will not be used in calculating the student's retention and graduation grade point averages, but all courses and grades will be reflected on the student's transcript with the cumulative grade point average. Only one academic reprieve will be granted each student during his/her academic career and is not applicable if a degree has been earned. A student utilizing the Academic Reprieve Policy may not also use academic renewal.

To apply for academic reprieve or receive more information about the procedure, students may visit with the Assistant Director or Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records in ADM 100. An application for academic forgiveness must be filed in the office of Admissions and Records. Academic forgiveness must be requested prior to the end of a student’s graduating term.

(f) Academic Renewal. Academic renewal is a provision allowing a student who has had academic trouble in the past and who has been out of higher education for at least five years to recover without penalty and have a fresh start. Under Academic Renewal, course work taken prior to a date specified by the College is not counted in the student’s graduation/retention GPA. A student may receive only one academic renewal in his/her academic career. A student utilizing the Academic Renewal Policy may not also use academic reprieve.

Effective with the Fall 2004 semester, a student currently enrolled at Rose State College may request Academic Renewal within the following guidelines: (1) At least five years must have elapsed between the last semester being renewed and the renewal request; (2) Prior to requesting Academic Renewal, the student must have earned a GPA of 2.0 or higher with no grade lower than a “C” in all regularly graded course work (a minimum of 12 hours) excluding activity or performance courses; (3) The request will be for all courses completed before the date specified in the request for renewal; and (4) All courses referred to in (3) above remain on the student’s transcript, but are not calculated in the student’s retention/graduation GPA and may not be used to fulfill any degree or graduation requirements.

To apply for Academic Renewal or receive more information regarding the procedure, students may visit with the Assistant Director or Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records, ADM 100. An application for academic forgiveness must be filed in the office of Admissions and Records. Academic forgiveness must be requested prior to the end of a student’s graduating term.

Sec. 4-57. Policy on Academic Suspension

(a) Academic suspension appeals. Rose State College students who have been placed on academic suspension for a first time may petition the Admissions Committee for reinstatement based on documented extraordinary personal circumstances that contributed to his/her academic deficiencies.
(b) Reinstatement of suspended students. A student who is academically suspended by Rose State College the first time may be considered for reinstatement after one sixteen week semester (fall or spring). Appropriate Admissions and Records staff will interview each student making a request for reinstatement and inform him/her of the academic progress that is expected. Students reinstated after one sixteen week semester of suspension must satisfactorily complete, during the first semester of reinstatement, EDUC 1103, Educational Planning, and must progress academically as specified in the State Regents' policy for probationary students. A student suspended from Rose State College for the second time may receive consideration for reinstatement after one year (two full semesters, fall and spring) and only after he/she has demonstrated, by attending another institution, the ability to succeed academically by raising his/her cumulative GPA to the retention standards.

(c) Reinstatement of suspended students at state system institutions. Students suspended from any other Oklahoma State System institutions may be eligible for admission to Rose State College. Each student seeking admission to Rose State College under this category will be interviewed by appropriate Admissions and Records staff and advised of the requirements for admission. These requirements include satisfactory completion, during the first semester of reinstatement, of EDUC 1103, Educational Planning, and the planning of a class schedule with an academic advisor. Each student will be informed of the availability of tutoring, study skills instruction, and counseling. Students admitted in this category will be placed on academic probation and must meet the State Regents' Retention Standards.

(d) Summer exception to Suspension Policy. Students suspended in the spring semester may attend, at the discretion of the suspending institution, the summer session immediately following spring suspension. However, such students may enroll only in core academic courses which meet the general education requirements or degree requirements. Only students under first-time suspension status at the suspending institution are eligible. To continue in that fall semester, such students must achieve a 2.0 semester GPA or raise their retention GPA to the required level.

(b) University parallel programs. A student who is enrolled in a university parallel program should consult the catalog of the institution to which he/she plans to transfer or the proper officials of that institution in designing his/her course of study at Rose State College. Transferability of grades or courses toward a certain curriculum should also be reviewed with a member of the advisement staff at Rose State College.

The students of Rose State College shall have freedom to organize and join associations to promote their common interests in accordance with the policies established by the Student Senate and the policies regarding organizations established by the Board of Regents of Rose State College.

(2) Affiliation. Affiliation with an extramural organization will not itself disqualify a student organization from recognition, so long as the former does not exercise any control over the student organization.

(3) Advisor. Each organization will be free to choose its own faculty/staff advisor. Advisors may advise organizations in the exercise of responsibility, but they will not have the authority to control the policy of such organizations. Advisors will act in accordance with the policies established for organizational advisors in this “Policies and Procedures Manual.”

(4) Affirmative action. All student organizations will be open to all students without regard to race, color, sex, age, national origin, religion, disability, sexual orientation, or status as a veteran.

The advisor should attend the organization's meetings, assist its officers in planning the program, and serve as a resource person for the group. Any advisor who is consistently overbearing and abusive of the advisory role will be dismissed from the position and not permitted to work with the organization on any future events or activities. (2) Apartments and Amenities. The Village at Rose State will be comprised of two floor plans to include two bedrooms/two bathrooms and four bedrooms/two bathrooms. Each unit will have access to amenities such as: furnished apartment; proximity to campus; paid utilities (electricity and internet service); kitchen (with stove and oven); campus security; gated parking; gated community; outdoor volleyball; outdoor gazebo; and a clubhouse with a laundry facility, TV lounge, pool table, table tennis, and a community safe room.

(b) Applicability of Residence Life Policies and Procedures. For policies and procedures governing Residence Life and The Village at Rose State, please see the The Village at Rose State Community Living & Standards Handbook located in the Rose State College Student Handbook as incorporated by reference in the Student Housing Contract. The Student Housing Contract can be located at http://www.rose.edu/student-housing-contract and shall apply to all students residing at the Village at Rose State along with their visitors and guests. The administrative procedures for The Village at Rose State are contained in the Rose State College Student Handbook and enforced by the Student Housing Contract.

Sec. 4-105. Philosophy and purpose of the Student Code of Conduct

(a) Purpose. The purpose of the Student Code of Conduct is viewed to be two-fold:

1. Guidance. The guidance and redirection of an offending student toward a productive career as a learner in an academic setting and as a citizen, and
2. Learning and social climate. The elimination from the academic environment of those who have demonstrated flagrant disregard of its values and traditions and whose conduct and presence constitute a disruptive influence upon the learning and social climate. Justice mechanically administered and untempered by kindness, human judgment, and sincere concern is cold and has no place on the College campus. These procedures are directed toward the assurance of a fair judgment for the student through complete case information, opportunity to be heard, opportunity for friendly counsel, and such safeguards of rights as may easily be understood by educators, laymen, and students who have mutual confidence in one another.

(b) Applicability of the Student Code of Conduct. The Student Code shall apply to students who are enrolled in the College. It shall apply to conduct that occurs on Rose State College premises, at Rose State College sponsored activities, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the Rose State College Community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. While visitors to the College are clearly not subject to the Code of Conduct, the Code of Conduct shall serve as a guide to visitors to demonstrate the conduct the College believes is appropriate for the campus as well as off-campus events and activities. The Code of Conduct and its administrative procedures and remedies are contained in the Rose State College Student Handbook.

Sec. 4-106. Purpose of the Threat Assessment & Behavioral Intervention Team (TABIT)

As a result of growing national trends on college campuses of mental health issues and potential threats to campus safety stemming from behavioral issues, the College created the Threat Assessment and Behavioral Intervention Team (TABIT). In order to promote the safety and health of its students, the TABIT addresses alleged concerning student behaviors that are disruptive and may include mental health and/or safety issues.

The TABIT consists of a group of qualified and dedicated RSC professionals whose mission is to:

- Balance the individual needs of the student and those of the greater campus community
- Provide a structured positive method for addressing student behaviors that impact the campus community and may involve mental health and/or safety issues
- Manage each case individually
- Initiate appropriate intervention without immediately resorting to punitive measures
- Eliminate “fragmented care”

The TABIT provides the campus community with the necessary information to refer students in psychological distress, or who are experiencing personal crises, to the appropriate resources on-campus. The TABIT is a proactive approach to coordinate and plan responses to identify, assess, manage, reduce and educate the campus community as to the risk of individual harm or interpersonal violence. To activate the TABIT and make a non-emergency referral call the Dean of Students at (405) 736-0355 during normal business hours. If a student is about to harm themselves (suicide attempt) or others, and the situation presents an imminent threat to safety constituting an emergency, please call Campus Security at (405) 733-7313 or 911. The TACIT and its administrative procedures are contained in the Rose State College Student Handbook. If you see something, say something.

Secs. 4-107 to 4-140. (Reserved for future use)

Sec. 4-141. Student Discrimination Grievance Policy
Rose State College explicitly condemns discrimination toward students, staff, and faculty on the basis of race, color, sex, age, national origin, religion, disability, sexual orientation, or status as a veteran. The College is committed to providing a study and work environment free from discrimination and to ensuring the accessibility of appropriate grievance procedures for addressing all complaints regarding discrimination. The grievance procedures are contained in the Rose State College Student Handbook.

Sec. 4-142. Complaints regarding employees, students or other individuals Individuals may express complaints other than those based on discrimination (See Sec. 4-141) according to the following procedure.
(a) General employee complaint. If an individual has a complaint regarding an employee of the College, then the individual should first make a good faith effort to address and resolve the issue with the employee. If this is either unsuccessful or not practical, then the individual should take the issue to the employee's immediate supervisor. If this step is either unsuccessful or not practical, then the individual should proceed up the chain of command until the Executive Council level is reached, if necessary. If the individual should have questions regarding the chain of command for the employee, the student should consult the Office of Human Resources for guidance. If, in the individual's opinion, the issue is not resolved at the Vice President's level, then the individual should seek the guidance of the Office of Human Resources. Once the Office of Human Resources has heard the complaint and made a decision regarding action, then all administrative remedies have been exhausted regardless of the individual's opinion of such decision.

(b) General student complaint. If a student has a complaint regarding another student enrolled at the College, then the student should first make a good faith effort to address and resolve the issue with the student. If this is either unsuccessful or not practical, then the student should seek the guidance of the Director, Student Conduct. If there is an issue of student misconduct, then the Administrative Procedures for Student Conduct (see Sec. 4-108) shall govern. If there is no issue of student misconduct, then the Office of Student Life shall not have any authority to intervene, and all administrative remedies shall have been exhausted.

(c) Other individual complaints. If an individual has a complaint regarding another individual who is not an employee or enrolled at the College as a student, then the individual filing the complaint should follow the process outlined under (a) General employee complaint, p. II-4-30.

Sec. 4-143. Retaliation.

No reprisals or retaliation shall be allowed to occur as a result of the good faith reporting of charges misconduct, discrimination, unlawful harassment and/or any other complaint. Any attempt to penalize or retaliate against a person for filing a complaint or participating in the investigation of a complaint of misconduct, discrimination, and/or unlawful harassment will be treated as a separate and distinct violation of this policy.

Sec. 4-144. Campus visitors and groups wishing to distribute information or literature

Any person, group, or organization wishing to distribute information on campus, either in written or oral form, shall be required to register with the Office of Student Engagement. The Office of Student Engagement will review the proposed materials and message contained therein to determine the proper venue, distribution method, and time. The College retains the right to control the time, place, and manner of distributed information and at all times reserving the right to protect the safety of the campus, the peacefulness of the academic environment, and the normal and efficient function of College business. They Office of Student Engagement will designate a time and place for the person, group, or organization to distribute its information. The distributors of information should let members of the College community approach them and should refrain from aggressively soliciting College community members to engage in any dialogue or take any unwanted materials. Any person, group, or organization that violates any of the protocols stated above or otherwise causes a disturbance, produces continued complaints from the Campus, or disrupts the normal function of the College will be asked to leave immediately and may be subject to Campus Police escort off campus.

Sec. 4-145. Student Handbook

The Vice President for Student Affairs and Marketing shall prepare and publish, or cause to be prepared and published, the Student Handbook as need arises. The Student Handbook shall contain such rules and regulations of the College and such other information as are deemed appropriate and of particular interest to students. Rules and regulations of the College formally stated in other College documents and included therein may be changed in phraseology and form but shall not be changed in substance.

Sec. 4-146. Emergency message notification of student procedure

See Sec. 3-40.

Sec. 4-147. Settlement of debts and transcripts
Before transcripts are released, all financial obligations to the College must be satisfied.

Sec. 4-148. Visitors in the classroom

Visitors, including but not limited to parents, spouses, and children of students, are not allowed to visit classrooms without the prior consent of the professor or the division’s administrators. Persons who cause a disruption or disturbance that threatens the normal function of the College will be asked to leave campus.
SECTION 5
INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Note: For the Information Technology Department, see Chapter II, Sections 1-41, et seq. of this Manual.

Sec. 5-1. Computer Equipment Purchasing Policy
To ensure as much consistency and compatibility as possible in the acquisition of computer equipment, the request for purchase of any computer equipment will be reviewed and approved by the Vice President for Information Technology.

Sec. 5-2. Information Technology service request
Requests for assistance from Information Technology should be entered into the electronic HelpDesk system through the IT Services Help Desk Request located on the RSC Applications Menu on the College’s Internal Web. An email service request message to a specific individual in IT Services is not appropriate. All requests must be sent to HelpDesk in order to get processed through the request management system. Questions should be directed to the Vice President for Information Technology, extension 7356.

Sec. 5-3. Computer Usage Policy Statement
(a) Computer provision. The College provides a wide variety of computer resources and facilities for use by Rose State College students, faculty, and staff. In addition, limited library system access is provided to individuals from authorized high schools and institutions of higher education.

The College's computer resources and facilities are provided to facilitate and enhance all aspects of the College's primary mission of education. College students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to make use of these assets in as many and varied ways as is consistent and appropriate with the policies detailed below. These policies are not meant to restrict or inhibit creativity or originality. However, it is necessary to establish policy and conditions to insure that resources are not compromised, equipment damaged and/or illegal acts performed. Anyone who has questions about proper usage of the College computer assets should contact appropriate faculty or supervisory personnel.

Policies for utilization of College computers are developed to conform to state and federal law. State law, under the Oklahoma Computer Crimes Act, makes it a felony to willfully exceed the limits of authorization and damage, modify, alter, destroy, copy, delete, disclose or take possession of a computer, computer system, computer network or any other property; and makes it a misdemeanor to willfully and without authorization provide or assist in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system or computer network (Oklahoma Statutes Annotated; Title 21 - Crimes & Punishments; Section 1953). Conviction of a felony or misdemeanor under the Oklahoma Computer Crimes Act is punishable by a fine, imprisonment, or both a fine and imprisonment.

Faculty, staff, and students are expected to abide by the policies listed below. Failure to follow the policies may lead to the suspension of computer privileges or other disciplinary action. Faculty and staff should refer to Section II, General Policies, paragraph D in the personnel chapter regarding failure to follow College policy. Students should refer to the section of Rules and Regulations in the College Student Handbook.

Federal law concerning copyright law is clear. Title 17 of the U.S. Code states that it is illegal to make or distribute copies of copyrighted material without authorization (Section 106). The only exception is the users' right to make a backup copy for archival purposes (Section 117). It is illegal to make copies of software for any other purpose.

A quote from the Software Publishers Association's "Software Use and The Law" emphasizes copyright: "Educational institutions are not exempt from the copyright laws. To the contrary, because of their unique position of influence, schools must remain committed to upholding the copyright laws. Just as it would be wrong to buy one textbook and photocopy it for use by other students, it is wrong for a school to duplicate software without authority from the manufacturer."

Computer Usage Policies are as follows:

1. Assignment of logon identification. User accounts for the network will be assigned to authorized computer users by RSC Information Technology personnel. An individual must only use a computer logon identification (ID) that is specifically assigned to him/her, unless the logon ID is a designated multiple access ID.

2. Network password. The network password policy that applies to all College employee network logons is as follows:
   (i) The password needs to be changed every 120 days.
   (ii) The password needs to meet the following criteria:
       • A minimum of 8 characters and a maximum of 127 characters in length
       • Contain three of the four following characteristics:
         -- Uppercase A-Z
         -- Lower case a-z
         -- Utilize numbers 0 through 9
         -- Non-alphabetic characters (e.g. ! $ & % *)
       • The password CANNOT contain all or part of your user name.
       • Upon changing a password, there is a five-day waiting period prior to changing your password again.
       • There is a five password history. (i.e., The new password cannot be identical to your five previously used passwords.)

3. User ID. An individual must not attempt to obtain a logon password to another computer user's logon ID.

4. Unauthorized access to remote computers. The College's network resources must not be used to gain unauthorized access to remote computers, systems, or data.

5. Modification or copying. A program and/or system boot media supplied to campus users by Information Technology staff, computer lab personnel, or any other RSC employee authorized to distribute software may not be modified or copied by the user.

6. Legal contracts. The terms of all software licensing agreements and copyright laws will be enforced as a legal contract. Individuals are required to adhere to applicable software license agreements and/or copyright laws when using campus computers, servers, software, or systems.

7. Computer virus. An individual must not knowingly run, install, or give to another, a program or data file which could be classified as or contain a computer virus, worm, or Trojan horse. Information Technology shall be notified if a hard disk or other media is suspected of having a virus or malware.

(8) Systems protection. Attempts to circumvent data protection schemes or uncover security loopholes are forbidden except when formally authorized by the President or Vice President for Information Technology. Academic-related activities of this nature, whether sponsored by, or at the discretion of, a professor or academic official, must be pre-approved or sanctioned by the President or Vice President for Information Technology.

(9) Damaging acts. An individual must not deliberately perform an act which will seriously hinder or damage the operation or performance of campus systems or the network environment. For example, using a computing account to create, distribute, or respond to chain letters or overly broad mass mailings or postings is inappropriate conduct.

(10) User files. An individual must not attempt to access, read, copy, change, or delete another user's files or software without that user's permission.

(11) Monitoring another user. No one shall attempt to monitor another user's computer access or communication except by authorized personnel or by designation of the Vice President for Information Technology.

(12) Personal use. The College's computer resources must not be used for personal financial gain. For example, use of College computer resources to support a personal business is not permissible.

(13) Inappropriate conduct. Other inappropriate conduct that will not be tolerated includes, but is not limited to:

   (A) Obscene, offensive, threatening, harassing, or intimidating material entered into the computer and sent by electronic means.

   (B) Viewing pictures of a pornographic nature when such images are able to be viewed by others who are offended by them; and, mailing, printing, or copying obscene materials.

   (C) Unauthorized activities that libel or inappropriately embarrass or denigrate an individual or organization.

   (D) Activities that imply College endorsement of any commercial products.

   (E) Attempts to gain unauthorized access to College software, data, computers, servers, or appliances via methods initiated either on campus or off campus.

(14) Physical security requirements for sensitive information. Campus areas that store sensitive data or materials are required to do so in a secure manner. This includes physically securing environments where such materials are housed or stored. Doors, cabinets, and drawers should be locked to preclude unauthorized access when not under the supervision of staff. In the event of a breach of physical security, the campus Police Department should be contacted immediately. Theft or loss of secure information, data, or materials should be immediately communicated to both the campus Police Department and the Information Technology Department.

(15) Responsibility for Safeguarding College-Related Data, Files, and Information. This policy refers to the safeguarding of college-related data, files, and information that is accessed or utilized by college staff, faculty, students, and contractors or vendors. If college staff, faculty, students, and contractors or vendors access sensitive college-related data, files, and information, those individuals are required to safeguard data, files, and information in a responsible manner regardless of the method in which it is viewed, accessed, handled, or transmitted, including but not limited to physical or electronic devices, virtual or online... methods, and physical or electronic mediums that are either personally-owned or college-owned or college-provided. Failure to safeguard sensitive data, files, and information could result in identity theft, breach of data integrity, or violation of federal, state, or local laws. Violations of this policy, including abuse or mishandling of sensitive college, data, information, or files may be subject to criminal, civil, or disciplinary action including the possibility of termination of employment.

(16) Acceptable Use Policy for Tablets, Thumb Drives and External Storage Devices, Personal Cell phones, and Other Mobile Devices. This policy refers to the use of tablets, thumb drives and external storage devices, personal cell phones, and other mobile devices that contain College email, data, and/or files stored on them. This policy must be followed to safeguard both personal and College information and applies to all college employees and faculty, students, and anyone using college computer systems, including contractors and vendors. All college entities must take measures to ensure these procedures are consistently implemented. This policy represents a minimum standard for compliance.

Any college-related data, files, or information placed upon tablets, thumb drives and external storage devices, cell phones, and other mobile devices whether college-owned or personally-owned may be subject to the Oklahoma Open Records Act and any other applicable federal, state, or local laws.

Individuals accessing sensitive college data, files, and information are personally responsible for taking necessary precautions to safeguard sensitive data, files, and information from access or viewing by unauthorized persons, including the general public at large. While it is preferable that college-owned devices are utilized for conducting college academic or business functions, personal devices may be voluntarily utilized in conducting college-related functions where applicable or deemed acceptable by immediate supervisors or other appropriate college administrators. Acceptable use of the affected devices, including personally-owned devices, must follow any regulatory compliance demanded by current applicable laws and policy, including this policy. In doing this, those subject to this policy are advised that the sensitivity of some data, information, or files may prohibit them from allowing them to use personal mobile computing devices for college academic or business functions.

Personally-owned devices are subject to review or access by Information Technology staff when required for purposes of assessing or securing sensitive data, files, and information on the device.

Data, files, and information that is accessed or stored using a mobile computing device, thumb drive, external storage device, or either a college or personal cell phone shall be handled in a manner that is ethical, responsible, and adheres to official and legal use within the boundaries of that person’s officially designated or assigned role with the institution in conducting academic or business functions.

As college-related data, files, and information is under the legal purview, oversight, and management of Rose State College, Information Technology Services staff are authorized to access college-owned or personally-owned devices where such college-related data, files, or information reside or are accessed in order to ensure data integrity or proactively address security deficiencies or threats. If a mobile computing device, thumb drive, external storage device, or either a college or personal cell phone containing sensitive college-related data, files, or information is lost, stolen, destroyed, upgraded, or an unexpected change in ownership has occurred, it must be reported within 48 hours to the employee’s immediate supervisor and to the Information Technology Services department via helpdesk request or calling the main ITS office at (405) 733-7356.

Violations of this policy, including abuse or mishandling of sensitive college, data, information, or files may be subject to criminal, civil, or disciplinary action including the possibility of termination of employment.

(17) Requirement for Periodic Changing of Passwords. This policy refers to a requirement for periodically changing passwords to college-provided and college-sponsored or hosted user accounts and information system accesses. This policy must be followed to safeguard both personal and College information and applies to all college employees and faculty, students, and anyone using college computer systems, including contractors and vendors.

All college staff, faculty, and students shall be required to change their account or system-level accesses upon first-time login, at established intervals, or other designated occasions as prescribed by the college’s Information Technology Services department or Vice President of Information Technology.

Violations of this policy, including abuse or mishandling of college accounts or system accesses, may be subject to criminal, civil, or disciplinary action including the possibility of termination of employment.

(b) Violations of laws and policies. College personnel and students are expected to notify the Vice President for Information Technology of any violations of computer laws and policies, as well as any potential loopholes in the security of the College's computer systems and networks. The user community is expected to cooperate with the Information Technology department in its operation of computer systems and networks as well as in the investigation of misuse or abuse. Should the security of a computer system be threatened, user files may be examined under the direction of the Vice President for Information Technology.

If misuse of computer copyright laws or licensing agreements is suspected, a user's College-owned computer and diskettes may be audited under the direction of the Vice President for Information Technology.

(c) Electronic mail. Under Oklahoma law, all electronic mail messages are presumed to be public records and contain no right of privacy or confidentiality except where Oklahoma or federal statutes expressly provide for such status. The College reserves the right to inspect electronic mail usage by any person at any time without prior notice as deemed necessary to protect business-related concerns of the College to the full extent not expressly prohibited by applicable statutes.

In order to protect against possible future viruses, a number of file types are filtered from being sent or received in campus email messages. Restricted file types are designated as files with the following extensions:

- `bat` Batch files
- `cmd` Command files (DOS, CPM, NT)
- `com` Command files (Programs)
- `exe` Executable files
- `js` Java Script files
- `msi` Microsoft Installation Package
Files of these types can still be sent within an archive.

(d) Responsibility for damages. Rose State College makes no warranties of any kind, whether expressed or implied, for the service it is providing. Rose State College will not be responsible for any damages you suffer through the use of Rose State College computing and electronic communication facilities and services, including, but not limited to, loss of data resulting from delays, nondeliveries, misdeliveries, or service interruptions caused by its own negligence or by your errors or omissions. Use of any information obtained via the Internet is at your own risk. Rose State College specifically denies any responsibility for the accuracy or quality of information obtained through its electronic communications services.

Sec. 5-4. Information Technology systems access termination procedures

Upon formal employment termination of an employee, contractor, or applicable third-party member, the Information Technology (IT) Department shall be immediately contacted to remove the individual’s access to sensitive data and related systems. It is the responsibility of the managing office of the employee, contractor, or applicable third-party member to contact the IT Department in a timely manner to ensure that access to e-mail, network accounts, and ERP systems can be immediately suspended.

Sec. 5-5. Computer Web Policy

(a) Web site purpose. The Rose State College web site will provide easy access of college-related information to faculty, staff, students, and the general community from both on- and off-campus on a 24-hour basis.

Any division, department, or College-recognized student organization may request that their web pages be mounted on the College server. Faculty and staff who have a College-related purpose to publish information on the Internet will also be provided space.

(b) Procedure for obtaining web space. Student organizations wishing to develop a site may request space on the server through their faculty sponsor. College personnel may request space on the web server through the web coordinator for their department or division. A list of web coordinators may be found on the internal web.

(c) Page content and maintenance. College web pages will fall into one of three categories:

1. Faculty web pages
2. Student organization web pages
3. Official pages (all those that do not fall into any of the above categories)

The division deans and department directors will assign an individual(s) to be the web coordinator for their respective areas. The web coordinators will be responsible for reviewing web pages to ensure they meet policy and for maintaining appropriate official pages on the College web site. Information Technology will maintain a list of all web coordinators. Student organization web pages must be reviewed by the Dean of Students or Director of Student Engagement or their designee. Web pages will be reviewed on a quarterly basis by the web coordinator for current content. Web pages that are not kept current will be removed from the web.
All official pages and student organization pages will utilize a common template(s) approved by the Technology Steering Committee.

All faculty web pages must include:
(1) the date that the site was last modified;
(2) an e-mail link to the person responsible for the site; and
(3) a link to the Rose State College Home Page and to the Disclaimer.

The Director of Web and Office Applications is officially designated with final authority for oversight of content and formatting for the Rose State College website. To ensure proper formatting as well as compliance with American Disabilities Act standards, editors of our web pages will submit changes and content to the Director of Web and Office Applications and/or the Webmaster for approval prior to new content or changes going live.

(d) General guidelines for all web pages. The Home Page file must be named index.htm or index.asp. Access to other web pages will follow standard URL naming and linking protocols.

File space for faculty web pages and for student organization web pages will initially be limited to 100 MB. Additional space will be considered on an as-needed basis and as server capacity allows.

For security reasons, Common Gateway Interface (CGI) scripts are not permitted. (CGI scripts are often used to process web-based forms or perform other tasks based on the actions of someone viewing a web page.)

Java applets, small self-contained programs included within a web page, are allowed. However, the applets must be version 1.02 compliant or Sun plug-ins may be used.

All pages must comply with at least Priority 1 checkpoints for accessibility as specified in the W3C Accessibility Guidelines. (The Bobby Accessibility Tool will analyze a page and provide feedback for complying with the W3C guidelines.) In addition to making our pages more accessible to those with visual impairments, complying with these checkpoints also makes the pages more readable for everyone.

When at all possible, link to "official" documents instead of creating separate instances. For example, link to the "official program sheets and course information pages instead of creating different versions.

Consider all contents of the "web development" folder on the network "W" drive to be "live." That is, the replication service that makes the contents of this folder available from off campus will transfer these files either instantly or at pre-determined times. Therefore, all web page work should be performed on a drive other than the "W" drive and tested before moving files to this location.

An individual's web pages will be removed from the web upon termination of employment with the College.

(1) Use of College Logo. The use of the Rose State College Logo assures a coordinated and consistent representation of signature and symbol in communications that represent the College. Whenever it is appropriate to use a symbol to represent the College, the entire Logo should be used.

The Logo should not be distorted, incorporated, graphically altered, or used as part of another Logo or graphics, without approval from the office of Marketing and Public Relations.

The use of the Logo and the necessary materials for its use will be prepared and maintained in the Marketing and Public Relations office and will be available for anyone... who needs to use the College Logo in an institutional capacity. Official electronic files of the College Logo in various formats may be obtained from w:\web development\logo.

(e) Legal issues. There are some restrictions on the kinds of materials that can be published on the College network. The policy is as liberal as possible, but state and federal laws do necessitate some restrictions. If these policies are too restrictive, individuals are welcome to employ a commercial access provider. For-profit activities may not be conducted on or through the campus network. Generally, laws that apply to the printed word apply in the electronic medium as well. These laws include restrictions on libel, slander, threats of bodily harm, and pornography. A networked server is like a printing press, and it should be treated as such. If the material cannot be printed in a newspaper, it cannot be placed on the web.

Use of copyrighted materials is a sensitive issue in the field of education. Educators and students are granted a certain latitude when pursuing a non-profit, educational goal. Copying a couple of pages from an article and passing those out to students in a closed classroom, however, is entirely different from making those same pages available over the open Internet for all the world to see. When using copyrighted materials, it is always best to obtain permission from the owner of the copyright. For more information concerning use of copyrighted materials, consult the FITT Materials Copyright Page.

To protect individual privacy rights, none of the pages on the Rose State College public Internet site will contain pictures, student or staff IDs, or any other personal information that specifically identifies individuals without the prior consent of those individuals.

Materials that are deemed by the College administration to be illegal, offensive, or otherwise in violation of this policy, will be removed from the College server. If the webmaster receives a complaint that a set of documents is in violation, the person responsible will be notified, and public access to those documents may be blocked until the appropriate administrative officials can review the materials in question.

Questions about copyright, libel, liability, privacy, and other legal matters should be directed to the Rose State College Copyright Officer or the appropriate vice president.

(f) Rose State College Social Media Policy

The Office of Marketing and Public Relations maintains three official social media pages:

- Facebook (Rose State College)
- Twitter (@RoseState)
- Instagram (@RoseState)

Additional social media pages may not be created without the explicit permission of the Director, Marketing. In addition, all Facebook pages must allow the Coordinator for Communications and Social Media to serve as an administrator on the page.

The coordinator for Communications and Social Media will work directly with those approved to review content periodically and ensure the pages are promoting the brand image of Rose State College in an acceptable manner.

Sec. 5-6. Information Technology Resources Policy

(a) Introduction. Rose State College provides a wide variety of computing, network, and telecommunication resources for use by RSC faculty, staff, and students. These resources are provided to facilitate and enhance all aspects of the College's primary mission of education. As with all College resources and activities, specific rules and regulations apply to the utilization of information technology resources. The purpose of this policy is to establish and promote the ethical, legal, and secure use of information technology resources for all members of the Rose State College community.

Information technology resources shall be interpreted to include all College computing and telecommunications facilities, networks, electronic equipment, software, and related services used to support teaching and administrative activities of the College.

(b) Applicability. This policy applies to all users of College information technology resources, whether affiliated with the College or not, and whether on campus or from remote locations.

(c) Cable television. As part of the franchise agreement for cable television service in the Midwest City and Del City area, Rose State College was granted exclusive rights to the use of one of the cable channels. Equipment necessary to transmit programming over the channel was located in the College's Learning Resources Center. Transmissions originating at the College are programmed for delivery to cable subscribers on Tinker Air Force Base and in the communities of Midwest City, Del City, Spencer, and Valley Brook.

A character generator, included as part of the College's transmission system, enables Learning Resources Center staff to compile and automatically transmit brief announcements and promotional messages. College faculty and staff, who wish to submit messages or announcements for transmission should obtain the approval of appropriate administrative personnel, then forward the edited message or announcement to the Director, Learning Resources Center. Text should be limited to 25 words or less. A memo designating a contact person and the first and last day the message or announcement is to air should accompany the text.

Other equipment included as part of the cable channel transmission system enables Learning Resources Center staff to automatically transmit programming in videotape format. While this capability is utilized most often to transmit lessons of telecourses being used by the College, any material in videotape format can be transmitted. However, only videotapes of professional quality will be accepted for broadcast.

Requests to broadcast materials promoting a particular political or religious agenda will be denied. Material protected by the copyright laws of the United States will not be broadcast without written permission of the copyright owner. Material of a controversial nature may be broadcast, but only when presented in an objective manner. All federal and state laws and regulations apply. Decisions regarding appropriateness for broadcast over the Rose State College cable channel will be made by the Dean, Learning Resources Center, after consulting with members of the Executive Council. There is currently no provision for live broadcasts.

The College is provided with "Basic Cable" programming in the Learning Resources Center and Student Center. The service is provided at no cost to the College. Students and staff in the Student Center may view any of the channels made available through Basic Cable Service. Facilities for viewing the Basic Cable channels are not available in the Learning Resources Center. However, cable programming can be switched to the closed circuit system for viewing in classrooms. Classroom viewing is limited to programs of educational or historic importance.

(d) Cellular Phones. Cellular phone service contracts may be purchased at the discretion of budget administrators, with the approval of the appropriate vice president. Cellular phone service will only be approved for those employees with responsibilities critical to the continued operation of the College or department or employees who are subject to call at any time.

It is unreasonable to expect employees to carry separate phones for business and personal use. Therefore, use of College cellular phones for personal calls is discouraged but not prohibited. However, any cost above the monthly contract rate, resulting from personal use, is the responsibility of the employee.

Both cost and need should be considered when selecting a cellular phone service provider. Expensive contracts which provide more time and options than required for a particular application should be avoided in favor of less expensive contracts which provide only the time and options required.

(e) Closed Circuit Television. Rose State College has a closed circuit television system that provides video delivery from the Learning Resources Center to most campus classrooms and meeting rooms. The system is equipped to deliver eight channels of local programming and four channels of programming from outside sources. Channel 2 and 10 are reserved for time of day and campus announcements. Channels 3, 6, 7, 8, 11, and 12 are used to deliver video programs to classrooms and meeting rooms. The six channels reserved for classroom delivery can also be used to distribute programming received from satellites.

Signals from commercial television stations 4, 5, and 9 are also carried on the closed circuit system, as is PBS channel 13. Signals for channels 4, 5, 9, and 13 are obtained through an antenna mounted on the roof of the Learning Resources Center. All four channels can be accessed from most classrooms and meeting rooms.

Faculty and staff who wish to have a video program delivered to a particular location at a particular time should contact Audiovisual Services in the Learning Resources Center. Twenty-four hour advance notice is required. Advance scheduling permits staff in Audiovisual Services to ensure that a television is in the room and fully operational.

As part of the local cable franchise agreement, cable television service was made available in the Learning Resources Center. Programming available through the local cable system can be switched to the campus closed circuit system and delivered to the classroom. A 24-hour advance notice is required for the service.

In emergency situations, the closed circuit television system can be used to broadcast warnings. A taped tornado warning is kept readily available in the Learning Resources Center. Staff members are prepared to transmit the message when a directive to "seek shelter" is issued by College personnel.

(f) Computer and network use. The College provides computers, software, peripherals, and network services for use by RSC students, faculty, and staff to support academic and administrative functions. Personal use of these resources for other purposes is permitted when it does not consume a significant amount of these resources (to be determined by the network administrator), does not interfere with the performance of the user's job or other College responsibilities, and is otherwise in compliance with this policy. These resources may not be used for personal commercial purposes or for personal financial or other gain. Further limits may be imposed upon personal use in accordance with normal supervisory procedures.

(1) User guidelines:

(A) Network logons are automatically created for each student upon enrollment. Faculty and staff (part-time or regular) may obtain a network logon upon request of the immediate supervisor. Students, faculty, and staff are responsible for any access code assigned to them, which includes not sharing any network or computer system logons and passwords. An access code includes any form of information used to authenticate, secure, or control electronic information technology resources. Examples include network logon IDs, passwords, keys, and door codes.
(B) Copyrighted software must only be used in accordance with its license or purchase agreement and must not be copied or altered except as permitted by law or by the software licensing agreement. Information Technology staff will install College approved software on College-owned computers. Upon request, IT staff will install personal software as long as it is licensed.

(C) Inappropriate conduct that will not be tolerated includes, but is not limited to:

(i) Unauthorized access, alteration, or destruction of another user's data, programs, electronic mail, or voice mail.
(ii) Attempts to obtain unauthorized access to either local or remote computer systems or networks.
(iii) Attempts to circumvent established security procedures or to obtain access privileges to which the user is not entitled.
(iv) Obscene, offensive, threatening, harassing, or intimidating material entered into the computer and sent by electronic means.
(v) Intentional viewing of pictures of an erotic or sexual nature when such images can be viewed by others who are offended by them; and mailing, printing, or copying obscene materials.
(vi) Knowingly running, installing, or giving to another a program or data file which could be classified as or contain a computer virus, worm, or Trojan horse.
(vii) Activities that embarrass, denigrate, or libel an individual or organization.
(viii) Activities that imply College endorsement of any commercial products other than those approved by the appropriate Executive Council member.

(g) Pager service. The College may purchase pager service for employees who possess unique skills or knowledge of operations, or whose authority is required for actions of an immediate nature. Pager service should only be considered when such employees are not readily available through other methods of communication. Contracts for pager services require the authorization of the immediate supervisor.

Employees for whom pager services are purchased should have a clear understanding of expected response time to pager signals. Where feasible, pagers and associated responsibilities should be shared among two or more employees.

(h) PDA, handheld, smart phone, or Pocket PC. The terms PDA, handheld, smart phone, and pocket PC will be used interchangeably in this policy to refer to small portable computers, usually handheld or pocket-size, that organize data, such as an individual's schedule, appointment calendar, address book, and to-do list, and often include connections to a desktop PC or to the Internet. Handhelds may be purchased at the discretion of budget administrators, with the approval of the appropriate vice president. Upon request of the user, IT staff will connect a College-owned or personally owned handheld unit to a user's pc, providing the unit is one of the models approved for purchase by the College. Handhelds will not be configured to communicate with an individual's Internet service provider (ISP). IT staff are not responsible for loss of data or functionality of personally owned handheld units.

(i) Satellite communications. Rose State College has satellite downlinking equipment at the Tom Steed Center and the Learning Resources Center. Both sites have C and Ku band capability. The Learning Resources Center also has the ability to downlink digital signals transmitted from Public Broadcasting Service satellites. Rose State College faculty and staff who wish to receive satellite programming should contact the Dean, Learning Resources Center.
Those seeking to arrange satellite broadcasts for groups not affiliated with the College should contact the Dean, Continuing Education and Community Services.

Satellite conferences and programs normally require registration. However, registration information should not be submitted before discussions with administrators responsible for satellite systems. Details about system availability must be determined; and staff support, cost, and viewing location must be arranged.

Registration fees are normally the responsibility of the department or division requesting satellite program delivery. On occasion, when a program has wide appeal, the Learning Resources Center may pay the registration fee. Groups not affiliated with the College, but who wish to view satellite programs here, should expect to pay applicable registration fees, as well as charges for technical support and facility use.

Satellite programs downlinked by the Learning Resources Center can be rebroadcast over the institutional closed circuit television system. The closed circuit system reaches most campus classrooms and meeting rooms. Learning Resources Center staff will assist with the location of an appropriate viewing area and ensure that the necessary equipment is available.

Satellite program licenses are normally issued after registration fees have been paid or purchase orders issued. As a rule, the license permits the program to be viewed live on a single campus, and a single videotape of the program to be made. The videotape of the program may be retained for the life of the tape. Rebroadcast rights to off-campus locations are normally not authorized.

A technical data sheet is normally sent to the institution with the program license. Technical information is very important and should always be forwarded to the Dean, Learning Resources Center.

(j) Teleconferencing systems. Interactive teleconferencing systems based on the H.323 telecommunications standard have been installed at various campus locations. The systems may be used to send or receive educational programming or to conduct briefings, meetings of professional organizations, seminars, and workshops—virtually any activity where the participants are not assembled at the same location. The systems are available to College faculty and staff, agencies of state and federal government, or representatives from the business community. All use must fall within the defined mission of the College and be in compliance with the use policies of the network service provider (OneNet).

The teleconferencing systems are fully interactive, having both two-way audio and two-way video capability. They can be used with a variety of peripheral equipment, including personal computers, document cameras, videocassette players, and other audiovisual aids. Operational training and technical support are available through the Learning Resources Center.

Theoretically, the teleconferencing systems in use at the College can connect with compatible systems anywhere in the world. However, connections with other systems, especially with systems outside Oklahoma, should be tested before conference plans are finalized. There are many variables that can prevent quality connections.

Any course taught at the College may be transmitted to other locations through the use of a teleconferencing system. The use of teleconferencing facilities to transmit courses to other locations must be approved by a Division Dean and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The transmission of college-level instruction to areas outside a college or university's traditional service area must be in compliance with the "Electronic Media Policy" of the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education.
The Coordinator, Distance Learning, will assist faculty with the location of remote sites where students may participate in distance learning activities. Faculty who wish to deliver a course to locations remote from the Rose State College campus should discuss possible locations with the Coordinator, Distance Learning, at least sixty days prior to the beginning of the semester in which the course is to be taught.

All state-supported colleges and universities have teleconferencing capability. Many vocational technical centers and public school systems also have facilities. Most are willing to cooperate with other institutions by making teleconferencing facilities available to participants in distance learning activities. Facilities are normally scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis, free of charge.

Rose State College will normally honor requests from other institutions for the use of teleconferencing facilities, if facilities are available at the time requested and if programming does not duplicate courses offered on this campus. Inquiries from other educational institutions about the use of teleconferencing facilities should be submitted to the Coordinator, Distance Learning.

Use of teleconferencing facilities at the College, for purposes other than college-level instruction, is subject to the approval of the Dean, Learning Resources Center, after consulting with appropriate members of the Executive Council. Use of teleconferencing facilities by educational institutions outside The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education, for any purpose, requires the same level of approval. Rose State College reserves the right to deny access to teleconferencing facilities if they are requested for purposes outside the defined mission of the College, contrary to use policies of the network service provider (OneNet), or not in the best interest of the College. All use must comply with state and federal law.

Under normal circumstances, no charges will be assessed for the use of teleconferencing facilities to transmit or receive college-level instruction among members of The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education. However, the College reserves the right to recover staffing costs when unusual levels of technical support are required. The College also reserves the right to recover all costs associated with facility use for purposes other than transmitting or receiving college-level instruction.

(k) Telephone usage. Traditional telephone service is provided as an important component of the College's overall telecommunications system. Although operated and maintained as a support mechanism for College business, telephone use for personal communication is not prohibited, provided calls are not excessive in frequency or length and do not interfere with normal office or department activities. Use of College telephone service for business or commercial purposes, other than those of the College, is considered unethical and may lead to disciplinary action.

Some administrative officers are provided with codes which enable them to bypass the switchboard when making long distance calls. Bypass codes are to be used exclusively for College business.

College personnel may, with appropriate administrative approval, use College phones for personal long distance calls (voice or fax). However, anyone using a College phone to make a personal long distance call is required to reimburse the College for the full cost of the call. The Office of Administrative Services should be provided with the telephone numbers to which personal long distance calls have been made immediately after the call.
Use of College phones to make obscene, threatening, or harassing calls is forbidden. Anyone who uses a College phone to make such calls will be subject to College disciplinary action, and may be prosecuted in accordance with state and federal law.

Use of College phones by anyone other than a College employee is at the discretion of the administrator for the area in which the phone is located. However, at no time should phone usage be permitted to interrupt the efficient operation of an office or department. Public pay phones are provided for student and visitor use.

A six-station phone bridge is provided to accommodate conference calls. The bridge can be used to connect up to six parties, both on and off campus. Usage is limited to conference calls associated with College business or faculty/staff involvement in professional organizations. Assistance in the use of the bridge may be obtained through the Learning Resources Center.

Requests for additional phones should be submitted through appropriate administrative channels to Information Technology via a HelpDesk request. Requests for phone repair service should be submitted directly to Information Technology via a HelpDesk request. Problems with pay phones should also be reported to Information Technology.

Funding for phone service should be included in fiscal year budget requests. Budget formulas for phone service are determined on an annual basis by the Office of Administrative Services.

(1) Policy enforcement. Failure to follow the Information Technology Resources guidelines may lead to the suspension of resource privileges or other disciplinary action. Faculty and staff should refer to Chapter IV, Section II, Instructional policies and procedures, Sec. 6-1(a)(4) in the College Policies and Procedures Manual regarding failure to follow College policy. Students should refer to the section of Rules and Regulations in the College Student Handbook. Offenders may also be prosecuted under federal and state laws (not limited to but including, Oklahoma State Statutes: 21-1021, 21-1952, 21-1953, 21-1954, 21-1955, 21-1957, 21-1958 and 18 USC section 2252).

   (b) Members. Members of the Institutional Affirmative Action Compliance Committee will be assigned by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer and the President.

Sec. 1-8. Stating reasons for selection and rejection
   To ensure compliance with Executive Order 11246, a statement of the reason an applicant was not hired shall be included with the personnel documents. This statement should contain greater explanation than "not qualified," "person selected better qualified," etc.

Sec. 1-9. Testing as a part of selection process
   Tests are defined to mean any device used to screen applicants in the selection process and may include performance and written tests. Federal regulations require that there be a correlation between test performance and job performance. Therefore, no test may be used which has not been approved by the Human Resources/AAO Office. As a general rule, tests or test results from other agencies are not accepted.

Sec. 1-10. Job classifications
   Job classifications are defined in accordance with the maintenance of records for the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, Affirmative Action, and IPEDS (formerly called EEO-6 reports).
Sec. 1-11. Hiring procedures
(a) Executive, administrative, managerial, faculty, and professional classifications. All requests for regular, full-time positions are submitted in writing on the Personnel Request form. This form is transmitted from the immediate supervisor of specified employment area to the appropriate Vice President. The Vice President transmits the Personnel Request form to the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer who in turn transmits it to the President.
(b) Classified classification. All requests for full-time positions are submitted in writing on the Personnel Request form. Procedural steps for transmitting the form are the same as those listed under Executive/Administrative/Managerial, Faculty, and Professional classifications. Applicants for classified secretarial positions are required to take a skills performance test, dependent upon job specifications of the posting.

Sec. 1-12. Vacancies
(a) Posted dates for vacancies. The posted dates (opening and closing) for the five major classifications of personnel are a minimum of five working days for and a maximum of twenty days for postings. College holidays, Saturdays, and Sundays are not counted. Positions that are specialized and/or are difficult to fill with qualified applicants may be posted “until filled,” upon approval of the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer. Temporary personnel must formally request consideration for any position opening through the Human Resources/AA office before the closing deadline. The immediate supervisor and appropriate Vice President work in concert related to applicants.
(b) Extensions of application deadlines. Requests for extensions of application deadlines are transmitted from immediate supervisors to the appropriate Vice President. The Vice President transmits requests to the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer. The extension deadline is for a period of time no less than ten working days. All requested extensions must be approved by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer.

Sec. 1-13. Desired qualifications
Refers to education and experience above minimum qualifications. Supervisory personnel address what is needed or required for the job above the minimum qualifications. This is the determination of the supervisory personnel, in concert with the appropriate Vice President and the President.

Sec. 1-14. Description of duties
To the very best of the supervisory personnel's opinion, duties are listed for the specific job position. These are bona-fide occupational duties. However, it is almost impossible to list every single duty and spell out divisions of labor within employment area in all details. So long as the major duties are recorded in this category, it is expected that other duties will occur as appropriate. It is not expected that duties would be imposed on an employee unrealistically in this category having no relationship to the position. Some leeway is given to the supervisory personnel with the position. Duties on the posting are not all inclusive.

Sec. 1-15. Applications for employment
All prospective applicants are referred to the Human Resources/AAO Office, Administration Building, Room 104, for the initial contact with the College and to receive the application form. All applications are distributed through and returned to the Human Resources/AAO Office. Once an application is formalized (completed application, transcripts, and/or skills test) and the procedures listed below are completed, the administrator works with his/her immediate supervisor as outlined in the current Rose State College organizational chart.
(a) Active applications. Applications are kept active in the Human Resources/AAO Office for one year;
(b) Applicant file removed. If the applicant has not contacted the Human Resources Office at the end of the one-year period to request the application remain active, the file is made inactive;
(c) Application update. This form may be used for changes in name, address, phone number or to add recent work experience, recent degree(s) obtained, to list certificates/licenses, or to apply for current position openings;
(d) New application. Applicants should complete a new application for employment when their old applications on file are over two years old;

Sec. 1-16. Screening of applicants
(a) Applications. All applications for employment are processed through the Human Resources/AAO Office;
(b) Complete application. Applications are considered complete with application form completed and signed, accompanied by transcript(s) and/or skills test scores, as appropriate;
(c) Application log. Applications are logged in the Human Resources/AAO Office;
(d) File processing. Files are processed for every applicant and filed under particular discipline or area for which the applicant applied;
(e) File transmission. Copy of applicant file is transmitted to the appropriate area;
(f) File reactivation. When a file is reactivated, the new activation date is placed on front of the file;
(g) Applicant pool. Applicants who apply for a particular posting constitute the "applicant pool."

Sec. 1-17. Transmittal form/job selection report
The following forms accompany applicant files for position vacancies:
(a) Transmittal Form and Job Selection Report. Transmittal Form and Job Selection Report (available in the Human Resources/AAO Office) are attached to the applicant file.
(b) Job Selection Report. Job Selection Report is a document required for each candidate in the applicant pool. The Job Selection Report is filed in each applicant's file upon completion of the monitoring procedure by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer.

Sec. 1-18. Applicant pool documentation
An applicant pool is initiated with the first applicant. Information is secured from the Applicant Information Profile given each applicant with the application. However, completion of the Profile Sheet is optional and not a bona-fide requirement. If applicant does not complete the form, there is a guess as to the racial/ethnic composition. Often, applicants may be defaulted to Caucasian. A report of the make-up of the applicant pool is then developed, reflecting race/ethnicity, sex, status as a veteran, disabled veteran disability, and source of recruitment. This information is tabulated for certification by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer.
CHAPTER IV
PERSONNEL

SECTION 1: GENERAL POLICIES

Sec. 1-1. Drug-Free Campus Policy
(a) Drug-Free Campus Policy. As an educational and public service institution, Rose State College (RSC) recognizes its responsibility to promote a productive learning and work environment. The Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988 and The Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendment of 1989 required the establishment of anti-drug programs and prohibited the use of illicit drugs in the workplace of an educational institution that received federal funds. In order to meet its responsibilities, the College has established the following policy:

(1) Illicit drugs. The illegal manufacture, distribution, possession or use of illicit drugs or alcohol on the campus or anywhere else as any part of the College’s activities is strictly prohibited.

(2) Safety and security. An employee is forbidden to perform safety-sensitive, security-sensitive or image-sensitive functions while a prohibited drug is in his/her system or possession.

(3) Criminal conviction. An employee must notify his or her supervisor of a criminal conviction or Plea of Guilty or No Contest for drug-related or alcohol-related offenses no later than five calendar days following the conviction or Plea of Guilty or No Contest.

(4) Referral. A referral service for drug or alcohol counseling and treatment is available through the Student Affairs and Student Resources area to all students and employees. Treatment and rehabilitation programs will be conducted at the direction and the expense of the student or employee. Sick leave or other appropriate benefits may be available for treatment or rehabilitation services for benefits-eligible RSC employees. Seeking help from these services, or being referred to or from these services, is confidential and will not, by itself, result in disciplinary action. Individual privacy will be maintained in any counseling/rehabilitation process. Satisfactory completion of a treatment or rehabilitation program may entitle the student or employee to reenter a campus program of study or employment.

(5) Testing. Drug and alcohol testing of applicants for regular positions (50% or more) and current employees shall be conducted in accordance with applicable federal and state law. RSC requires all job applicants for regular positions (50% or more), who have received a conditional offer of employment, to undergo drug and alcohol testing prior to employment. Also, RSC may require or request current employees to undergo testing under the following circumstances: For-cause testing; Post-accident testing; Random testing; Scheduled, periodic testing; and Post-rehabilitation testing. The above stated circumstances are explained in Section 1-1(b) Alcohol and Drug Testing Policy Applicable to RSC Employees and Applicants.

(6) Condition of Employment. Employees and students are required to abide by the terms of this policy as a condition of employment or matriculation.
(7) Notification. Students and employees will receive notification of the College’s policy, applicable legal sanctions, and a description of the health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol.

(8) Violation of Policy. A violation of this policy will be considered a major offense, which may result in an immediate recommendation for dismissal of an employee or expulsion of a student. Employees may be required to demonstrate satisfactory participation in a drug rehabilitation program. A criminal conviction is not required for sanctions to be imposed upon an employee or student for violation of this policy.

(b) Alcohol and Drug Testing Policy applicable to RSC employees and applicants. Student and employee safety is of paramount concern to the RSC Board of Regents. Employees under the influence of alcohol, drugs, or controlled substances are a serious risk to themselves and to other employees. The Board of Regents hereby commits itself to a continuing good faith effort to maintain a drug-free workplace. Drug and alcohol testing of employees shall be conducted in accordance with applicable federal and state law.

(c) Definitions. The following words and terms when used in this policy shall have the following meaning unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

- “Alcohol” means ethyl alcohol or ethanol.
- “Alcohol test” means a breath or saliva test administered for the purpose of determining the presence or absence of alcohol or its metabolites in a person’s bodily tissue, fluids, or products. Testing of RSC employees is conducted and evaluated by qualified individuals and facilities licensed by the Oklahoma State Department of Health (OSDH) in accordance with Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act. [40 O.S. § 551 – 565]

- “Applicant” means any person making application for initial hire of a regular position (50% or more). Rose State College, upon conditional offer of employment, requires the applicant to undergo alcohol and drug testing.

- “Conditional offer of employment” means an offer made to an applicant for employment with RSC, conditioned upon successful completion of a drug and alcohol test prior to the start of employment.

- “Confirmation test” means an alcohol or drug test, conducted in accordance with Drug and Alcohol Testing Rules, as amended, adopted by OSDH, to substantiate the results of a prior alcohol or drug test. For urine or hair, the test is performed on the same sample or a split sample.

- “Drug” means any controlled substance approved for hair or urine testing by OSDH, including amphetamines, cannabinoids, cocaine, phencyclidine (PCP), hallucinogens, methaqualone, opiates, barbiturates, benzodiazepines, synthetic narcotics, designer drugs, or a metabolite of any of the substances listed herein.

- “Drug Test” means a hair or urine test administered for the purpose of determining the presence or absence of a drug or its metabolites in a person’s bodily tissue, fluids, or products. Testing shall conform to the Drug and Alcohol Testing Rules, as amended, adopted by OSDH. The testing of RSC employees is conducted and evaluated by qualified individuals and facilities licensed by OSDH in accordance with Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act. [40 O.S. § 551 – 565]

- “Employee” means anyone employed by RSC, whether designated as executive, administrative, managerial, faculty, professional, classified, probationary, or temporary.

- “For-cause testing” means a belief that an employee is using or has used drugs or alcohol in violation of RSC’s written policy. For-cause is drawn from specific, objective, and articulate facts and reasonable inferences drawn from those facts in light of experience, and may be based upon but not limited to:

1. Observable phenomena, such as: (a) the physical symptoms or manifestations of being under the influence of a drug or alcohol while at work or on duty, or (b) the direct observation of drug or alcohol use while at work or on duty;
2. A report of drug or alcohol use while at work or on duty, provided by reliable and credible sources and which has been independently corroborated;
3. Evidence that an individual has tampered with a drug or alcohol test during his/her employment with RSC;
4. Evidence that an employee is involved in the use, possession, sale, solicitation or transfer of drugs while on duty or while on RSC’s premises or operating RSC’s vehicle, machinery, or equipment.

“Random Testing” means an objective mechanism for selecting employees for alcohol and drug testing, which results in an equal probability any employee from a group of employees will be selected.

“Review officer” means a physician certified pursuant to Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act [40 O.S. § 551 – 565] who reviews positive alcohol and drug test results and contacts each individual having a positive alcohol or drug test to determine if there is a medical reason for the positive test result.

(d) Persons subject to alcohol and drug testing are:

1. All applicants for regular positions (50% or more), who have received conditional offers of employment, are required to take a pre-employment drug and alcohol test. A confirmed positive test result, or a refusal to be tested, is a basis for refusal to hire;
2. All employees of RSC are subject to for-cause drug and alcohol testing; post-accident drug and alcohol testing; and post-rehabilitation testing; and
3. Employees of RSC engaged in activities which directly affect the safety of others are subject to random alcohol and drug testing and scheduled periodic alcohol and drug testing.
4. Employees of RSC who work in direct contact with inmates in the custody of the Department of Corrections or work in direct contact with juvenile delinquents or children in need of supervision in the custody of the Department of Human Services are subject to random alcohol and drug testing and scheduled periodic alcohol and drug testing.

(e) Notice of communication. The President, or the President’s designee, shall ensure a copy of the policy is:

1. Provided to all employees;
2. Provided to employees 30 days prior to the initial implementation or implementation of changes;
3. Conspicuously posted in all prominent employee access areas; and
4. Provided to each applicant upon his/her receipt of a conditional offer of employment. Each employee of Rose State College is hereby notified that, as a condition of employment, the employee must abide by the terms of this policy.

(f) Types of testing.

1. Applicant testing. RSC requires all job applicants for regular positions (50% or more), who have received a conditional offer of employment, to undergo drug and alcohol testing prior to employment. The applicant will be informed of the pre-employment drug and alcohol test requirements by Human Resources. Upon receiving a conditional offer of employment, the applicant will be notified by Human Resources of the scheduled appointment to report to the drug testing facility.

The applicant shall not be hired if he/she refuses to test. Refusals include, but are not limited to: (1) failure to appear at the test collection site for the sample collection at the designated time; (2) failure to provide satisfactory identification to the person responsible for sample collection; (3) refusal to provide a specimen; (4) failure to remain at the testing site until the collection is completed; or, (5) tampering with or contaminating the urine specimen. At the drug testing facility, the applicant is required to follow all instructions given by the person responsible for the collection of the urinalysis sample testing or for evidential breath testing.

Substances tested shall be for drugs and alcohol as defined in the Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act, including controlled substances approved for testing by rule by the State Commissioner of Health. All positive results will be reviewed by a review officer. Any applicant who tests positive will not be hired.

Test results and related documentation shall be kept confidential and maintained by the Human Resources/Affirmative Action office for use only in employment related matters. An applicant may inspect and/or obtain all information and records related to that individual’s testing.

(2) Current Employees’ testing.

(A) RSC may request or require all current employees to undergo testing under the following circumstances:

(i) For-cause testing. RSC may request or require an employee to undergo drug or alcohol testing if the employer, including the supervisor or department head, has for-cause reasoning that the employee has violated RSC’s written policy. For-cause means a belief that an employee is using or has used drugs or alcohol in violation of RSC’s written policy drawn from specific objective and articulable facts and reasonable inferences drawn from those facts in light of experience, and may be based upon but not limited to:

(I) Observable phenomena, such as: (1) the physical symptoms or manifestations of being under the influence of a drug or alcohol while at work or on duty, or (2) the direct observation of drug or alcohol use while at work or on duty;

(II) A report of drug or alcohol use while at work or on duty, provided by reliable and credible sources and which has been independently corroborated;

(III) Evidence that an individual has tampered with a drug or alcohol test during his employment with RSC;

(IV) Evidence that an employee is involved in the use, possession, sale, solicitation, or transfer of drugs while on duty or while on RSC’s premises or operating RSC’s vehicle, machinery, or equipment.

(ii) Post-accident testing. RSC may require an employee to undergo drug or alcohol testing if the employee or another person has sustained a work-related injury or RSC’s property has been damaged, including damage to equipment, in an amount reasonably estimated at the time of the accident to exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500).
(iii) Post-rehabilitation testing. RSC may request or require an employee to undergo drug or alcohol testing without prior notice for a period of up to two (2) years commencing with the employee’s return to work, following a confirmed positive test or following participation in a drug or alcohol dependency treatment program under an employee benefit plan or at the request of RSC.

(B) RSC may request or require all employees engaged in activities that directly affect the safety of others, or who work in direct contact with inmates in the custody of the Department of Corrections, or who work in direct contact with juvenile delinquents or children in need of supervision in the custody of the Department of Human Services, to undergo testing under the following circumstances:

(iv) Random testing. RSC may request or require an employee, whose job functions meet the criteria set forth in (2)(B), to undergo drug or alcohol testing on a random selection basis.

Random testing means an objective mechanism for selecting employees for alcohol and drug testing that results in an equal probability any employee from a group of employees covered by this type of testing will be selected.

Random alcohol and drug testing is administered at a minimum annual rate of 20 percent of employees. Tests are unannounced and are conducted throughout the calendar year. The Human Resources/AAO Office provides to the contracted testing vendor a regularly updated list of the names, employee I.D. numbers, and work locations for all employees covered by this type of testing.

(v) Scheduled, periodic testing. RSC may request or require an employee, whose job functions meet the criteria set forth in (2)(B), to undergo drug or alcohol testing if the test is conducted as a part of a routinely scheduled employee fitness-for-duty medical examination or is scheduled routinely for all members of an employment classification or group.

Scheduled, periodic testing may be required of employees in certain academic programs such as those in the Health Sciences Division when required by contractual agreements with clinical sites and to protect against substance abuse in clinical settings. When required, the testing will occur during the months of April, July, and December of each calendar year.

(g) Overview of process. When one or more of the following circumstances stated above occur, RSC may request or require an employee to undergo testing. Employees suspected of being under the influence of illegal drugs or alcohol will be driven to the testing facility by a designated RSC employee. Any drug or alcohol testing by RSC shall occur during or immediately after the employee’s regular work period and shall be deemed work time.

An employee’s refusal to undergo drug or alcohol testing may result in immediate suspension with pay pending investigation and may result in further disciplinary action, up to and including discharge. Refusals include, but are not limited to: (1) failure to appear at the test collection site for the sample collection at the designated time; (2) failure to provide satisfactory identification to the person responsible for sample collection; (3) refusal to provide a specimen; (4) failure to remain at the testing site until the collection is completed; or, (4) tampering with or contaminating the urine specimen.
At the drug testing facility, the employee is required to follow all instructions given by the person responsible for the collection of the urinalysis sample testing or for evidential breath testing.

Substances tested shall be for drugs and alcohol as defined in the Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act, including controlled substances approved for testing by rule by the State Commissioner of Health. All positive results will be reviewed by a review officer.

(h) Disciplinary action.

(1) Disciplinary action for illegal drug involvement or usage. Discharge proceedings may be initiated for a RSC employee:

   (A) With a confirmed positive result for a drug test not resulting from legitimate medical use of prescribed medication. No employee may be discharged as a result of a positive test result unless confirmed by a second test using gas chromatography, gas chromatography-mass spectroscopy, or an equivalent scientifically accepted method of equal or greater accuracy, approved by Drug and Alcohol Testing Rules (40 OS §559); or

   (B) Who enters a guilty or nolo contendere plea for, or who is found guilty of the on or off duty sale, distribution, possession, or the manufacture of illegal drugs.

   In all cases of confirmed positive test results, employees will have the opportunity to explain the result and to substantiate the explanation with medical evidence, which could include requesting a retest of the same sample. An employee requesting a retest of a sample to challenge the results of a positive test shall pay all costs of the retest. If the retest reverses the findings of the challenged positive test, RSC shall reimburse the employee for the costs of the retest.

(2) Disciplinary action for positive alcohol test results. RSC follows progressive discipline for employees with positive alcohol test results. However, aggravating circumstances, such as the concurrent violation of other RSC policies or serious injuries or fatalities due to or contributed to by the use of alcohol, can result in more serious disciplinary action, including discharge.

   (A) An employee’s first incident of having an alcohol level from .02 to .039 results in a written reprimand.

   (B) An employee’s first incident of having an alcohol level from .04 to .079 results in a two-day involuntary suspension without pay.

   (C) Discharge proceedings may be initiated for any incident when an employee is tested for alcohol and has an alcohol level of .08 or higher.

   (D) Discharge proceedings may be initiated for an employee’s second positive test for alcohol within 24 consecutive calendar months of the first positive test result, regardless of the alcohol levels for either incident.

(3) Refusal to submit. Discharge proceedings are initiated for any employee who refuses to submit to an alcohol or drug test.

(i) Confidentiality. Test results and related documentation shall be kept confidential and maintained separate from general personnel records by the Human Resources/AAO office. Release of test results and related documentation is prohibited except with the employee’s written permission and as may be required by law. An employee may inspect and/or obtain all information and records related to that individual’s testing.

(j) Additional Employee Drug and Alcohol Testing Procedures. RSC shall comply with the Omnibus Transportation Testing Act of 1991, which helps to prevent accidents and injuries resulting from misuse of alcohol and controlled substances by employees whose duties require a commercial driver’s license. For purposes of this policy, a “Driver” is defined as any employee, or casual intermittent or occasional driver, or independent contractor who may be under contract with RSC, who drives a RSC vehicle in circumstances that require the driver to be licensed with a commercial driver’s license.

(k) Additional academic program procedures.

(1) Substance abuse. Additional procedures may be required of students in certain academic programs such as those in the Health Sciences Division to protect against substance abuse in clinical settings. Such procedures will be approved by the President for inclusion in appropriate student clinical handbooks.

(2) Criminal background check procedure. All Health Sciences Division faculty and program students will be required to undergo an Oklahoma state and/or comparable criminal background check prior to participation of any clinical assignments or clinical faculty employment.

Copies of the Rose State College policy on Criminal Background Checks will be maintained in the Division and Health Sciences Program offices. The policy on Criminal History Background Checks will be reviewed annually by the Dean of the Health Sciences Division and the Rose State College Board of Regents.

Sec. 1-2. Drug-Free Campus Committee

In accordance with the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendment of 1989 (P.L. 101-226), the Drug-Free Campus Committee has the responsibility of:

(a) Recommend. Making recommendations to the appropriate administrative office regarding:

(1) Conduct. Standard of conduct.

(2) Safety and Risk Management Specialist.
(3) Coordinator, Wellness Program.

(6) Classified. Two classified staff members selected by the Classified Staff Association (two-year terms).
Sec. 1-3. Nepotism
(a) Related persons and employment. Unless otherwise prohibited by law, a person shall not be denied employment or advancement with the College because s/he is related to a College employee. However, no persons related within the third degree shall be employed into a regular position so that one is directly responsible for making determinations or recommendations regarding promotions, salary or tenure for the other.
(b) Third degree of relationship. Relatives who are within the third degree of relationship to an employee, by blood or marriage, are as follows: Spouse, parent, grandparent, or great grandparent; parent, grandparent, or great-grandparent of spouse; brother or sister; brother-in-law or sister-in-law; uncle or aunt; uncle or aunt of a spouse; niece or nephew; spouse of niece or nephew; son or daughter; son-in-law or daughter-in-law; granddaughter or grandson or their spouse; and great-grandson or great-granddaughter or their spouse.

Sec. 1-4. Outside employment
The College regards full-time employment with the College as a primary professional obligation. Any other employment or enterprise is regarded as secondary to the employee's work at the College.

Sec. 1-5. Sexual Misconduct, Sex Discrimination and Unlawful Harassment Policy and Grievance Procedure
(a) Statement. Rose State College (College) is committed to providing equal employment and educational opportunities and, therefore, forbids discrimination against any employee, student or applicant for employment on the basis of gender. Furthermore, the College condemns the sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and/or unlawful harassment of students, faculty and staff, to include:

(1) Domestic Violence;
(2) Dating Violence;
(3) Stalking;
(4) Sexual Assault;
(5) Sexual Harassment; and/or
(6) Any other form of sexual misconduct as defined by law and available at www.oscn.net.
(b) Positions of authority. Since some members of the College community hold positions of authority that may involve the legitimate exercise of power over others, they have the responsibility to be sensitive to that power. Faculty and supervisors in particular, in their relationships with students and subordinates, need to be aware of potential conflicts of interest and the possible compromise of their valuative capacity. Because there is an inherent power difference in these relationships, the potential exists for the less powerful person to perceive a coercive element in suggestions regarding activities outside those appropriate to the professional relationship. The responsibility of faculty and supervisors is to behave in such a manner that their words or actions cannot reasonably be perceived as sexually coercive, abusive or exploitive.

(c) Management responsibilities. Employees or agents who (a) supervise other employees, contractors or agents; (b) teach or advise students; or (c) have management authority related to a College sponsored activity, student program or activity are required to:

1. Engage in appropriate measures to prevent violations of this policy; and
2. Promptly notify the Human Resources/Affirmative Action Office after being informed of or having a reasonable basis to suspect a policy violation. In instances where the supervisor has taken independent action, the supervisor shall notify the Human Resources/Affirmative Action Office as soon as possible after taking such action. Additionally, any action taken may not disadvantage the complaining party.

(d) Environment of study and work. The College is committed to providing an environment of study and work free from sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and unlawful harassment and to ensuring the accessibility of appropriate grievance procedures for addressing all complaints regarding sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and unlawful harassment.

(e) Definitions. Offenses prohibited under the College’s policy include, but are not limited to: sexual harassment; sex discrimination (including sexual orientation discrimination and gender identity or gender expression discrimination); non-consensual sexual intercourse (or attempts to commit same); non-consensual sexual contact (or attempts to commit same); sexual coercion; domestic/dating violence; stalking; and sexual exploitation (or attempts to commit same).

1. Sex Discrimination:
   (A) Includes sexual harassment and is defined as conduct directed at a specific individual or a group of identifiable individuals that subjects the individual or group to treatment that adversely affects their employment or education, or institutional benefits, on account of sex or gender (including sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression discrimination). It may include acts of verbal, nonverbal or physical aggression, intimidation or hostility based on sex or sex-stereotyping, even if those acts do not involve conduct of a sexual nature.
   (B) Pregnancy Discrimination:
      (i) The College prohibits discrimination on the basis of pregnancy, childbirth, false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy or recovery therefrom. Discrimination of the basis of pregnancy should be reported in accordance with this policy. Employees, students and visitors with questions regarding accommodations during pregnancy are encouraged to contact the Office of Human Resources, 6420 S.E. 15th Street, Midwest City, OK 73110, ADM Room 104, (405) 733-7979. For complaints arising under this policy, please report to the Senior Director, Human Resources/AAO.

2. Sexual Harassment:
   (A) Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination. Sexual harassment is unwelcome and discriminatory speech or conduct undertaken because of an individual’s gender or is sexual in nature and is so severe, pervasive or persistent, objectively and subjectively offensive that it has the systematic effect of unreasonably interfering with or depriving an individual of educational, institutional or employment access, benefits, activities or opportunities. Students, employees and visitors who are subject to or who witnesses unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature are encouraged to report the incident(s) to the Senior Director, Human Resources/AAO.

(i) Hostile Environment Sexual Harassment includes conduct that is sufficiently severe, pervasive or persistent, objectively and subjectively offensive that it alters the conditions of education or employment or institutional benefits of a reasonable person with the same characteristics of the victim of the harassing conduct. Whether conduct is harassing is based upon examining a totality of circumstances, including but not limited to:

(a) The frequency of the conduct;
(b) The nature and severity of the conduct;
(c) Whether the conduct was physically threatening;
(d) Whether the conduct was deliberate, repeated humiliation based upon sex;
(e) The effect of the conduct on the alleged victim’s mental or emotional state from the perspective of a reasonable person;
(f) Whether the conduct was directed at more than one person;
(g) Whether the conduct arose in the context of other discriminatory conduct;
(h) Continued or repeated verbal abuse of a sexual nature, such as gratuitous suggestive comments and sexually explicit jokes; and
(i) Whether the speech or conduct deserves constitutional protections.

(ii) Quid Pro Quo Sexual Harassment exists when individuals in positions of authority over the complainant:

(a) Make unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature; and
(b) Indicate, explicitly or implicitly, that failure to submit to or the rejection of such conduct will result in adverse educational or employment action or where participation in an educational program or institutional activity or benefit is conditioned upon the victim’s submission to such activity.

(B) For the purpose of this policy, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment if:

(i) Submission to the conduct is made either an explicit or implicit condition of employment or academic instruction/standing;
(ii) Submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as a basis for employment or academic decisions affecting the harassed employee or student;
(iii) The conduct, either by intent or by effect, creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work or learning environment; or
(iv) Submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as a basis for providing the College’s services or participation in the College’s programs.

(C) Sexual harassment can occur in a variety of circumstances, including but not limited to:
(i) The individual who is sexually harassed, as well as the harasser, may be female or male and does not have to be of the opposite sex from the harasser;
(ii) The harasser can be the supervisor or the individual who is sexually harassed, an agent of the employer, a supervisor in another area, a coworker, a subordinate, a professor or a non-employee;
(iii) The individual who is sexually harassed does not have to be the specific person to whom the harasser directs the conduct which constitutes sexual harassment but must be a person who was directly affected by the offensive conduct of the harasser; and
(iv) Unlawful sexual harassment may occur without economic injury to or discharge of the individual who is sexually harassed.

(3) Sexual Violence:
(A) Physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person’s will or where a person is incapable of giving consent. A number of acts fall into the category of sexual violence, which includes, but is not limited to: rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, sexual misconduct and sexual coercion.
(i) Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse is defined as any sexual intercourse or penetration of the anal, oral, vaginal or genital opening of the victim, including sexual intercourse or penetration by any part of a person’s body or by the use of an object, however slight, by one person to another without consent or against the victim’s will. This definition includes rape and sexual assault, sexual misconduct and sexual violence.
(ii) Non-Consensual Sexual Contact is any intentional touching, however slight, whether clothed or unclothed, of the victim’s intimate body parts (primarily genital area, groin, inner thigh, buttock or breast) with any object or body part, without consent and/or by force. It also includes the touching of any part of a victim’s body using the perpetrator’s genitalia and/or forcing the victim to touch the intimate areas of the perpetrator or any contact in a sexual manner even if not involving contact of or by breasts, buttocks, groin, genitals, mouth or other orifice. This definition includes sexual battery and sexual misconduct.
(iii) Sexual Coercion is the act of using pressure (including physical pressure, verbal pressure or emotional pressure), alcohol, medications, drugs, or force to have sexual contact against someone’s will or with someone who has already refused. This includes rape, sexual assault, sexual exploitation and sexual misconduct.

(4) Sexual Exploitation:
(A) Occurs when a person takes non-consensual, unjust or abusive sexual advantage of another for his/her own advantage or benefit, or to benefit or advantage anyone other than the one being exploited, and that behavior may not otherwise constitute one of the other sexual misconduct offenses.
(i) Examples of sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to:
   (a)Non-consensual video or audio-taping of any form of sexual activity;
(b) Going beyond the boundaries of consent (such as letting a person or people hide in the closet to watch an individual have consensual sex without their partner’s knowledge or consent);
(c) Sexually-based stalking or bullying;
(d) Engaging in non-consensual voyeurism, such as observing sexual acts or body parts of another from a secret vantage point;
(e) Knowingly transmitting a sexually transmitted disease or illness to another;
(f) Exposing one’s genitals in a non-consensual circumstance or inducing another to expose his or her genitals;
(g)Prostituting another person; and
(h) Other forms of invasion of sexual privacy.

(5) Domestic and Dating Violence:

(6) Sexual Assault:
(A) Assault as applied to an act when committed in a sexual context, in furtherance of sexual demands or based on sex stereotyping is defined in Oklahoma Penal Code as any willful and unlawful attempt or offer with force or violence to do a corporal hurt to another (Oklahoma Penal Code, § 21-641, www.oscn.net).

(i) Would cause a reasonable person or a member of the immediate family of that person as defined in subsection D of this section to feel frightened, intimidated, threatened, harassed or molested; and
(ii) Actually causes the person being followed or harassed to feel terrorized, frightened, intimidated, threatened, harassed or molested.
(B) Any person who violates the provisions of subsection A of this section when:
(i) There is a permanent or temporary restraining order, a protective order, an emergency ex parte protective order or an injunction in effect prohibiting the behavior described in subsection A of this section against the same party, when the person violating the provisions of subsection A of this section has actual notice of the issuance of such order or injunction; or

Harassment does not include constitutionally protected activity or conduct that serves a legitimate purpose;

(ii) "Course of conduct" means a pattern of conduct composed of a series of two (2) or more separate acts over a period of time, however short, evidencing a continuity of purpose. Constitutionally protected activity is not included within the meaning of "course of conduct";

(iii) "Emotional distress" means significant mental suffering or distress that may, but does not necessarily require, medical or other professional treatment or counseling;

(iv) "Unconsented contact" means any contact with another individual that is initiated or continued without the consent of the individual, or in disregard of that individual's expressed desire that the contact be avoided or discontinued. Constitutionally protected activity is not included within the meaning of “unconsented contact.” Unconsented contact includes, but is not limited to:

(8) Other Misconduct:
(A) Other forms of misconduct based on one’s gender also constitute violations of this policy including, but not limited to: threatening or causing physical harm, extreme verbal abuse or other conduct which threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person;
(B) Discrimination, defined as actions that deprive other members of the community of educational or employment access, benefits or opportunities on the basis of gender;

(H) Stalking, defined as repetitive and/or menacing pursuit, following, harassment and/or interference with the peace and/or safety of a member of the community or the safety of any of the immediate family members of the community.

(9) Consent:
(A) Consent is the act of willingly agreeing to engage in sexual contact or conduct. Individuals who consent to sex must be able to understand what behavior they are providing consent. Under this policy, “No” always means “No,” and the absence of “No” may not mean “Yes.”
   (i) Consent is informed, knowing and voluntary. Consent is active, not passive. Silence, in and of itself, cannot be interpreted as consent. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create mutually understandable permission regarding the conditions of sexual activity.
   (ii) Consent to one form of sexual activity cannot imply consent to other forms of sexual activity.
   (iii) Previous relationships or consent does not imply consent to future sexual acts.
(iv) Consent cannot be procured by use of physical force, compelling threats, intimidating behavior or coercion. Coercion is unreasonable pressure for sexual activity.

(v) In order to give effective consent, one must be of legal age and have the capacity to consent. Incapacity may result from mental disability, intellectual disability, unconsciousness/sleep, age or use of alcohol, drugs, medication and/or other substances. Consent given by someone who one should know to be, or based on the circumstances, reasonably should have known to be, mentally or physically incapacitated, is a policy violation. Incapacitation is a state where someone cannot make rational, reasonable decisions because he or she lacks capacity to give knowing consent (e.g. to understand the “who, what, when, where, why or how” of their sexual interaction). Incapacity may result from a level of alcohol ingestion that is more severe than impairment, being under the influence, drunkenness or intoxication. It is less severe than alcohol poisoning or overdose. Whether a person is incapacitated is a subjective determination that will be made after the incident and in light of all facts available. Individuals reach incapacitation at different points and as a result of different stimuli [and] exhibit incapacity in different ways. Note: Indications of consent are irrelevant if the initiator knows or should reasonably have known of the incapacity of the other person.

(B) Use of alcohol, medications, or other drugs will not excuse behavior that violates this policy.

(f) Examples of prohibited conduct. Conduct prohibited by this policy may include, but is not limited to:

1. Unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature.

   A) Conduct of a sexual nature may include, but is not limited to:

   i) Verbal or physical sexual advances, including subtle pressure for sexual activity, flirtation, advances and/or propositions of a sexual nature;

   ii) Touching, pinching, patting or brushing against;

   iii) Unwarranted displays of sexually suggestive or sexually explicit objects or pictures, including greeting cards, articles, books, magazines or cartoons;

   iv) Comments regarding physical or personality characteristics of a sexual nature;

   v) Sexually-oriented “kidding,” “teasing,” double meanings and jokes;

   vi) Sexual assault.

2. Conduct of a sexual nature may constitute sexual harassment when the allegedly harassed employee has indicated, either orally or by his or her conduct, that it is unwelcome.

3. If a person has initially welcomed such conduct by active participation, the person must give specific notice to the alleged harasser that such conduct is no longer welcome in order for the subsequent conduct to be deemed unwelcome.

(g) State Law Definitions. In accordance with the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 (VAWA), please be advised that the following definitions are applicable should an individual wish to pursue Oklahoma state criminal or civil actions. These definitions may differ from the College’s administrative policy definitions noted above. The College’s administrative system and disciplinary procedures are separate and distinct from those available to someone in a state civil or criminal action. Individuals may seek administrative remedies in accordance with this policy and also may seek state or federal civil or criminal remedies for the same incident through the applicable systems. The definitions set forth below are reviewed and verified annually; for a more frequently updated resource, please consult Oklahoma’s State Court Network site (http://www.oscn.net).

(n) Free Speech and Academic Freedom. Members of the Campus community enjoy significant free speech protections guaranteed by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. This policy is intended to protect members of the Campus community from discrimination and is not designed to regulate protected speech. No provision of this policy shall be interpreted to prohibit conduct that is legitimately related to course content, teaching methods, scholarship or public commentary of an individual faculty member or the educational, political, artistic or literary expression of students in classrooms and public forums. However, freedom of speech and academic freedom are not limitless and do not protect speech or expressive conduct that violates federal or state anti-discrimination laws.

(o) Investigation. In determining whether alleged conduct constitutes sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and/or unlawful harassment, the totality of the circumstances, the nature of the conduct and the context in which the alleged conduct occurred shall be investigated. (q) Anonymous complaints. All members of the College community may contact the Human Resources/Affirmative Action Office at any time to ask questions about sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and unlawful harassment or complaint procedures without disclosing their names and without filing a complaint.

Although anonymous complaints are discouraged, the College will reasonably respond to all allegations of sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and unlawful harassment. To determine the appropriate response to an anonymous allegation, the College will weigh the following factors:

1. The source and nature of the information;
2. The seriousness of the alleged incident;
3. The specificity of the information;
4. The objectivity and credibility of the source of the report;
5. Whether any individuals can be identified who were subjected to the alleged harassment; and Whether those individuals want to pursue the matter.
If based on these factors, it is reasonable for the College to investigate the matter, the Human Resources/Affirmative Action Office will conduct an investigation and recommend appropriate action to address substantiated allegations. However, a reasonable response would not include disciplinary action against an alleged harasser if an accuser insists that his or her name not be revealed, if there is insufficient corroborating evidence and if the alleged harasser could not respond to the charges of sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and/or unlawful harassment without knowing the name of the accuser.

Retaliation.
No reprisals or retaliation shall be allowed to occur as a result of the good faith reporting of charges of sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and/or unlawful harassment. Any attempt to penalize or retaliate against a person for filing a complaint or participating in the investigation of a complaint of sexual misconduct, sex discrimination and/or unlawful harassment will be treated as a separate and distinct violation of this policy.

SECTION 3: HIRING PROCEDURES

Sec. 3-1. Personnel policy statement in compliance with Senate Joint Resolution Number 23

Rose State College adheres to the following provisions which are in compliance with Senate Joint Resolution Number 23.

(a) Faculty

(1) Appointment. All faculty are appointed by the Board of Regents upon completion of the job selection process.

(2) Renewal and nonrenewal of appointment. All new professors appointed to regular full-time positions are employed on a probationary basis for a minimum of five years. Probationary employment carries no obligation for continuance, and employment is on an annual basis. Administrative officials must annually make the decision to recommend rehiring to the Board of Regents. No recommendation for an individual means that no employment is offered to that person for the new academic year.

(3) Promotion. Promotion for faculty is synonymous with tenure as there is no designation of rank other than that of professor.

(4) Dismissal. Any faculty member may be removed from his/her position of employment at any time at the recommendation of the President and appropriate administrative officials with subsequent approval of the Board of Regents for the good of the College. Further explanation and procedures are contained in this Chapter.

(5) Retirement policy. Retirement policy shall be as stated in Chapter II, Section 3-6 of the "Policies and Procedures Manual."

(b) Administrators and professionals. All administrative and professional employees are appointed by the Board of Regents upon completion of the job selection process.

Sec. 3-2. Specified executive and administrative positions

Employment procedures for the administrative positions of President, Vice Presidents, and Academic Deans will include the formation of a search committee if the vacancy is not filled through employee promotion. Although the memberships of the committees will vary according to the working relationships which are an integral part of each position, the responsibilities and the basic procedures of the committees will be the same. The President may appoint other member(s) as appropriate. Equal employment procedures outlined in the preceding parts of this section will be followed in all instances.

(a) Committee membership:

(1) Presidential search committee

(A) A minimum of three members of the Rose State College Board of Regents, appointed by the Chairman.

(B) One faculty member, elected by majority vote of the full-time faculty in general meeting.

(C) One student, elected by majority vote of the Student Senate.

(D) Consideration may also be given to forming three advisory subcommittees: for the Regents, five administrators, one of whom will be the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer; for the faculty members, five additional faculty members, one from each division; for the students, five additional Student Senate members. (b) Committee responsibilities. The primary responsibilities of the Search Committee are the search, preliminary screening, and recommending of applicants to the appropriate person(s). In the event a consensus cannot be reached, employment procedures will be reinitiated, beginning with recruitment of applicants. The following guidelines have been set for the committee to follow in fulfilling its responsibilities:

1) Establish criteria. Establish criteria, using the position announcement, the job description, and affirmative action guidelines, and qualifications provided by the Board of Regents, if any, for screening applications. In the event the position has not been previously announced, the qualifications (minimum, desired, and equivalent) and personal characteristics will be determined by the committee, with recommendations from the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer and Board of Regents, if any, and approval of the President being obtained prior to position announcement.

Except as may be otherwise provided in this chapter, the following represent general guidelines in the employee selection process.

(a) Employment policy. The Rose State College Board of Regents is the hiring authority for all full-time personnel. For this reason, all employment activities which lead to recommendations for full-time employment are recommendations only and are not to be considered as appointments until approved by the Board of Regents.

(b) Salary schedule. The intent of the Rose State College entry-level salary schedule is to ensure that salaries and wages are competitive with others in similar job classifications as resources allow. Pay ranges reflect a minimum and maximum rate of entry-level pay. Exceptions to hiring at below or above the ranges require approval of the President. An equity analysis may be performed by Human Resources/AAO, as needed.

(c) Employment procedures. Rose State College utilizes a uniform selection procedure in matters of employment. The College employs the best qualified applicants. The following procedures assist with implementation of and selection of the best qualified applicants in an equal manner.

(d) Notice of vacancies. The Human Resources/AAO Office normally announces job openings on the office bulletin board, the Rose State College Internal Web page and External Homepage; HigherEdJobs.com; and National Minority Faculty ID program.

(e) Posting on official boards. Jobs available in all classifications are posted on official boards within the College.

(f) Qualified persons within the College. Whenever an executive/administrative/managerial, professional, or classified position becomes vacant, the College or administrative unit, with the President, considers qualified persons from within the College or administrative unit. If it is determined by the President that the position will not be filled by promotion or transfer, the vacancy is then posted.

(g) Job postings display. Job postings are displayed on College bulletin boards for the length of the posting period.

(h) Most qualified candidates. Open positions are filled by the most qualified candidates after a full and fair search which affirmatively seeks candidates of minority groups and females for full consideration.
(i) Initial selection. The College or administrative unit, with the President, makes the initial selection of the person, subject to confirmation by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer that proper procedures have been followed in announcement of a vacancy and that internal candidates who applied have been given proper consideration for the vacancy.

(j) Promotions. Promotions are recommended by the Vice Presidents to the President with concurrence by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer.

(k) Employee's interest in a job opening. An employee's indication of interest in a job opening does not jeopardize an employee's current status.

(l) Applicant pools, interviews and recommendations.
   1. Applicant pools. Applicant pools are established for job openings under the four major classifications as follows: The applicant pools are verified by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer. The Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer transmits applicant pools to the immediate employment area supervisor. The immediate supervisor screens applicants, selects applicants for interview, interviews, and recommends three applicants for employment. These three applicants are recorded on a Recommendation for Employment form with appropriate signature of the supervisor. The immediate supervisor transmits the recommendation form to the Vice President. The appropriate Vice President interviews the three applicants recommended. In some situations there may not be three applicants sufficiently qualified to warrant three recommendations; for example, positions that are highly specialized. In those situations where there are not three qualified candidates warranting recommendation and in those situations where positions are posted internally, a fewer number, or none, may be submitted with a written explanation for the lesser number. In such cases, the Vice President or President may request that the process be reviewed and reconsidered and may take action as appropriate.
   2. Vice President interview. If the Vice President concurs with the recommendation after interview, the recommendation is signed by the Vice President and transmitted to the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer. The Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer monitors the applicant pool and the three persons recommended. If the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer concurs, he/she signs and transmits the recommendation to the President for signature.
   3. President interview. The President has the option of interviewing recommended applicants for employment at the College.
   4. Board of Regents Action. If the President concurs, the recommendation is signed and a copy is forwarded to the appropriate Vice President to be placed on the Rose State College Board of Regents' agenda for ratification/approval. The original Recommendation for Employment form is returned to the Human Resources/AAO Office for completion of the employment process. The Rose State College Board of Regents is the only body authorized to employ personnel.

(m) Probationary period for regular personnel. Except for the President, employees hired as a result of the institutional selection procedure are placed on probationary status. Classified staff will serve a six-month probationary period. Administrative/professional staff, including those designated as 50% teaching and 50% other duties, e.g.: coaches, associate deans, and program directors, will serve a one (1) year probationary period. Non-tenured faculty will serve a one (1) year initial probationary period. However, the institution is not required to retain probationary employees for the length of the probationary period. The probationary period is an extension of the selection process. It is a time for the employee to demonstrate the skills and abilities to perform the duties assigned and for the supervisor to evaluate whether the employee meets the performance standards required by the position. Probationary employees are not eligible for appeal under the Rules and Procedures set forth in the policy on Appeals Procedures.

Following a promotion to a new classification, a transfer, or a demotion, employees may be placed on a six-month probationary period to allow the department sufficient time to measure the efficiency and productivity of the probationary employee. However, the institution is not required to retain probationary employees for the length of the probationary period. If there is an interruption of service during the probationary period, the time lapse during the interruption shall not be included as part of the probationary period.

During the last month of the probationary period, the supervisor will conduct a performance appraisal. Before completion of the probationary period and after consulting with the probationary employee, the supervisor will present a written recommendation for regular employment or termination through the appropriate administrative channels to the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer. Probationary employees are not eligible for appeal under the rules and procedures set forth in the policy on Appeals Procedures. The recommendation will be forwarded to the President by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer. The President will notify the employee in writing of his/her change of employment status. The original evaluation instrument will be stored in the Office of Human Resources/AAO, and a copy will be forwarded to the employee’s file in the Office of the President or appropriate vice president.

An employee may be dismissed without prior notice at any time during the probationary period. Recommendations for dismissals will be made to the President and reported to the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer.

Probationary periods do not affect an employee's eligibility for accrual or use of College benefits. Personnel are discouraged from holding office in College-approved organizations and clubs and serving on College approved committees until such time as the probationary period is completed.

(n) Screening procedures. Except as may otherwise be provided, screening procedures are as follows for Executive, Administrative, Managerial, Faculty, and Professional positions:

1. Applicant selection. After receiving a completed application for a professional, faculty, or administrative position, the Human Resources/AAO Office will file essential information and then refer a copy of the application to the appropriate personnel for interviewing, etc. For example, Deans work with professors in their divisions for assistance in selection of the best applicant. The Dean or other appropriate administrator selects three applicants best suited to the requirements of the position. The Job Selection Report forms provided by the Human Resources/AAO Office are then completed, and a Recommendation for Employment form is filled out listing the top three applicants in alphabetical order. All forms, along with the applications of the top three applicants, are forwarded to the appropriate Vice President. The Vice President interviews all three applicants; and, if agreeing with the recommendations, he/she forwards the signed recommendation form and all Job Selection Report forms to the Human Resources/AAO Office.
(2) Verification of employment procedures. After verifying that equal employment procedures have been adhered to and that the selection is in keeping with the goals of the Affirmative Action Compliance Program Plan, the Recommendation for Employment form is signed by the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer. The recommendation form with the three applications attached are then forwarded to the College President or designee, who interviews each full-time applicant who is recommended for employment. If the President agrees with the ranking of the applicants, and the Office of Human Resources/AAO verifies the recommendation is in compliance with the Affirmative Action Compliance Program Plan, then the President presents the recommendation to the Board of Regents for their approval. The Rose State College Board of Regents is the only body authorized to employ personnel. Upon final approval, the hiring department notifies the applicant.

(3) Completion of employment process. All new employees must report to the Human Resources/AAO Office on or before the first day they report to work in order to complete the employment process. This applies to all new appointments and reinstatements, to include full-time, part-time, regular, temporary, probationary, hourly, Work-Study, and adjunct professors. Before being released for processing in the Payroll Office, the new employee must fill out an Employment Eligibility Verification Form (form I-9), which verifies employment eligibility to work in the United States in accordance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986. Upon completion of paperwork, the new employee will return to the immediate supervisor with a Release to Work Form indicating the employee's approval status.

(4) Records pertaining to filling a position. All records pertaining to the filling of a position must be kept for a period of three years from the time of appointment.

(o) Professor competence in written and oral communication. Rose State College diligently strives to provide students with professors who have competence in written and oral communication. A careful review of application statements and a series of interviews, with an emphasis on the applicant's language skills, enable this College to recommend professors who display a proficiency in English. This policy was established in response to the Oklahoma State Regents' Resolution No. 1703.

(1) Procedures for evaluating use of the English language. The following procedures are implemented for evaluating prospective faculty in their use of the English language:

(A) Full-time professor procedure

(i) During the initial application review, the appropriate Dean of the division and/or Program Director considers the applicant's college course work in composition, speech, and written statements on educational philosophy to begin an assessment of language strengths or weaknesses.

(ii) A committee, consisting of the Dean of the division and/or Program Director and his/her faculty members, interviews the applicant and, as an important component of the interview, evaluates the applicant's vocal delivery, voice quality, articulation, and pronunciation.

(iii) The Vice President for Academic Affairs interviews the three recommended applicants' use of language as an essential criterion for recommendation to the President.
(iv) The College President or designee interviews all full-time applicants recommended by the Vice President for Academic Affairs and evaluates the applicant's vocal clarity and language correctness before preparing the recommendation for the Board of Regents.

(B) Adjunct professor procedure

(i) Utilizing similar guidelines as those for full-time applicants, the Dean of the division or Associate Dean and/or Program Director reviews the applicant's academic preparation in English classes and writing adeptness on composition parts of the application.

(ii) The Dean of the division or Associate Dean and/or Program Director interviews the applicant and considers language usage as an integral factor in the evaluation process.

(iii) The final recommendation interview is conducted by the Vice President for Academic Affairs or his/her designee, who evaluates the applicant's recommendation with the Dean before submitting it to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

(iv) The Vice President for Academic Affairs and the College President or designee review the application and then send their recommendation to the Board of Regents.

Sec. 3-4. General Faculty qualifications, growth, supervision, and evaluation

(a) Faculty qualifications. Minimum qualifications for faculty are generally a master's degree in the teaching discipline or a master's degree with a minimum of 18 graduate hours in the discipline and two years college teaching experience. Community college teaching experience is desirable. In some specialized fields, equivalent certification credentials and professional experience may be accepted in place of the master's degree and college teaching.

(b) Faculty growth requirements

(1) Professional progress. Faculty members are expected to make continuous professional progress while on the faculty of Rose State College. Supervisory personnel are expected to review annually with each division member the nature and progress of his/her professional development and file a written report. Professors are expected to realize professional progress through such activities as the following: completion of additional college work, participation in professional organizations and meetings, seminars, workshops, special study groups, independent study groups, independent study or research, travel, work experience, private instruction, publishing, leadership in civic organizations, and other learning experiences.

(2) Professional growth. Professional growth will be considered a factor in the evaluation of teaching personnel.

(c) Faculty supervision and evaluation

(1) Procedures and criteria. The College Administration will be responsible for developing and maintaining, with the cooperation of all managerial and professional staff, procedures and criteria for the evaluation of all faculty employees. These procedures and criteria, found under Guidelines for Faculty Development and Evaluation, shall be the basis for recommended vertical classification on salary schedule, promotion, and salary increases. Immediate supervision of a professor will be the responsibility of the Dean of the division, and other administrative, managerial, and professional personnel where appropriate. To promote consistency, the Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Division Deans will discuss the evaluation procedure in the Academic Council meeting prior to the faculty evaluation process.

(2) Professional Obligations and Contributory Services

(A) Professional obligations. Professional obligations include those which are considered to be a part of the professor's performance with the College and are applicable in the evaluation procedures in regard to reappointment, tenure recommendation, and recommended salary increments. Professional obligations must be met before contributory services evaluation can be considered for recommendation for merit pay. These obligations are outlined in Sections 2-26 and 2-39 of the "Policies and Procedures Manual."

(B) Contributory services. Contributory services, which constitute the basis for the Dean's recommendation for merit pay, include quality teaching, professional growth, community service, and college service.

(i) Quality Teaching includes the attributes and activities which lead to improvements in instruction while demonstrating knowledge of subject matter, the ability to inspire and motivate students through traditional teaching methods or newer techniques, contributions toward course and curriculum development, assistance to students both inside and outside the classroom, self-improvement through additional graduate study, institutional research related to improvements in teaching and in course or curriculum development, evidence of a professional and cooperative attitude, and willingness to accept responsibility.

(ii) Professional Growth includes activities such as participation in professional organizations and meetings, seminars, workshops, and special study groups, independent study groups, independent study, research, publishing, study-related travel, work experience, private instruction, leadership in civic organizations, and other learning experiences.

(iii) Community Services include using College resources to satisfy a void in the community or service area that is not provided for in regular academic programs or services. Although faculty participation in community service can be in a variety of ways, continuing education is the area in which faculty most often participate. Continuing education courses are usually considered to be those scheduled to meet a particular need. Consulting, conducting surveys, research concerning community problems, coordinating special projects, evaluating and testing, and conducting workshops and seminars are other ways in which a faculty or staff member can participate in community services.

(iv) College Services include performance above and beyond his/her stated duties and responsibilities such as participation on special committees, consultation to College administrators, and sponsorship of student activities and projects.

(3) Guidelines for faculty development and evaluation. The following procedures are offered as guidelines for faculty development and evaluation procedures, although the College may modify the procedures where appropriate or necessary.
(A) Student evaluations. Evaluation for Instructional Development through Student Evaluations (all nontenured faculty and tenure review):

(i) The Dean of the division, or Program Director where appropriate, and professor will:

(I) select at least two classes (different preparations if possible) for student evaluation of instruction between the 11th and 14th weeks of the 16-week session and during the 5th or 6th week of the 8-week session of the fall semester;

(II) repeat the procedure between the 9th and 12th weeks of the spring semester if deemed advisable by professor or Dean, or Program Director where appropriate.

(ii) The professor will:

(I) explain the evaluation procedure to the class;

(II) distribute and explain the evaluation forms, assuring that all information at the top of the forms is complete and accurate;

(III) advise the students that s/he will not see the evaluations until after final grades are in;

(IV) assign a student to monitor the evaluation and provide the student with a large manila envelope labeled with the professor's name, the course number, the key number, and the location to which the student will deliver the envelope. The professor will then leave the room until the evaluations have been completed and collected. It is recommended that the evaluation be conducted at the beginning of the class period.

(iii) A student, selected by the professor, will seal the manila envelope in the presence of the class and deliver the envelope to the Learning Resources Center, first floor, Information Desk. The envelope will be transferred to Information Technology.

(iv) Information Technology will:

(I) provide an analysis;

(II) return Student Evaluation forms and two copies of analysis to the Dean of the division by January 15.

(v) The professor will before February 15 receive, review, and return the Student Evaluation forms to the Dean’s office within 24 hours.

(B) In-class visit. Evaluation for Instructional Development through In-Class Visit (nontenured faculty):

(i) During the first semester of employment, new personnel with instructional responsibility will have in-class visitation(s). The visitation, which may be done individually or as a team, will be conducted by the Dean of the division and/or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel where appropriate, and a minimum of two tenured faculty members or one program director and one tenured faculty member; if possible, the faculty member(s) should teach in the same discipline as the person being visited. Each visitor will complete a Classroom Visit form, and the results will be compiled by the Dean. A composite of the results and recommendations, prepared by the Dean, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel, will be presented to the evaluated professor during his/her evaluation conference with the Dean.

(ii) Probationary faculty will be visited during the first, third, and fifth years of employment and additionally at the discretion of the Dean of the division, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel where appropriate.

(iii) Within one week following the faculty member's meeting with the Dean, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel where appropriate (see next section), the faculty member will submit a memo to the division representative to the Faculty Development Advisory Committee indicating the areas revealed in the evaluation which could be strengthened through Faculty In-Service. This information will be incorporated in the planning for programs for the following year.

(C) Online Class Self-Review and Observation. Faculty who teach online courses (including hybrid formats) will ensure the quality, rigor and continuous improvement of distance-delivered offerings through Online Course Self-Reviews and Online Class Observations:

(i) Faculty with instructional responsibility for distance-delivered courses will complete a Self-Review of each unique online offering (each course, not each section) at least once every academic year. As part of the continuous improvement goals, the Self-Review will include a checklist of expected standards that should be included in each online course, as well as the faculty member’s plans for improving his/her course(s) over the academic year.

(ii) Each unique online offering mentioned in section (i) will also have an Online Class Observation at least once every three years. The Division Dean will determine which courses will be observed and the timing of the observations. The Online Class observations may be conducted by the Dean, Associate Dean, Program Directors or QM Certified Peer Reviewers, as designated by the Dean.

(iii) Courses that receive less than 85% (50% next year) of the total possible points from the Online Class Observation will be observed on a more frequent basis. The objective of the more frequent observations is to generate ideas and feedback that will assist the faculty member in improving the online course to meet quality expectations. Ultimately, all courses should be able to obtain 85% or more of the total possible points after subsequent observations. Resources to help faculty with the expectations of an Online Class Observation (and other quality standards) include the Instructional Support Center, faculty who are Quality Matters Certified Peer Reviewers, and members of the Online Practices Committee.

(D) Faculty evaluation for instructional development, reappointment, and contributory services. Faculty evaluation for instructional development, reappointment, and contributory services (nontenured for all three aspects, tenured for reappointment and contributory services):
(i) Faculty Data Sheet. Each faculty member will complete a Faculty Data Sheet that includes relevant information covering the period from January 1 to December 31 of the previous year. Each faculty member should then submit the completed form to his/her supervisor after February 1 but no later than February 15.

(ii) The Dean of the division, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel where appropriate
   (I) will complete the Faculty Performance Appraisal using appropriate evaluation materials;
   (II) will meet with each professor during the 2nd week in April;
   (III) will assist the professor in formulating objectives for instructional improvement, if indicated;
   (IV) will identify services the College may provide to assist the professor in meeting objectives;
   (V) will document areas of concern.

(iii) If the professor disagrees with the evaluation(s), s/he should place an asterisk after his/her signature, which acknowledges that the evaluation conference has taken place, thus indicating the intention to write a memo(s) discussing the areas of disagreement. This memo(s) should be submitted to the Dean of the division, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel where appropriate, within one week, to be attached to the evaluation form, after which the evaluation will be discussed again.

(F) Recommendations. The Dean of the division, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel where appropriate, will make appropriate recommendations for reappointment through customary administrative procedures. The Dean will meet with the professor to discuss salary recommendations after the budget has been approved.

(G) Retention of materials. The original of all appraisal instruments for regular Faculty and Adjunct Faculty will be retained until five years after the contract expiration in the appropriate Division Dean's office.

(H) Official forms. Official forms for Faculty Performance Appraisal Sheet, Instructional Evaluation - Classroom Visit, and Student Evaluation of Professor and Instruction are available in the "Forms Handbook."

(4) Guidelines for adjunct faculty development and evaluation. The following procedures are offered as guidelines for adjunct faculty development and evaluation procedures, although the College may modify the procedures where appropriate or necessary.

(A) Student evaluation. The Dean of the division, or other administrative, managerial, or professional personnel, and the professor will select at least one class for student evaluation of instruction each year.

(B) The professor will:
   (i) explain the evaluation procedure to the class;

   (iii) advise the students that s/he will not see the evaluations until after final grades are in;
(iv) assign a student to monitor the evaluation and provide the student with a large manila envelope labeled with the professor's name, the course number, the key number, and the location to which the student will deliver the envelope. The professor will then leave the room until the evaluations have been completed and collected. It is recommended that the evaluation be conducted at the beginning of the class period.

(C) A student, selected by the professor, will:
   (i) monitor the evaluation process;
   (ii) collect forms, place in manila envelope, and seal in presence of the class;
   (iii) deliver envelope to Learning Resources Center, first floor, Information Desk. The envelope will be transferred to Information Technology.

(D) Information Technology will:

Sec. 7-1. Appeals procedure: faculty

In the event of dismissal, return to probationary status or denial of tenure, suspension without pay, or demotion resulting in pay reduction, proper appeals procedures are provided to ensure an effective faculty rights, responsibilities, and tenure system. Upon the occurrence of such events, the Rose State College appeals system is set forth below.

(1) Appellate Forums. In ascending order, those persons or groups to whom a faculty member may appeal are the Hearing Committee and the President of the College. A description of each of these follows:

   (A) Hearing Committee. The Hearing Committee is composed of one tenured professor from each division elected by the tenured faculty members of that division at the beginning of the school year. If any member of the Committee is an interested party in a case which comes before the Committee, s/he will not serve on that case. The faculty member in question will have the right to disqualify not more than one member of the Committee.

   (B) President. President refers to the President of the College.

(2) Procedure.

   (A) Formal hearing. Any faculty member who desires to appeal a dismissal, return to probationary status or denial of tenure, suspension without pay, or demotion resulting in pay reduction must request a formal hearing before the Hearing Committee within ten (10) calendar days of notification of status by submitting a written Request to the Senior Director, Human Resources/AAO. If the faculty member is tenured, the burden of proof is upon the administration to show that the adverse personnel action was undertaken for the good of the College. If, however, the faculty member is not tenured and has completed one (1) year of their probationary period, the burden of proof is upon the non-tenured faculty member, not the administration, to show that the adverse action was for reasons other than for the good of the College. Statements from the faculty member in question and the appropriate College administrators will be presented to the Chairperson of the Hearing Committee within 10 days of the submission of the Request, who then will set a hearing for the earliest date agreeable to both parties.

   (B) Potential witness and legal counsel information & exchange of evidentiary documentation. The appealing employee (complainant) and the College are required to provide the following information to the Senior Director, Human Resources/Affirmative Action Officer within five (5) calendar days of the scheduled hearing:

      (i) The names and contact information of witnesses expected to testify, along with a brief statement of the expected testimony;

      (ii) The names and contact information of legal counsel expected to represent the party; and

      (iii) One (1) complete hardcopy of all evidentiary documents expected to be presented during the hearing.

Potential witness/legal counsel information and evidentiary documentation shall be exchanged with the other party within five (5) calendar days of the hearing. The exchange of the College’s evidentiary documents with the complainant is dependent upon the complainant’s submission of hardcopy evidentiary documents to the College. The exchange of potential witness/legal counsel information and evidentiary documentation is typically accomplished during the Preliminary Meeting which is held at least five (5) calendar days before the scheduled Appeal Hearing.

(C) Presentation before the Hearing Committee. During the presentation before the Hearing Committee, which will be open unless otherwise permitted by state law, the faculty member may exercise numerous rights. These include the right to be represented by counsel of his/her choice, to present witnesses on his/her behalf, to confront and cross-examine opposing witnesses, to know the name and to have access to any legal deposition of an opposing witness who cannot attend the hearing, to respond orally to charges made against him/her, to have findings and recommendations made on each of the charges, and to be given a copy of the minutes of the hearing, including the Committee's findings.

ROSE STATE COLLEGE

STATEMENT OF POLICY ON PROFICIENCY IN THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

Rose State College implements the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education Resolution No. 1703 as follows:

When recommending professors for Rose State College, the administration and faculty implement the following procedures to evaluate applicants in their use of English:

Full-Time Professor Procedure

A. During the initial application review, the appropriate Division Dean considers the applicant's college coursework in composition and speech and written statements on educational philosophy to begin an assessment of language strengths or weaknesses.

B. A committee, consisting of the Division Dean and his/her faculty members, interviews the applicant and, as an important component of the interview, evaluates the applicant's vocal delivery: voice quality, articulation, and pronunciation.

C. The Vice President for Academic Affairs interviews the three recommended applicants for any position and includes applicants' use of language as an essential criterion for recommendation to the President.

D. The College President, who interviews all applicants recommended by the Vice President for Academic Affairs, evaluates the applicant's vocal clarity and language correctness before preparing the recommendation for the Board of Regents.

Adjunct professor Procedure

A. Utilizing similar guidelines as those for full-time applicants, the Division Dean reviews the applicant's academic preparation in English classes and writing adeptness on composition parts of the application.

B. The Division Dean or Associate Dean interviews the applicants and considers language usage as an integral factor in the evaluation process.

C. The final recommendation interview is conducted by the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs who evaluates the applicant's language ability and discusses the applicant's recommendation with the Division Dean before submitting it to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

D. The Vice President for Academic Affairs and the College President review the application and then send their recommendations to the Board of Regents.

In summary, Rose State College diligently strives to provide students with professors who have competence in written and oral communication. A careful review of application statements and a series of interviews, with an emphasis on the applicant's language skills, enable this College to recommend professors who display a proficiency in English.

ROSE STATE COLLEGE

THE FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT POLICY

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, required each postsecondary educational institution to publish and make available to its students statements of policy which specify institutional intent in the following matters:

1. Inform students annually of their rights.
2. Permit students to inspect and review their education records.
3. Provide a list of types and location of education records and the addresses of the officials responsible for those records.
4. Inform students that no personally identifiable information from education records will be disclosed without their prior written consent except when prior written consent is not required by the FERPA.
5. Inform students what institutional officials and other specified individuals to whom certain information may be released without obtaining prior written consent.
6. Specify which items of information will be designated as public or Directory Information.
7. Maintain records of requests for disclosure of personally identifiable information and permit students to review those records.
8. Provide students an opportunity to seek amendment or correction of education records.

Rose State College has adopted the following policy and established certain procedures as contained in the statement below to ensure the student's rights to privacy will be preserved.

The following general policy statement will be published each year in the official student handbook. It will also appear in each new edition of the Rose State College Catalog "Policies and Procedures Manual". Copies of the policy statement will also be available in the Registrar/Director of Admissions office, AD 100.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, is a Federal law which states (a) that a written institutional policy must be established and (b) that a statement of adopted procedures covering the privacy rights of students be made available. The law provides that the institution will maintain the confidentiality of student education records.

Rose State College accords all the rights under the law to students who are declared independent. No one outside the institution shall have access to nor will the institution disclose any information from students' education records without the written consent of students except to personnel within the institution, to officials of other institutions in which students seek to enroll, or are currently enrolled, to persons or organizations providing students financial aid, to accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation function, to persons in compliance with a judicial order, to the provider or creator of the education records, to state and local educational... officials, and to persons in an emergency in order to protect the health or safety of students or other persons. All these exceptions are permitted under the Act.

Within the Rose State College community, only those members, individually or collectively, acting in the students' educational interest are allowed access to student education records. Additionally, all rights of parents under FERPA, including the right to inspect and review education records, to seek to have education records amended in certain circumstances, and to consent to the disclosure of education records, transfer to the student once the student has reached 18 years of age or attends a postsecondary institution and thereby becomes an “eligible student.” Even after a student has become an “eligible student” under FERPA, postsecondary institutions may allow parents to have access to their child’s education records, without the student’s consent, in the following circumstances: the student is a dependent for Federal income tax purposes (Parents of 17 years of age and under students will need to provide proof of dependency for Federal income tax purposes); the disclosure is in connection with a health or safety emergency under the conditions specified in the law (i.e. if knowledge of the information is necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or other individuals); and for postsecondary students, the student violated any Federal, State or local law, or any rule or policy of the institution governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance, if the institution determines that the student has committed a disciplinary violation regarding that use or possession and the student is under 21 at the time of disclosure.

At its discretion, the institution may provide Directory Information in accordance with the provisions of the Act to include but not limited to: student name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, electronic mail address, photograph, major field of study, dates of attendance, (attendance is defined as attendance in person or correspondence via video conference, satellite, internet, or other electronic information and telecommunications technologies), degrees, honors and awards received, the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the students, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and weight and height of members of athletic teams. Students may withhold Directory Information by notifying the Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records in writing within two weeks after the first day of class for the fall term. A printed form for this purpose is available in the Office of Admissions and Records.

Request for non-disclosure will be honored by the institution for only one academic year; therefore, authorization to withhold Directory Information must be filed annually in the Office of the Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records.

The law provides students with the right to inspect and review information contained in their education records, to challenge the contents of their education records, to have a hearing if the outcome of the challenge is unsatisfactory, and to submit explanatory statements for inclusion in their files if the decisions of the hearing panels are unacceptable. The Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records at Rose State College has been designated by the institution to coordinate the inspection and review procedures for student education records, which include admissions, personal, academic, and financial files, and academic cooperative education and placement records. Students wishing to review their education records must make written requests to the Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records listing the item or items of interest. Forms for this purpose are available in the Admissions Office. Only records covered by the Act will be made available no later than 10 working days of the request. Students who believe that their education records contain information that is inaccurate or misleading, or is otherwise in violation of their privacy or other rights may discuss their problems informally with the Registrar/Director of Admissions and Records. If the decisions are in agreement with the students' requests, the appropriate records may be amended. If not, a student may request a formal hearing, which must be made in writing to the chairperson of the Academic Grade Appeals Committee.

Decisions of the Academic Grade Appeals Committee will be based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing, and will consist of written statements summarizing the evidence and stating the reasons for the decisions, and will be delivered to all parties concerned. The education records will be corrected or amended in accordance with the decisions of the hearing panel, if the decisions are in favor of the students. If the decisions are unsatisfactory to the students, the students may place with the education records statements commenting on the information in the records, or statements setting forth any reasons for disagreeing with the decisions of the hearing panel.

Students who believe that the adjudications of their challenges were unfair or not in keeping with the provisions of the Act may file complaints with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office (FERPA), Department of Education, Room 4074, Switzer Building, Washington, D.C. 20202.

Revisions and clarifications will be published as experience with the law and institution's policy warrants.

Further information and request forms are available in the Office of Admissions and Records.
