The information reported on your FAFSA indicates your parents’ marital status does not appear to agree with your parents’ tax filing status. You must review your FAFSA and make corrections to your FAFSA if necessary. If you are unable to determine if you reported your parents’ marital status and/or tax filing status correctly, please contact the RSC Financial Aid Office for assistance.

Please note your response to your parents’ marital status on your FAFSA can be determined by these descriptions:

- Your parents’ marital status must be reported accurately as of the date the FAFSA was completed, signed and submitted.

- “Married” or “Remarried” does not mean living together unless your parents’ state of legal residence recognizes the relationship as a common law marriage.

- Consistent with the Supreme Court decision holding Section 3 of the Defense of Marriage Act (DOMA) unconstitutional, same-sex couples must report their marital status as married if they were legally married in a state or other jurisdiction (foreign country) that permits same-sex marriage, without regard to where the couple resides.

- For FAFSA purposes, a married couple is separated if the couple is considered legally separated by a state, or if the couple is legally married but has chosen to live separate lives, including living in separate households, as though they were not married.

- If the legal parents are separated but living together, select “married / remarried,” not “separated”.

- When two married persons live as a married couple but are separated by physical distance (or have separate households), they are considered married for FAFSA purposes.

- The response on the FAFSA to parent(s)’ marital status cannot be blank.

Please read and follow the instructions on the back of this form based on your parents’ marital status on the date your FAFSA was signed and submitted. If necessary, you must make a correction to your FAFSA to correctly report your parents’ marital status, tax filing status and/or income reported.

Please circle the appropriate response and return this form to the RSC Financial Aid Office.

I have made corrections to my FAFSA OR All income and marital status are reported correctly

Student Signature: ___________________________ Date: ______________________

If you are unable to determine if you reported your parents’ marital status and/or tax filing status correctly, you must follow the instructions on the back of this form and submit appropriate documentation to allow the RSC Financial Aid Office Staff assist you with corrections to your FAFSA if necessary.
My Parents’ Marital Status on the Date of FAFSA Submission was “Married/Remarried”

Date of your parents’ marriage/remarriage: ____________  Attach a copy of your parents’ marriage license

Please circle your parents’ federal filing status as reported on your parents’ federal tax return(s):

- Married Filing Joint
- Married Filing Separate
- Head of Household
- Single

Please note:
- Per IRS Pub 17, in general, a married person should only file “Married Filing Joint” or “Married Filing Separately”.
- You should report both your parents’ 2015 income on your FAFSA.
- If your parents married after taxes were filed, you must combine both your parents’ income information and report the combination of income. In this case, a federal tax filing of “Head of Household” or “Single” may be acceptable.
- If your parents each filed “Married Filing Separately, you must combine your parents’ tax return information.
- You should also report both your parents’ wages on your FAFSA.

My Parent’s Marital Status on the Date of FAFSA Submission was “Separated”

Date of parent’s legal separation: ________________  Attach a copy of your parent’s legal separation document

Please circle your parent’s federal filing status as reported on your parent’s federal tax return(s):

- Married Filing Joint
- Married Filing Separate
- Head of Household
- Single

Please note:
- If your parent is legally separated you should report only the income for the separated parent.
- If your separated parent filed “Married Filing Joint” you must extract that parent’s portion of the joint income and report only that parent’s income on the FAFSA.
- You should only report the wages for your separated parent on the FAFSA.

My Parent’s Marital Status on the Date of FAFSA Submission was “Divorced or Widowed”

Date of parents’ divorce: _______ Attach a copy of your parents’ divorce decree

Date your parent became a widow: ___________

Please circle your parent’s federal filing status as reported on your parent’s federal tax return:

- Married Filing Joint
- Married Filing Separate
- Head of Household
- Single

Please note:
- If your parents are divorced, you should report only one of your parent’s income on your FAFSA.
- If your parent is widowed, you should only report your surviving parent’s income on your FAFSA.
- If your parent filed a joint return you must extract your divorced parent’s portion of the joint income to report on your FAFSA.

My Parent’s Marital Status on the Date of FAFSA Submission was “Single”

Please circle your parent’s federal filing status as reported on your federal tax return:

- Married Filing Joint
- Married Filing Separate
- Head of Household
- Single

Please note:
- If your parent is single you should only report your single parent’s income on the FAFSA.
- Per IRS Pub 17, in general, a single person should use a federal tax filing status of “single” or “head of household”